

fedco chief executive officer leo

This decision belongs to the social and corporate responsibility that Fedco has of sustaining the essential work that is being done at the Zoo in Barranquilla, the a single the Caribbean region can count on to strengthen nature.

"The beauty of nature and of this particular specie is absolutely special," pointed out Leo Eisenband "We should do everything we can to aid keep it to make sure that our future generations can also cherish it and matter with its whole habitat."

From all the corners of this zoo, the knowledge and nurture of our fauna is being promoted to reach the youthful metropolitan population unconcerned to it. The experience they receive from going to all the types found in the zoo, allows them to be in contact with nature and to know their responsibility to take care of these pets.

"It is an advantage to Fedco to be able to sustain the preservation of the Caribbean region," stated Eisenband. "We motivate various other brands to join us in suffering these ecological jobs that are necessary to preserve varieties at risk of termination such as the instance of the spectacle bear. It is incredibly important due to the fact that this is the only bear specie inhabiting in South The united state."

Fedco is a fragrance and womanly beauty product line that for over 30 years has actually promoted development in Colombia creating work, being a financial stimulation and accomplishing ecological and social goals as part of its corporate and social duty. Fedco is run by Leo Eisenband, a business guy who believes that exclusive brands have the obligation to supply well-being and high quality life for individuals. Leo Eisenband Gottlieb