WINNING RYDER CUP RESORT

"It's clear there's nothing like Welsh hospitality."

Jim Remy, President of the PGA of America

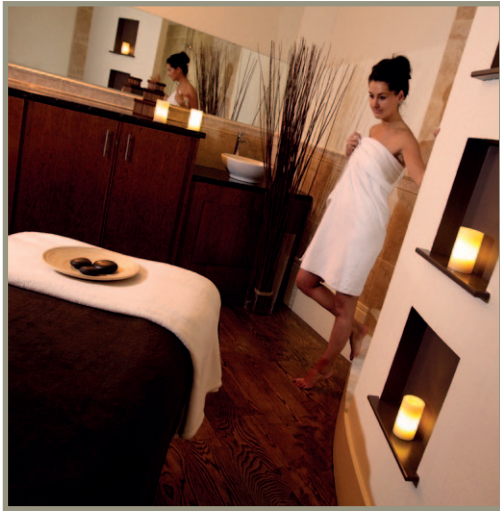

Home to what has been hailed 'the greatest ever' Ryder Cup, and voted Europe's Golf Resort of the Year 2011, The Celtic Manor Resort is a prestigious golf destination on a grand scale.

As host venue of The 2010 Ryder Cup, the golfing facilities at Celtic Manor are exceptional. As well as three championship golf courses, two luxurious clubhouses and a world-class Golf Academy, the Resort boasts a five-star Resort Hotel, 19th century Manor House, 200-year-old country inn, state-of-the-art convention centre, two health clubs and spas, and no fewer than six restaurants.

THE 2010 RYDER CUP

"This is the greatest Ryder Cup ever witnessed on either side of the Atlantic."

Phil Weaver, Chairman of the Professional Golfers Association

More than ten years in the making, The Ryder Cup proved worth the wait when it was played in Wales for the first time at The Celtic Manor Resort in 2010.

Europe regained the coveted gold trophy from the Americans in the most dramatic style as an extended four days of competition boiled down to the very last singles match in which Graeme McDowell beat Hunter Mahan on the 17th green.

The challenges of the weather – and the magnificent response of a 110-strong team of greenkeepers to overcome them – only added to the drama and Celtic Manor enjoyed its day in the sun on Monty's Magic Monday.

THE CELTIC MANOR WALES OPEN

"It's a wonderful venue and the golf course is magnificent."

2010 Celtic Manor Wales Open and US Open champion, Graeme McDowell

EXCLUSIVE HOSPITALITY

The annual Celtic Manor Wales Open is a leading event on The European Tour with a prize fund of £1.8 million.

Ryder Cup stars Graeme McDowell, Robert Karlsson, Miguel Angel Jiménez, Ian Poulter, Paul Lawrie and Paul McGinley have all triumphed during the history of The Celtic Manor Wales Open, while prominent competitors have also included the likes of Padraig Harrington, Retief Goosen, Paul Casey and Lee Westwood.

Hospitality at The Celtic Manor Wales Open offers guests a fantastic day out, watching top class sporting action with spectacular views from an elevated platform overlooking the 18th hole, while enjoying fabulous food, drink and entertainment.

THE TWENTY TEN

"I think it's a wonderful golf course. It's in terrific shape and the holes themselves have a lot of risk/reward, a lot of real big penalties if you miss-hit a shot and a lot of rewards if you pull off a shot."

Eight-time US Ryder Cup player Phil Mickelson

Built at a total cost of £20 million, The Twenty Ten Course is the first golf course in history to be designed specifically for The Ryder Cup, golf's most prestigious team tournament.

Also the stage for the annual Celtic Manor Wales Open, this course opened in 2007 and has since made its mark as a must-play venue for any golfer.

Set against the magnificent backdrop of the beautiful Usk Valley, the spectacular 7,493-yard, par-71 course includes many memorable risk and reward challenges, designed to provide a supreme test to the world's best golfers in both match play and stroke play conditions.

No fewer than six holes on the back nine feature water hazards and the 14th, with its twin lakes, the drivable par-four 15th and the reachable par-five 18th stand out in an epic closing stretch.

THE TWENTY TEN CLUBHOUSE

The Twenty Ten Course is complemented by a luxurious clubhouse, built to take full advantage of its elevated position overlooking the 18th green. A long balcony offers spectacular views over the dramatic finishing hole of the course.

Features within the clubhouse include a members' lounge with leather chesterfields and a warming open hearth, award-winning Rafter's Bar and Restaurant with its floor-to-ceiling cedar beams, the Samuel Ryder Suite, a spike bar, pro shop and the luxurious, oak-panelled locker rooms used by some of the greatest names in golf during The 2010 Ryder Cup.

