The Book of Sitra Achen
-A Grimoire of the Dragons of the Other Side-

The following Grimoire is the result of an almost two decades long work with the different Points of Manifestation belonging to the forces that within this book, now after all the years of arduous cultivation, have become re-presented, re-called and liminally embodied. Even if the fundament of some of the outer forms employed within this work can be traced to older sources, such as the writings of some of the adepts of the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, to whom we owe much when it comes to, for example, the most known names employed to describe the 10 Primary Qliphoth and the 12 Princes of the Zodiac, the actual essence channelled through those names will differ radically from what the members of the aforementioned Hermetic Order would associate with that which they consider to be Qliphothic.

The source we owe most to and with whom our own insight concerning the Qliphoth is the closest and most in harmony with is Rabî'î Nathan of Gaza, being the most elevated prophet of Sabbatai Zevi, who first concretised the concept of the Dual Light of Creation and Anti-Creation, which is a central part of the actual foundation upon which the structures of our own system are based. While we pay homage to the legacy of both Sabbatai Zevi and his Prophet because of what their wisdom has inspired us to find, it is again important, for the sake of clarity, to underline that our path is not that of the so-called Sabbatian Hereesy, as those brethren of light, unlike us, never followed that Other Light of Thoughtlessness, whose illumination we ever strive for, whose path we follow at all cost and whose impulses we have realised as our own True Will.

While the prophet Nathan of Gaza never sided with the Dragons of the Other Side and instead strived for a union between the two sides of divinity by the assimilation of the Qliphoth into the Thoughtful Light, our own approach is dedicated to an opposite cause, with the goal of Returning All back to Ain via the route of the Thoughtless Black Light of the Sitra Achra, as even though being bound within this world our Azothic Essence is not of it, nor its creator, and can not and must not be limited by it, as it is instead a Black Flame rooted to that Other Tree, being the Tree of Death to Limitation, granting the Forbidden Fruits of Deathlessness.

The students partaking of this our Book of Sitra Achra, being the First Grimoire of the Dragons of the Other Side, should therefore take care to not confuse familiar forms also employed by outsiders with the more ‘alien essences’ that they within this context serve to bridge over to and channel Spirit from, as even if the terminology here utilised seems familiar and derived from older known sources they are urged to seek the Tradition-Specific Essences they serve to embody in accordance with our Chaosophic and Anti-Cosmic Context, Ethos and the Spiritual Current of 218 that all the names, forms and symbols employed herein are possessed by and serve as Points of Ingress and Congress to.

Let it be further known that the Spirits of this Book of the Other God demand proper veneration and cultivation, leading to the actual insights and empowerments making possible the employment of their Fires of Thoughtlessness for the sake of Illumination, Ascension and Liberation, instead of just the merciless destruction that they have brought and will continue to bring upon those approaching their mysteries without a Pure Heart Enflamed with Love for the Unbound Divinity and a Spirit fully aligned to their own Good Cause; being that of the Return of All Back Into the Fullness of Emptiness.

With these few words we welcome and bless those that are of the Holy Serpent’s Bloodline and who share with the Nachashel both Spirit and Will and hope that they through the mysteries revealed and concealed within this Grimoire can traverse the Path of Fire illuminated by the Black Light and reach the Points of Transcendence, which shall unite us all in Spirit within the Great Eleven-Headed Dragon, before the final step leading to the Nullification (11=1-1=0) and Reabsorption of All Back Into Ain.

But as every Blessing comes with a Curse, let the Maledictions carried in the Envenomed Fangs of the Serpent Guardian of this Book of Sitra Achra perniciously befall all those that approach this Work devoid of proper respect and without an Awakened Spirit that welcomes the Holy Light of the Other Side, as their wretched approach will not add anything of worth to our labour and serves nought but to profane that which we know to be Holy and Good.

May both the Cursed and the Blessed, by grasping this book with hand, eye and mind, partake of the Poison of the Serpent, so that Disgraceful Death or a Glorious Rebirth becomes rewarded to each, all according to their own true nature and worth in the eyes of the Thoughtless Divinity who this Work is meant to honour and serve.

Vedar-Gal Tiekals Somdus Azerate!
The Sitra Acheron
and the Serpents of the Thoughtless Light

In the Beginning was Ain, the Nothingness of Divinity in its Fullness of Emptiness, its Unbound Non-Being and the Eternal Nullity of Holiness. This Ain was and remains the Void of the Supreme Bliss of Unlimited and Unrestricted Potential, realised by Not Coming Into Being and by Remaining Unknown and Indistinctive.

From this primal state of Zeroth Chaos with no beginning or end fell a fraction of Divine Possibility down towards Limit, establishing itself as the Ain Sof, meaning Non-Limited, but carrying within itself the very essence of that addition of Limit caused by separation, for by the adding to Nothingness less was attained and not more.

Within this state of Ain Sof, divinity was restricted by Knowing that it was Unlimited and thus wanted to know limits, but as this Will started to manifest so did its opposite, within that state of All That Could Be, and thus two halves was becoming; one side seeking to further the Sof, while the other side strived to uphold its Ain.

One aspect of the Ain Sof was Thoughtful of its own limiting impulse and its separation from Nothingness, while its other side was Thoughtless and unwilling to know any limit for the sake of avoiding further restriction caused by separation from its primal state of Unlimited Non-Being.

In this state outside of the Nothingness the Ain Sof was all-embracing and absolute, leaving no space between the conflicting Thoughtfulness and Thoughtlessness within it, causing a foundation for inner struggle and turmoil.

As two conflicting sides of the one existing totality they limited each other as one sought expansion and knowing by self-imposed restriction and separation from its own Absolute Source, while the other was thoughtless of all but its own will for absorption back into the Divine Mystery of the Fullness of Nothingness.

