Ied al Adha is the second of two religious holidays celebrated by Muslims worldwide each year. Transafe Indonesia as a leading Safety Training provider in Indonesia also celebrates by sending it's qurban to those whor eally needs.

JAKARTA SELATAN, Indonesia -- Jakarta, Oct 3rd 2014

At Ied al adha most Muslims in Indonesia submit Qurban (sacrifice) to foundations and mosques to be given to needed people around them. Transafe Indonesia (www.TransafeIndonesia.com), a leading Health Safety Environment and Quality (HSEQ) training and consulting services in Indonesia also submit a cow as a qurban today.

Rizki Novanti, represents Transafe Indonesia on the qurban delivery and submission. Transafe Indonesia submits a healthy and quaified cow to a local qurban committee at Karang Pawitan village, Garut, West Java. The cow weighs around 264-330 lbs (120-150kgs) and expected to help the poor and needed people around the area.

The qurban procedure itself will be done after ied al adha mass on October 5th 2014. Eventhough all the sacrifice butchering was handed to qurban butcher, Rizki Novanti hopes that the submitted qurban will be cut and share to the very need people.

Rizki Novanti said: "This year we submit to rural area. We really hope submitting qurban directly to village will help the really needed people around".

As per data from Central statistic bureau of Indonesia (Badan Pusat statistik), poor people in Indonesia counted to 28,28 million people with 17,17 million poors live in village and rural areas.

Transafe Indonesia also said happy ied al adha to all PT. Transafe Dharma Persada management and employees on all our branches, clients, vendors and subcontractors who celebrate this holiday.

With the completion of the qurban submission, Transafe Indonesia hope that next year it can submit more qurbans to aid wider part of society.
