

Submission System Guide

- You may discuss the problem with your friends BUT you are expected to write the code and complete the assignments on your own.
- Plagiarism is unethical and would be harshly penalized.

Thank you,
Data Structure Submission System.

2. Click “Create Account” in the left-side menu to create your own account
The deadline for creating accounts is Feb 21. Penalty applies for late registration.
  - (a) Select C++ Free as an account package
  - (b) Username SHOULD be your first-name followed by your section number followed by a two-digit section number, e.g. Username=ahmed108 for first name ahmed, section #1 and B#8
Make sure that you enter the correct section and bench numbers. The grading process is automated and depends on these numbers. If you entered wrong numbers, you will lose your entire marks.
  - (c) Provide the remaining data as instructed.
3. Once you complete step 2, you will receive an email indicating that your account has been created pending an approval.
If you did not receive your email in 30mins, check your spam folder.
4. Once we activate your account, you will receive another email indicating its activation and including your password.