THE ROMAN ROAD

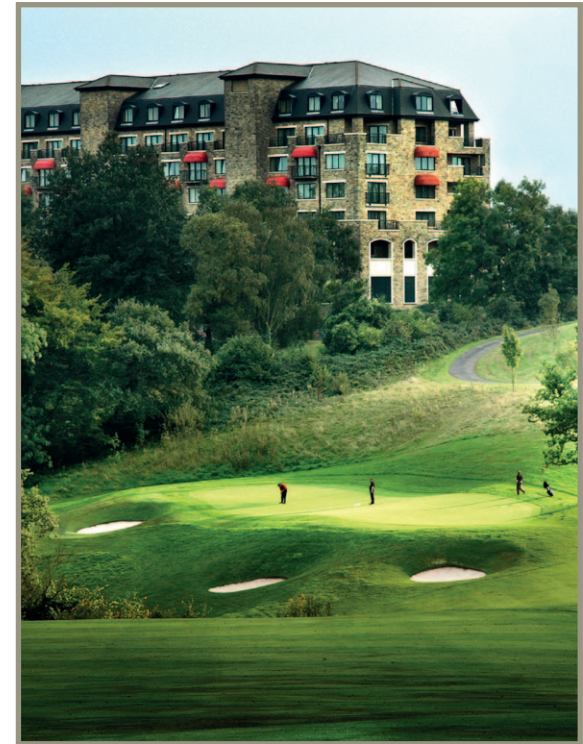

"The Roman Road has some lovely holes and panoramic views across the Severn Estuary to complete one of Britain's premier golf resorts."

Daily Telegraph

Designed by Robert Trent Jones Senior, the Roman Road championship course takes its name from the ancient East to West highway of Roman Britain crossing its fairways to the nearby Roman fortress town of Caerleon.

Bordered by woodland, this challenging par-70 course features some long open fairways but also a number of twists and turns through trees and across lakes and streams.

Roman Road hosted The Celtic Manor Wales Open, a leading event on the European Tour, from 2005 to 2007. It was also the venue for the All*Star Cup, a Ryder Cup style celebrity tournament, which featured the likes of Catherine Zeta-Jones, Michael Douglas, Rob Lowe, Jane Seymour and Alice Cooper.

THE MONTGOMERIE

"A bunker should be a half-shot penalty, so I've made the bunkers smaller and very much deeper than you will see on most new layouts. I believe you should have to plot your way around them like a game of chess."

Course designer and 2010 Ryder Cup Captain, Colin Montgomerie

Designed by the winning 2010 European Ryder Cup captain, Colin Montgomerie called on all his golfing experience to create many exciting tests of strategy. He has also drawn on his roots in Scottish links golf to create a traditional feel enhanced by deep and penal pot bunkers.

The Montgomerie offers a spectacular par-69 challenge with some dramatic tee shots over valleys and breathtaking downhill approaches.

Featuring just one water hazard, The Montgomerie nevertheless poses a formidable examination of course strategy for accomplished players while remaining a highly enjoyable challenge for all.

Complemented by some stunning views over the Usk Valley and the Severn Estuary, the undulating course provides a truly memorable golfing experience.

THE LODGE

The Resort's largest clubhouse, serving both Roman Road and The Montgomerie courses, is a relaxed retreat just a couple of fairways from the Resort Hotel.

With its luxurious locker rooms, lounge bar, brasserie restaurant, golf pro shop, award-winning health club and Ocius Treatment Rooms which offer the finest Elemis therapies, it is a popular venue for all kinds of corporate and private events.

It also features six private function suites including the Augusta and the Chairman's Marquee overlooking the 18th hole of the Roman Road course.

THE GOLF ACADEMY

The Celtic Manor Golf Academy is one of the best facilities of its kind in Europe and was appointed the Wales National Centre of Excellence in 2009, when a new short game practice area was opened by golfing legend Arnold Palmer.

Built with the help of a Ryder Cup Wales Legacy Fund grant, the short game facilities include three all-weather greens and tees at varying elevations and distances.

They combine with a 28-bay, two-tier covered driving range, an indoor putting studio and outdoor short game area as well as TaylorMade and Titleist Performance Centres offering extensive custom fit and game improvement advice.

A team of PGA professionals provide help and guidance to improve your game, whether that be showing you how to pick up a club for the first time, full analysis of your swing using V1 Pro technology, or a few helpful tips to solve that niggling problem, with one-to-one lessons and group tuition available.
