

fedco chief executive officer leo

This decision is part of the social and corporate responsibility that Fedco has of assisting the essential job that is being done at the Zoo in Barranquilla, the just one the Caribbean region can trust to safeguard nature.

"The charm of nature and of this certain specie is truly distinct," stated Leo Eisenband "We must do everything we can to assist preserve it to make sure that our future generations can likewise value it and matter with its entire environment."

From all the corners of this zoo, the expertise and sustain of our fauna is being promoted to get to the young city population unconcerned to it. The encounter they receive from checking out all the species found in the zoo, enables them to be in contact with attributes and to know their obligation to look after these pets.

"It is an opportunity to Fedco to be able to assist the preservation of the Caribbean area," stated Eisenband. "We motivate other business to join us in experiencing these environmental tasks that are necessary to keep varieties at risk of extinction such as the case of the sight bear. It is very crucial due to the fact that this is the only bear specie populating in South The united state of america."

Fedco is a fragrance and womanly beauty product line that for over 30 years has actually advertised progression in Colombia creating work, being a financial stimulation and accomplishing social and ecological goals as part of its business and social obligation. Fedco is run by Leo Eisenband, a brand guy who believes that personal companies have the responsibility to provide well-being and good quality life for the people. Leo Eisenband Gottlieb