

Helpful tips to demonstrate the visual and tactile effects of full color raised thermography

The gradients and color builds below demonstrate how thermography coverage will decrease as gradient percentage and density of color is reduced. Light skin tones, light colors, and low screen percentages will affect the raised appearance as shown below. For superior quality raised print, we recommend color builds with a combined CMYK value of 100 or more.