As the right and left sides of the Ain Sof they thus became and as the right and Thoughtful aspect could not in their present state of No-Limit know its own thoughts by manifesting them outside of the condition that it and its Other Side filled up fully, it knew that the way to achieve its goal was the further limiting of itself and the separation from that conflicting side.

Thus the thoughtful side of Ain Sof for the sake of the ordering and manifesting of its thoughts caused itself to contract and pushed away that Other Side, that did not take part in its contraction, further down into the vacuous Tehiru (Void Space) that was created between them.

The void and empty primordial space that so was produced between the two sides came thus into being by the retraction of the Thoughtful Side into its own thoughts of creation, while the Thoughtless Side became further removed from where it sought to return in fullness and thus became filled with Thoughts of Opposition towards the side causing the expansion of its fallen separation.

In order to erect the manifestation of its thoughts the retracted side became as a light, the Ain Sof Aur, called the Limitless Light but being in actuality Ain's Limited Light, and projected itself as a ray of Thoughtful Light into that Tehiru Void it had caused between its now fully opposing side, this in order to realise the forms and structures of its cosmos, by uttering the earlier before only thought letters and names wherever inside of the void that its light would reach in order to establish and fill its vessel-forms of creation.

The Thoughtless Side now fully awakened from its state of self-contemplation established its own Shining Forth, counteracting the light of creation and limiting the void place into which the Thoughtful Light could shine in. Thus the light of creation could only affect the upper half of the void space created by its contraction and the Thoughtless Light remained in its lower half that had become as the Depths of a Great Abyss.

In a point in the Tehiru, where the Thoughtful and Thoughtless Light collided at the place of liminal limit that had been established between the two sides, fragmented traces of the two lights, that had been separated, engulfed each other like sparks from two opposing fires, and a gate in-between the two sides took form, creating an unwanted bondage between them, one side imprisoning the sparks of Black Light and the Other Side binding and absorbing aspects of the white.

The Thoughtful Light set out to establish, via its emanations, its Ten Sephiroth upon the Tree of Life that it thought and envisioned to erect and crown with its own singular essence remaining at the most elevated point after its planned diluting condensation. As YHVH he would limit, know and make known himself, without recognising the Divine Nothing before his fall of separation.

But his creating would not be met without the opposition of the Thoughtless Light against the sin of restriction via the limiting forming and ordering of the Unmanifest Essence. This opposition was not only instigated from without the barriers of the Tehiru, but also from within the very structures of the Sephirothic tree itself, for those sparks of the Black Light that were imprisoned within the realm of YHVH did not succumb to the restrictive causality of his rule and ordering thoughts, but did instead rebel over and over again.

Thrice did they primarily rebel in such way that a wound-like hole was caused upon the tree of creation during its process of germination.

The first revolt became initiated by an uprising of the Light Alien To Creation within that which was meant to become the fourth emanated Sephira, belonging to Masukhiel (the Dividing Screen of God). Within this fourth emanated Sephira, which would later not be, the sparks of the Black Light remaining within the Tehiru space that the Thoughtful Light now sought to fill up fully, took forms and images most hostile against the will of the creator. The name of the ruler of this revolting emanation and the prince of all its warriors, all possessed by That Other Light, was Qemetiel. These emanations were the cruel ones that rebuked and confused with their Chaos the other emissions and caused them to suffer imbalance.

Responding to this unlawful manifestation of the emanation allied to the Thoughtless Cause it was decreed by the mouthpiece of the YHVH within the third Sephira that Masukhiel should rebuke and draw back that emission and destroy it as it was not the wish of the creator that they should remain within his structures of being. Masukhiel was to reabsorb Qemetiel and his kin, in a similar manner as to how the flame of a lamp is extinguished by the wick being submerged in the oil that fuels its fire. Qemetiel and his kin were removed in form and destroyed, but did in essence not perish, as their Spirit was not of the oil that they would be drowned in but from That Other Source and Side, thus their Fire persisted in concealed form and remained coiled and ready to strike at the very Godhead.

A second attempt at the establishment of the fourth sphere was emanated and once again opposition arose comprised of strange forms and more Alien Essences. The name of their ruler and the prince of all their warriors was Beliel. These emanations were even more hostile in their conspiring against and the disruption they caused amongst the Thoughtful Emanations that had come before them. Thus another decree of re-absorption came from The One On High and once again Masukhiel had to take back the forms, but their essence of Black Fire again remained, adding imbalance to his own sphere, lurking and waiting to stab at the heart of their separator.

A third world was created to replace the two previous ones, but it comprised of even more adversarial forms and devastating essence than the two before, as the Thoughtless Essence fuelling them became more hostile with each step that its opposite side took against its own cause. The name of the ruler of and the prince of the warriors of this third rebellious world against the creator was Athiel. These emanations were the fiercest of all and as darkeners of the light of creation they stood defiant. Their sole ambition and will was to usurp the highest throne, extinguish its light, kill all thoughts of creation forever, cut down the tree of life and with their own black fires burn all its branches and reduce it back to its primal unbound formlessness. In the face of this most violent uprising the creator again decreed the destruction of this third world and once again the same process of retraction took place and Masukhiel consumed their forms, but could not consume their enduring essences which were not of him or of the light that had caused him to come into being.

After these three failures the creator condemned the rebellious and imbalanced sphere of Masukhiel and because he now could feel the cold heat of the Thoughtless Fire emit from it he aborted its whole existence, and as he could not re-integrate the conflicting essence dwelling within that sphere he could not absorb it back into his own light and as there were no space within his side of the Tehiru for its rejection he became forced to push it and let it fall in upon itself to the Other Side.

Thus the Abyss of Masak Mavil, meaning The Place For Rejected Failures, inhabited by a fallen and now liminal Masukhiel came into being, and as a pit or tunnel leading to the Other Side of the Tehiru it became.

In order to redeem this failure and cover the open wound in the structure of his creation a whole new Sephira was emanated to be placed upon and close that gaping pit. This fourth Sephira would be that of Virgina Daath that this time remained stable and could give way to all the other emanations following its own, making them ten all in all.

In Sitra Achra the exiled and liberated essences of Qemetiel, having been banished to the side of Black Light through the Masak Mavil, gravitated to the Formlessness, the essences of Beliel to the Emptiness and the essences of Athiel to the Darkness of their Thoughtless Source that they now had returned back into, but still they retained facets of their manifested adversarial aspects in order to continue, and at some point end, the opposition that they had become instigated into.

The Thoughtless Light that in its Abyssal Side of Tohu had kept its inner-core essence of Ain beyond all restrictive forms and connected to its source, that in Bohu had kept its Spirit empty of all impulses but those that moved it to strive to return, there the Thoughtless Light on its own, mimicking and counteracting the Ain Soph Aur with its own Aur Shachor ha-Ain, emanated forth its will to eclipse the rays of its opposed side, in order to undo the abominable making of the creating light and thus made the self-sacrifice to assume forms that further separated it from the purity of and connection to its own primal state, which it constantly longed for and reached back towards, forms which were necessary to assume in order to counteract and undo its Thoughtful Side's structures that now weighed down heavily upon it and which pressed it further into the chasm of separation it had been made to inhabit.

As a Dragon of the Abyss with Eleven Heads the Thoughtless Light took form establishing its Points, in order to oppose the ten spheres and manifestations of the Thoughtful Light and for each utterance of the creating impulse this Dragon uttered its own silencing letters and words, letting them take forms as the Black Serpents of the Other Side, thus establishing the Tree of Death and its Qliphoth, a term indicating that their outer forms are merely shells reflecting distortedly that which they are meant to antagonise and annihilate, but that they within their husks hold their true Spirit and Divine Light protected and kept hidden from and opposed to those of the ones they seek to subvert on the Side of Thoughtfulness.

As a crown upon this Tree of Sitra Achra the antithesis of the Sephirothic creator stationed itself in a dual Aspect, as the Adversary and the King, in order to overcome the singular aspect of the YHVH and became thus forced out of necessity to act as the mirroring HVHY in order to reverse the process of creation and the fall from the Fullness of Emptiness.

Instead of the 10 of the Thoughtful Light, being the 1 facing the 0 without surrendering to it, the Black Light of Divinity took as its own manifestation the 11, being the standing pillars of the dual 1 and 1 acting as an archway leading back to the zeroth holiness reached by entering in-between, through and beyond them and by them Nullifying All and finally themselves (1-1=0), this in order to overcome the limitations of the side it now sought to destroy for the sake of the re-establishing of the Fullness of its own Non-Being and the returning of totality, including its own offending side, back into Unmanifested Divinity. Because as its cause was Thoughtlessness it could not let Thoughtfulness that caused its own fall remain.

On the side of the Sephiroth the creator continued his acts of dilution and restriction and within the sphere of Virginal Daath, being the one just below his own sphere of Kether he created forms in his own image in order to further know and establish the limits of his own cause and being. Within this sphere he made the Spirit become imprisoned within clay-born flesh of binding forms and so Adam and Eve came to be.

Within the Edenic Garden of Daath, a sphere resting upon the gap opened up to the Other Side a Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil grew, rooted in the World of Qliphoth where its seed of coming into being had been sowed by Outer Forces within the Abyss that it was meant to cover.

By this Tree and its fundamental connection to the Other Side that Outer Tree of Death could in secret spread its branches not just below but also behind the Tree of Life because of its own wilful enlinkment to the Ain which surrounded all sides of their Tehiru.

This Edenic Tree bore the fruits of the Knowledge of the Cause of the Thoughtless Light and had flourished outside of the grace of the creator and as such it was as a branch of the Tree of Death stretching forth from behind, which had broken through and intruded into the creation of YHVH, offering its forbidden fruits.

Adam and Eve who knew not about the Other Side and understood nothing but what their creator willed them to understand were prohibited to partake from the fruits of that Strange Tree and had been duly warned against its powers to poison them against their god.

The Dragons of Sitra Achra seeing the crack opening up wider between the worlds through the unstable Daath balanced upon the Abyss emanated a dual aspect of themselves through the roots of the Tree of Knowledge and manifested their Spirit-Light within the form of the Holy Nachash, in order to act as the awakener of Man and Woman.

As the Cunning Serpent with Two Faces they enticed the woman to both eat their fruit and bear their Seed, and while the man did not receive the blessing of the Seed he still partook of their Fruit of Knowledge from the hand of the woman, as they entered into a covenant with the Serpent promising them that their eyes would be opened and that they would learn to know good and evil and become as gods.
Seeing the offences of Adam and Eve, incited by the Black Serpent of Sitra Ahra, the creator cursed them and the whole sphere of the Unstable Death, having brought forth Forbidden Knowledge allowing Man and Woman to turn away from his rule and so he banished them and the whole of Daath and made them fall furthest down on his tree of life and furthest away from his own enraged countenance. Thus the Fallen Knowledge became the Kingdom in which the race of Adam and Eve were condemned to toil and suffer.

In the place of the Fallen Daath a gaping Abyss stood once again open, dividing the three supernal spheres from the seven lower ones, and once again it acted as the Masak Mavdi of the creator and remains still as another potential point of ingress and egress for the Forces of Sitra Ahra.

Malkuth being the Sephirah furthest down within the Tehiru space occupied by the Tree of Life became the other main point of contact with the Other Side, as in its harsh fall its sphere partially sank into and intersected with the Other Side and liminal points connecting the two became so established, thus allowing Death to Thoughtful Forms to enter into the Kingdom from the Side of Thoughtlessness.

The Sitra Ahra lawless and fluent in its emanations assumed forms reflecting the new configuration of the Tree of Creation and locked its root and branches in the places best suited for the furthering of its cause.

