

Properties for Sale in Los Angeles

Didn't you hear of Hancock Park homes for sale? Then you have not been listening enough. Hancock Park is a hidden jewel of Los Angeles and shelters some million dollar properties in its heart. Plush neighbourhoods that boost the location's strategic positioning are Windsor Boulevard, Hollywood, Wilton Place, Melrose Avenue, Miracle Mile, Bel Air, Los Angeles and Olympic Boulevard. Getting its name from the famous rich family of this area, the Hancock family, the location boasts of properties that are designed by renowned architects like Paul Williams, John Austin and A. C. Chisholm. The families that made up to the list of initial residents are among the 'Whos Who' of California.

Unlike many homes in Los Angeles, Hancock Park homes for sale are set back from the street where fences are discouraged. While Hancock Park is in a process of being designated as Historic Preservation Overlay Zone from Los Angeles, the houses here typically portray classic Los Angeles architecture. Counting self among the richest communities in the world, Hancock Park hosts some properties that are above $3,000,000. Being close to renowned schools, recreational centres and world class shopping destinations, Hancock Park makes the best fit for the billionaires.

Another desirable property that are located in vicinity to Hancock Park are the Windsor Square Real estate. When it comes to aesthetic property, neighbourhood and surrounding, Windsor Square taps the market. The area is a well planned area and contends to be the best serving place in all aspects. Windsor Square Real Estate are close to the famed tourist destination of US, Phoenix and shelters world class restaurants, hotels, shopping malls and museums. Flanked by Prescott National Park and the Superstition Mountains, the residents of Windsor Square avail enthralling and entertaining weekend getaways. Powered by metro light rail systems, travelling from any destination from Windsor is just like a breeze.

Windsor Square is either very famous for its world class shopping destinations. Biltmore Fashion Park alongside Escada, Ralph Loren, Stuart Whietzman, Cole Hann, Cartier and Capital Grill are its renowned fashion destinations. The district even shelters a sprawling golf course and verdant parks.

Whether you are selling or buying homes in Hancock Park and Windsor Square, The Beinstock Group is always at your service. Be it a luxury home, single family home, custom home or town home, you can rely assured on us for a complete stress free experience. Call us on any time you need assistance on deals in these locations. Our experts will not only advice you invaluable but will assist you till the closing.