

smash and grab

Because of the high occurrences of smash and grab in South Africa people are left traumatized and scared by these incidents. Statistics show that in cases of burglary involving forced entry, more than 80% of thieves reportedly gain entry into a vehicle through the windows.