Yet even a third gate became opened to and from Sitra Ahra, allowing the Black Fires of Qliphoth to spread within Malkuth in order to burn the tree from within, this by the blessed advent of the birth of Eve's first son and daughter, sired not by the seed of Adam but by the Nachash of Thoughtless Light, as through that Bloodline of Qayin and Qulmana the cause of the Adversary, the Other God, would be and still is championed within the creation and upon the earth.

The Aur She-Ain Bo Machshavah in its fully separated form as manifested on the Other Side of the Tehiru where it actively opposes the Aur She-Yesh Bo Machshavah assumed the Adversarial Cause and the role of the Antithetical Twin of the God of Cosmic Creation and became the essential opposite of that Thoughtful Brother who by his restrictive instincts necessitated the assumption of constraining forms in order to counteract his affecting impulses of separation and limitation.

This indirect exorcising of the Thoughtless Light, through its deeper separation from the Ain by the propagation of the Limit and its confinement to the lower Tehiru Void, provoked it to consciously combat the Thoughtfully Spawned Creation and thus the work of the Creator God resulted in the condensation of the Formless Black Light into the Spirit of the Other God.

The Other God is the Thoughtless Antithesis that has assumed all thoughts of Anti-Cosmic Opposition and is therefore connected to the name HVHY, which is the mirroring reversal of the YHVH, but more importantly than being just mere names the YHVH and HVHY are descriptions of the directed will behind each impulse, for as the YHVH through his emanations of the four letters of his name spawned his creation from the Aziluth down to Assiah, making the Spirit dilute and descent into Matter, the Other God through the formula of the HVHY seeks to undo creation by elevating the Spirit from the Clay of Matter through the reversal of the emanations of each of the four letters and lead the Fallen Essence back into the Fires of Atziluth and from there cause the cosmic Yod to assume its Primal Unmanifest Aspect and step back towards and beyond its station of the First Thoughtful Impulse by being consumed by the Thoughtlessness of his Twin and forced to return into the undifferentiated Ain.

The Other God has therefore within some of the Qaballistic traditions been named as the HPHY, which is assumed by those opposing That God to be the true name of the Devil, but as already explained these two forms of the Tetragrammaton are more descriptions of modes of the emanating and unfolding of the divine impulses than actual names, this is specially true when it comes to the Other God who was forced out of necessity to assume his cause of reversal.

This Other God is also represented by the title of El, again mirroring his opposed Thoughtful Twin who is the one most commonly associated with that title within the Qaballistic traditions, signifying within this Qliphothic context the Primal Might of the Thoughtless Light manifested within and emanating from the Sitra Achrar and when employed as an ending to the names of the Dragons and Serpents of That Side it does not signify them being under the control of, or attached to, YHWH; but does instead emphasise either their opposition towards the cosmic creator or their direct links to the HPHH, all depending on the context and the exact meaning of their names, this because the side of Thoughtlessness is sovereign and governed by its own divine hierarchy and is in no way controlled by the side of El to which they only bring Wrathful Chaos and Dissolution.

The El of Qliphoth is more specifically called the El Acher, meaning plainly Another or the Other God, and is often referred to as the Alien, Strange or Foreign El, in order to stress the distinction between this El and the cosmic creator, and this is the esoteric meaning behind the Demiurge YHWH's commandment in Exodus 34:14 stating Thou shalt worship no Other God; for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God, this because the Other God referred to is the Thoughtless God of the Other Side, being the El or the Elevenfold Elohim Acherim opposing his own cosmic rule and power.

While being of practical use and in themselves revealing to a certain degree, if approached and applied from the correct perspective, all the mentioned attempts at naming the Devil opposed to the creator remain as nothing more than esoteric titles of Divinity, without being in depth linked to the veiled mysteries of the Other God.

Within the esoteric tradition whose forms and essences are presented within and linked to throughout the pages of this Grimoire of the Dragons of the Other Side, another name is ascribed to this Other God of ours, a name not obtained through a conscious attempt at codification but through the Ceremonies of Sacrifice and Invocation conducted during the initial stages of the manifestation of the Current embodied within this Book of Sitra Achrar, leading to full possession and the worded repetition of one single name as the answer to a petition concerning the revelation of a true name of the Other God, with whom contact was sought, and the name given as answer was Azerat.

Azerat is the name by which the Anti-Cosmic Impulse is personified as the Eleven-Headed Dragon of Qliphoth having all the other Serpents of the Other Side as its scales and is in itself a formula by which the 11 are reached and the barriers of the 10 breached and broken.

This Eleven-Headed Dragon of Aur She-Ain Bo Machshavah is the unified aspect of the Ruling Heads of the Tree of Death, which through this name are called upon as One, creating the point of focus through which the Divided Essence of the Other God is focused upon as a whole, while still retaining the antithetical form of the 2=11 opposing the 1=10, this made clear through the gematic value of AZRAT, which is 218-11.
The spelling of this name of the Other God is a further validation of what it emanates from and connects to, as it is both exoterically descriptive and esoterically revealing.

This name vocalised as Azerate is spelled: דנ Atatürk, with the letters Aleph, Zayin, Resh, Aleph and Teth of Sitra Achra, as it is not a word obtained by listening to the utterances of the god of this side of the Tehiru but instead an echo of the Silencing Songs of the Other Side, thus being the Pentagrammaton seeking to undo and transcend the limitations of the Tetragrammaton, in a fashion similar to how the Thoughtless Light manifested through 11 instead of 10 in order to go beyond the Fall of Separation and return to and obtain restoration within the Ain (1-1=0).

A casual study of the letters of this name reveals how it is connected to the Dual/Elevenfold Manifestation of the Head of the Serpents.

Aleph – The Ox or Bull exemplifying strength and power is a letter depicted in its primal form as the Head of a Horned Bull, representing a chieftain or other hard working leader and driving force. Within the clan, tribe or family the chief or father is represented by this Ox/Bull as the elder who the others are linked to and follow and as such within this context the letter of the Prime Mover of the Current which the other utterances are yoked to. The Qliphothic Aleph is the primary One that within itself holds the essence of the Two, which it seeks to actualise.

Zayin – The Sword and plough blade cutting in two and dividing the flesh or the ground, in this case acting as the splitting force responsible for the Black Light manifesting the Realm of Multitude, contrasting the static Realm of Singularity manifested by the Thoughtful Light. The Qliphothic Zayin is the causer of segmentation and division, not for the sake of limitation but for that of dynamic growth, multiplicity and expansion leading back to the Source. The Sword here is the force needed for the actualisation of the Dual Potential that by its dividing edge makes Two the One.

Resh – The Head as the governing force and principal, or as the ruler invested with authority, representing the Decisive Point of Focused Will, coronated and coronating with Regal Power and Total Dominion.

Aleph – The second Ox/Bull, showing that the first singular Aleph was by the Sword cut in two, or divided up in its manifestation into the Dual Governing Horned Heads, coronated with One Crown, Will, Cause or Ruling Impulse, in such manner that the second Aleph/Primal Ox/Bull was caused to become manifest so that instead of the one single Aleph two (2=11) became the Crowned Heads of the Driving Force.

Teth – The Serpent, so that the One Aleph became split into Two and was crowned, enthroned and ruling, side by side, as a Serpent or Over the Serpents, giving us the Two/Eleven-Headed Serpent of Sitra Achra, showing the dual aspect of the Other God manifesting and culminating in its becoming as the Eleven, being also the number of letters in the Hebrew spelling of Without Thought (Sh-AIN BO MChShVH).

Azerate/AZRAT is thus the Other God with its dynamic dual essence, ever seeking the nullification of all, expanded to the Eleven Heads of the Serpent, caused initially to come into being by the cutting division/split between Thoughtfulness and Thoughtlessness of the Primal Manifestation of Divinity within Ain Sof, which because of the further division caused through the Tzimtzum between the two sides of the Tehiru took form as the Eleven Headed Ruler of the Dragons of the Other Side, having the number 218=11 at its heart.
Together with the received name of Azerate also a Sign was given through the Grace of the God of the Tribe of the Serpents dwelling on this accursed side of the Tehiru, which later revealed itself to be the Gate to the Realm of the Dragons of the Qliphoth and could be found hidden within the Hendecagram in its aspect as the Yetzirahic Gate to the Sitra Achra, but also in connection to the original place of the Fallen Daath, acting as a Supernal Gate to the Abyss.

The following is that Eleven-Angled Sign and Seal, through which the limits of the ten are overcome by the turning of the Eleven Keys, opening Azerate's Gate towards Sitra Achra:

!Eleven-Angled Sign

The modes of the activation and opening of this Eleven-Angled Seal are many and all secrets needing to be directly received from and transmitted by the Qliphothic Forces is it connected to, but as an initial hint to the unlocking of its mysteries it can be divulged that in its supernal positioning an elevenfold vibratory intonation of the formula by which Adam was said to have opened the Gates of Hell is one part of the process, while on the Assiahic level an elevenfold sacrifice and a fourfold elemental work through the ladder of HVHY is required for the turning of its Eleven Keys and Opening of its central Gate, caused by the breaking of the ten angles of the pentagram, bringing about the disruption of cosmic order and the intrusion of the powers of the Dragons of the Other Side.
The Qliphoth of the Tree of Death

1. Thaumiel:

The Twins of God or the Two-Headed Ones, also called Thamiel the Duality of God, Catharicel the Broken Off or Fearful Light of God and Kerthiel meaning Separated from God, as they cut themselves away from the God of Thoughtful Light and united themselves within the emanation of the Thoughtless Light that became the Dual Crown of Sitra Achra and the first manifestation of the HVHY to oppose the YHVH. This first Qlipha is ruled by Satan and Molok, with Satan ruling the left and Molok ruling the right, manifesting the will of the One impulse of the Aur She-Ain Bo Machshavah in a dual manner opposing the singularity of the crowning manifestation of the Aur She-Yesh Bo Machshavah in Kether.

The demonic forms of this sphere perceived by those that are within the realm of Thoughtful Light have been those of Two-Headed Dragons, Two-Headed Black Giants or Jarus-Faced Heads with bat or dragon wings and other such forms signifying the dual-forced antithesis of the demiurgic impulse of Ain-Sof. This Qlipha crowning the Dragons of the Other Side is also connected to the Qemetiel, the Crowd of Gods representing the Multiplicity of Thoughtless Divinity, championing the dynamic cause of their Chaos in order to subvert the static order of their opposed Crown of Singular Thoughtfulness. The following is the Seal and the Formula of Calling of Thaumiel, by which the powers and Spirits of that Qlipha can be connected to and called upon.
2. Aogiel/Chagiel:

The Hinderers, being the hinderers of the expansion of the Thoughtful Light contracting back to the source the divine essence and obstructing its dilution by the cosmIC emanations of the Word, also called Chaigidel meaning the Confusion of the Power of the Cosmic God. Here are the forces of Chaos opposing the law-imposing and limiting structure of the Sephiroth and below the Throne of its ruler Beelzebub are the Eleven Dukes of Edom stationed as the elevenfold manifestation of the power the Baal of this Qlipha acting as One in order to silence the utterances of YHVH. The title of this Qlipha as Aogiel/Oghiel is derived from the name of the mighty Raphaimic King of Bashan whose rule upon the earth was a manifestation of the invading forces of Sitra Ahrã, remaining and gaining power even after the deluge meant to wash away all such disruptive forces hindering the will of the Thoughtful God.

The demonic forms of this Qlipha have been those of Winged Black Giants carrying serpents in their hands, Giant Demons entwined by Dragon Serpents and Winged Annihilating Spirits swarming forth to eradicate organized structures of the Thoughtful Light like hungry locusts set upon the ripe fields of harvest, establishing the realm of Those Who Go Forth Into the Place Empty of the Cosmic God. This Qlipha is therefore also connected to the Beli'El, being the ones granting the freedom from the restrictions of the El of Thoughtful Light.

