At the Tutu Foundation UK, our vision is a world in which the lives of individuals and communities in, or at risk of, conflict are transformed through ubuntu. Ubuntu teaches us to look beyond ourselves and to become more fully human.

Ubuntu is a traditional African philosophy which emphasis our common humanity; our connectedness and interdependence as human beings.

“I am, because you are” says Archbishop Tutu; “ how I behave impacts not only on me but also others around me because we all belong together.” So a person with ubuntu is generous, thoughtful and respectful towards others, appreciating the differences that together make us greater than the sum of our parts.

At the Tutu Foundation UK, we

- Promote community inclusion and social cohesion through our flagship Conversations for Change programme.
- Support emergent local leaders, including young people in the community, by promoting capacity building, social responsibility and accountability.
- Deliver training and personal development based on the Tutu Foundation’s work, particularly amongst young people and within seldom heard communities.
- Strengthen local community groups, through an ubuntu based leadership, coaching and facilitation skills personal development programme.
- Encourage the effective spread of Ubuntu facilitation & mediation practice amongst our partners, in education, health and social care, the wider public sector, professional bodies and the private sector.
- Nurture culturally competent restorative justice practice, to meet the needs of people within communities in conflict.

If you think you’d like to give some time to help us bring ubuntu and the work & ideas of Archbishop Emeritus Desmond Tutu and Mrs Leah Tutu to the UK, then we would love to hear from you. For a list of locations we are working in across the country, visit our website at:
