INT. COMMAND CENTER - DAY

Hustle and bustle are thick in the air. dozens of screens wallpaper the wall. Dozens of people are sitting around commanding into headsets. One in particular is having trouble commanding.

OPERATOR

Come in, Good Ship Lollipop.

Silence. The operator looks concerned

OPERATOR (CONT'D)

Good ship lollipop, over?

More silence. The operator removes his glasses in a dramatic fashion and hangs his head

INT. GOOD SHIP LOLLIPOP - SPACE DAY

In a corridor of a high tech white space craft lasers interrupt the space-silence. Two crew members of the ship run away from something further down the hallway, firing back as they go. they dash behind into a room of sorts

CREW GUY 1

Egads! Pirates. Better go hide my booty.

CREW GUY 2 nods and points to a ventilation shaft. They climb in just as the space-pirates break down the door. they peer out as the pirates search the room and leave

CREW GUY 1 (CONT'D)

Hay, you remember those babes we picked up at the BNL concert?

Crew guy 2 nods

CREW GUY 1 (CONT'D)

What would you say if I told you I slept with one?

Crew guy 2 shrugs and looks apathetic about the revelation

CREW GUY 1 (CONT'D)

Well now my crotch feels like sizzlenuts. Do we have any ointment?

Crew guy 2 shakes his head. Suddenly an alarm blares and a voice calls out

VOICE

You can be my Yoko Ono!

Obviously a coded message only the crew can understand

CREW GUY 1

Yikes! Pirates!

CREW GUY 2

Sorry, that was me.

Crew guy 2 points to his portable code speaker. The two crawl through the shaft and end up in the main part of the ship, where all the serious space-business is done. The door is blocked off and the few remaining crew members in the room are visibly shaken. The captain comes over to the crew members

CAPTAIN

Take cover, kid. We have a level 4 pirate infestation.

CREW GUY 1

Wait, can you get me some cranberry juice?

CAPTAIN

I'll get you some, but you'll have to put it on by yourself.

He points to a coffee maker.

FADE TO:

INT. GOOD SHIP LOLLIPOP

The captain is steering the ship looking despondant.

CAPTAIN

I seem to have taken a wrong turn

CREW GUY 1

So... no juice?

CAPTAIN

No.

The pirates begin to seriously do some damage on the barricaded door.