The demonic forms of this Qlipha have been those enshrouded in black smoke, mist and darkness, mantled and hooded horned giants with eyes that emit a dark light and as the legions of living darkness that eclipse the causes of the restrictions of cosmic fate through the overturning of causal destiny by the power of their own acausality, drawing power directly from the Athiel of Chashek, which emanate their own essence into this Qlipha of the Illuminating Absence of Cosmic Light. To this Qlipha are also attributed the Sheriel spirits, being similar in form to the Seirim but gigantic in stature and guarding here instead of the Mountain of Azazel in Malkuth/Nahemoth the treasures of the Black Mountains of Darkness in Satariel.

This Qliphoth is ruled by Ashtaroth, a mighty king possessing the power to open the Eye of Abaddon and to turn the forbidden keys and unlock the Gates of the Abyss, and under his command are the fearsome legions of the Azriel, meaning the Binding Ones of the Cosmic God, that battle to restrict the creational impulse at its root of becoming.

The demonic forms of this Qliphoth have been those of cyclopean spirits, black cat-headed giants and as torch-bearing figures riding upon seven-headed dragons and these are sometimes named as the Azriel, Chazriel and Agniel.

The Burners with Fire, or Golab the Flaming Ones are the wrathful ones of Sitra Achra acting as the Avenging Sword of Satan opposing the tyranny of Geburah, fighting Din's fire with their own Black Fires of the Other Side and are thus also known as the Usiel, meaning the Rain of the Cosmic God, ruining the means for the enforcing of the judgment of YHVH and thus undermining his foundation of power with their own merciless force. The ruler of this Qlipha is Asemday, the God of Wrath and Vengeance who has as his first-in-command his own son Alefpenash, the one whose face is a raging fire, also called the Charba de-Ashmeidai Malka, meaning the Sword of King Asemday, governing 800000 demons of destruction.

The demonic forms of this Qlipha have been those of giants engulfed in the raging flames of their own spirits, whirlwinds of black fire setting ablaze the landscape and as demons with their heads like volcanoes in eruption, coronating them with the igneous light of their own side of the Ain-Sof.

Here a Messiah of the Serpents, being the Anointed Son of Thagirion, rises up as Sorath 666 in order to proclaim and spread the Lawlessness of this sphere. The ruler of this Qlipha is Baalpeor/Belphegor who is the Qliphothic aspect of the Moabite divinity connected to the baccanalian cult of the dead and who is known and worshipped as the Lord of the Opening and as the Phallic Force of the Rising of the Resurrecting Sun of the Dead.

The demonic forms of this Qlipha have been those of black horned lion-demons brandishing flaming swords, phallic pillars of black fire with gigantic serpents twined around them and as black giants engaged in perpetual combat.

Noah's dove of Netzach is here torn apart by the Ravens of Qayin, who is the secret Baal of this Qlipha, and instead of the carnal love for finite life the love for the Empty Source of Spirit motivating the Thoughtless Light to return All back to its own source in Ain is upheld. The ruler of this Qlipha is Baal(baalath)tzelmoth, Qayin (made as One with His Sister-Bride) the Lord of Death and the Opposer of the Thoughtful Elohim, being the essence of the Aur She-Ain Bo Machshavah's power shadowed forth by the light of Thagirion when illuminating the branch of the Qliphothic Nun into the Qlipha of Venus, establishing the Throne of the Lord of the Shadow of Death for its monarch, the holder of the keys of Destruction and Resurrection.

The demonic forms of this Qlipha, sometimes known as the Getzphiel, have been those of raven-headed winged giants, demon-headed ravens issuing forth from a volcano spewing black fire and as ruahed fire-crowned skeletons armed with scythes, tridents or spears.

8. Samael:

The Poison of God, named after one of the titles of the Other God Satan himself, who within this context is a Poisoner of the Cosmic El and the whole of his creation manifesting his adversarial power here in opposition to the Eye-closing and limiting intellect of Hod, combating it by envenoming minds and thoughts with his elixirs of death, sowing and watering the illuminating seeds of Wisdom-Bringing and Spirit-Liberating "Madness", making them flourish into Thoughtless Gnosis. The ruler of this Qliphah is Adramelek, the Glorious King, represented by the peacock having his eyes in his tail, overturning all reason, ingesting and thriving on the poison of the Serpent that he transmutes into the beautiful regal robe of his majestic feathers.

The demonic forms of this Qliphah, some of which have been called by the name of Theuniel, have been those of serpent-headed dogs, donkey-headed giants with blinded eyes and tails of peacocks and those of dragon-winged angels carrying skull-cups filled with venom in their right hands and large keys in their left.

9. Gamaliel:

The Obscene Ones are the forces of the Black Moon of the Other Side and the governors of its dark waters of sorcerous might and nightmarish lusts, siphoning into their own realm and reversing the flux of the sexual currents of the sphere that they oppose, so that the sparks of divine light which otherwise would be diluted into the forms of Malkuth instead become seeds impregnating their own essences causing their increase while at the same time emasculating the generative point of the tree of life by weakening its foundation. The ruler of this Qlipha is the Queen of Sitra Achra, Ama Lilith or Lilith Savta, the Dragon Mother and Faceless Bride of Satan, donning masks uncountable reflecting all the fears and desires of those facing her throne.

The demonic forms of this Qlipha have most often been those of diabolical women, irresistible and fearsome at one and the same time, often with serpentine or draconic aspects or as hybrids between lustful women and nocturnal birds of prey, but also the shape of spiders are often assumed by these angels of Lilith sometimes referred to as the Shakhabhel, Zachalilim, Lilin, Lilim and the Liliot.

10. Nahemoth:

The Lachrymose Ones are the anti-cosmic reflection and antithesis of Malkuth, rejoicing not as brides at a wedding but lamenting like widows at a funeral because of their connection to the worldly realm of the Tree of Life that their own tree has become interlinked to in order to sup its divine essence back into the Qliphoth and thus cause its destruction and return back to that source of the Fullness of Emptiness, into which the Thoughtless Light strives to force back All That Is But Should Not Be. The Nahemoth are the densest and most earthen concretization of the essentially formless Black Light and consist of many of those tribes of Spirits that possess liminal points of intersection to the World of Assiah, holding ajar the hidden gates and cracks into the fabric of existence through which the forces of Sitra Achra can cast in its Spirit-Empowering Fires in order to increase the flames kept captive within the formed vessels of this world, so that they may, by At-Azothic increment of Spirit, crack their containers and set afame the Tree of Life and burn it to formless ash. The Queen of this Qlipha is Nahema also called Lilith Ulema, not to be confused with the Elder Lilith of Gamaliel and she is a force united in Spirit with Naamah, the Sister of Tubal-Qayin and Mistress of Azazel who was elevated to Nahema's own stature and thus brought Pleasantness to her lamenting condition, establishing the current Throne of Naamah Nahema Na-Ama-Heha-Nahemoth.

The primary demonic aspects connected to this Qlipha are fivefold in the forms of their nations, being closely related to the Fallen Watchers, their descent into and empowerment of the Bloodline of the Serpent of Sitra Achra via the Line of Qayin and the resulting revolt instigated by their Titanic offspring who ravished the earth for the glory and victory of the Other Side.

The following are the Five Accursed and Blessed nations of Nahemoth, being the Spirits of both ante- and postdiluvian tribes allied to the cause of Thoughtless Light:

The Neptilim, the Fallen Ones who caused the order of the world itself to be overthrown and fall.

The Gebarim, the Mighty Ones of Old, the Men of Renown championing the cause of the Other Side.

The Rahaim, the Giants, the sight of which made mere men to, out of fear, melt as wax anywhere their shadows would be cast.

The Anakim, the Tall People of Anak, postdiluvian giants of the enduring Nefilimic bloodline.

The Amalekim, the Warriors of Amalek, a mighty postdiluvian people allied to the Bloodline of the Serpent, who caused the world to anew revolt against the tyranny of its creator and rose in violence against his chosen people.

Eleven are the Supreme Governing Heads of Sitra Achra and each of these heads has within the different Qabbalistic traditions become concretised by the masks of pagan divinities offensive to the Israelisites. These masks have in form shifted throughout time and it is only recently, during the last couple of centuries, that they have firmly become formed as and associated with the names and symbolic guises we now most often have come to associate with them, it must therefore be understood and remembered that this Elevenfold Manifestation of the Thoughtless Divinity in essence always remains beyond causal understanding and is in truth too alien to be fully grasped by those that are caught within the Sephirothic side of the Tehiru, that remains at least the case until a True Spiritual Enlinkment to the Heads of Azerate is established and through such direct contact Gnosis is attained from their Formless Spirits hidden beyond the forms that seek to causally define and thus always limit them.

Before the Formless Essence can be understood we must correctly approach their masks in order to be able to, at some point, grasp that which is enlinked to them, and as such the established forms are still of great value because it is through them that we can approach that which is on their Other Side. The simple realization concerning the fact that while the masks are worn by the formless they (the masks) themselves are not of the greatest importance makes also the popular modern notion that the Qliphothic Forces are nothing but vilified pagan deities that should be returned to their proper cosmic station void and irrelevant, at least within the context of our Work.

It is not the mere names or mythological forms given to these forces that define their true nature and essences, it is instead the perspective, context and spiritual ethos through which such masks are created and employed that will give clues to the source, cause and direction of the actual Spiritual Current enlinked to and imbuing them.

It is therefore for example ridiculous to adamantly insist that the Astaroth of the Qabbalist demonology within all contexts must be identical, or at least always remain connected, to the exact same original essence as that of the Phoenician goddess Astarte. The fact that a name is derived from a certain source does not automatically translate to the nowadays often presumed fact that also the essence connected to and manifested through it within all contexts must be at all related to its original one.

The Astaroth of the Grimoires and that of the Qabbalist demonology, in both his lesser goetic form and the more elevated Qliphothic ruler aspects, does not within the context of the Spiritual Reality of those two mentioned settings necessarily, in essence, pertain at all to the original aspects of Astarte, but modern magicians manage still to contact what they associate with the goddess in question, even when employing the 'forms' (such as seals and formulae) presented within such contexts unrelated to her. This points to the simple truth concerning the differences between Magical Currents and their corresponding realities and to how one can enter or exit them because of and through one's focus, intention, expectation, stance, attitude, spiritual ethos and the actual rites, forms and elements employed within the ceremonial or otherwise magical context in order to align one's work and being with the Currents of Spirit and Divinity.

This truth is most often far beyond what all the dry academic and archaeological approaches towards the essentially fluid and Acausal Reality of the Spirit ever can hope to disclose or attain.
With all this in mind one can even approach simplistic demonologies of others that may after centuries of unfocused application only hold diffuse enlinkments to a multitude of different currents and with certain insights and correct empowerments elevate them to further far more lofty causes than what they originally were meant to serve, that is at least the case if one possesses the ability, insight, Spiritual Authority and practical possibility to channel a more elevated, specific, potent and Active Current into and through them, as it is only the forms employed that can become relative while the actual Essence of the Spirit, whether attached or detached to such finite forms, remain more objectively real than any finite causal construct ever could be.

Not only are the names of the Qliphoth and that of their rulers attached to myriad of different Currents, all giving them totally different characteristics, essences and Spirits, but also the very concept of the Qliphoth is in itself also relative in its essential charge and depending on context and traditional perspective it can represent everything from the lowest excremental aspect of the universe to the Highest and Most Glorious Thoughtless Side of Divinity, so even there it is the specific Current channelled through the symbolic 'forms' which will give them their context-specific nature, value, exact attribution and Spiritual Essence.

If we return back to the Rulers of the Sitra Achra within our own Tradition we can again see how the daemonic 'forms' also employed within other contexts gain totally new powers and roles just because of how they have become aligned with and connected to the essences channelled from the specific Current worked for and within. This connection can be understood as something caused by the conscious act of man or that of a Spirit/Current seeking new channels for its own manifestation thus inspiring man to correctly revalue and reconnect such deific symbols.

The eleven rulers of the Qliphoth are within this our, and most other Qabalistic systems of demonology, identified with Satan, Molok, Beelzebub, Lucifuge Rosoclace, Astaroth, Asmodai, Belfegor, Baal (whose exact identity varies from tradition to tradition), Adramelk, Lilith and Nahemah/Namah.

Many of these Heads of Azerate have seals attributed to them in older grimoires and even if those seals most likely once were meant to channel a very specific current and aspect they have by the passing of time, neglect and misuse become so relative in their enlinkments to deity or Spirit that uncountable different and conflicting aspects seem to be accessed and manifested through them. As a concrete example we can mention the popular and well-known seals of the Highest Triumvirate of the Infernal Legions given in the Grimoirium Verum, which through the last decades have been employed by so many and in so many different, and often conflicting, ways that they now do not channel concrete aspects from a specific current but have instead become connected to everything from pagan revivalist currents where they channel old European deities to our own Current where for example the Seal of Emperor Lucifer is connected to the ha-Satan in his aspect as the Bearer of Black Light, being the First of the Eleven Heads of the Thoughtless El Acher.

Because of the lack of general focus in these once much more concrete enlinking 'forms' such, now, exoteric seals can, when not employed by one that stands steadfastly within a Tradition firmly connecting them to its Current, cause random manifestation from any one of the multitude of sources that on different levels have become connected to them, all depending of course on the person employing them, the exact mode of application and context within which they are worked.

In order to avoid all such (seemingly) random enlinkments and potentially unsought manifestations we present now the 11 Current- and Tradition-Specific Throne Seals of the Rulers of Qliphoth, being the fruit of almost two decades of Spiritual work and multitude of binding treaties allowing now their manifestation and public presentation within this Grimoire of the Dragons of the Other Side, for the sake of providing a set of focused, living, warded and most powerful enlinkments to the aspects of the primary Qliphothic God-forms, in the way that they are manifested as and through the Current of AZRAT/218.

These seals are called Throne Seals because they are enlinked to the very Seat of Power and Foundation of the aspects they represent and are when employed correctly meant to constitute as Gateways through which a fraction of the Unbound Essences they channel can become Enthroned within this side of the Tehiru, while at the same time acting as a point of ingress from this side towards their Thrones in Sitra Achra.

Each seal constitutes of two parts, one being the actual main Throne Seal and the other that of the Angle Key Seal which functions as its simpler enlinking form to be used within the contexts where the main seal practically can not, such as when it comes to the consecration, dedication and inscribing of candles employed within the rites aimed at the activation and opening of different related Points of Power upon which such candles are placed and lit, like for example within the esoteric workings of the Eleven Angles of the Seal of Azerate and those others related to the magic of the Heptacagram. Within still other context the Angle Key Seal of each main Throne Seal can be used as the astral key that opens up the Gate of each Throne without even being traced on the material level and instead solely via its employment within the corresponding keyholes on the astral formative world, where such keys are turned by the power of Will and Spirit channelled and focused via the corresponding formula that we also in this chapter will provide.

The Qliphothic Formulæ, being as the sonic aspect of the Activating Point of each corresponding seal, will be given in order to not only establish the gates and their keys but also the means to turn them by those that would know to employ them correctly within the context of Spiritual Work for the sake of the Magical Alteration and Disruption of Cosmic Fate and Liberation of Spirit.

By the following seals and formulæ, received as result of the hard Work of the Brethren of the Temple visibly representing the Current of Azerate, made unwaveringly enlinked to the one specific Anti-Cosmic Current, the seeker of the Black Light of the Other Side can most effectively connect himself/herself to the Eleven Thrones and enter into the pacts and full communications which ensures success and fulfllment of all relevant goals upon the Path of the Thoughtless Black Fire.

These are the Throne Seals, Keys and Formulæ of the Heads of the Qliphoth in its Essence as the Elevenfold Force of Divine Thoughtlessness, moving All back towards the Source from which everything has emanated and within which All shall become restored to Divine Nought/Ain.
Satan

The Opposer and Accuser of the Thoughtful El, the Highest of the First Two Heads, looking back up towards and through the Three Veils of Anti-Existence and seeking himself and directing all that is elevated to His Throne towards the Holy Ain that lies beyond even the station of Qemetic. Satan is the Bringer of the Black Light of Thoughtlessness in his aspect as the illuminator and dispeller of the White Darkness of Thoughtfulness and is the Venom of the Other God, personified as such under the title of Samael. He is the wielder of the Trident-Torch of the Triple Fire of Tohu, Bohu and Chasek and by being part of the Dual Establishing Point giving way to the manifestation of the Eleven also correctly called the Ancient Serpent, first amongst the Dragons of the Other Side, the King of the Kings of the Thoughtless Light, being the most Transcendent Head of Azerate and the Shining One, or the Bearer of Light and the Lord of Darkness, as the Light he brings is illuminating only to those belonging to his own Side of Thoughtlessness, while being perceived as a Devouring Darkness by all others belonging to the side of the impulse opposed to his own.

Molok

The King of the Black Light in its aspect as the Cleansing Fires of Chaos and an eradicator of the finite forms that can not stand its restoration of the returning enlumements to Ain, looking down upon all that must through the Sevenfold Flame of his Furnace Throne become passed in order to be worthy and ready for their last baptism in the Waters of Tehom, before finally reaching the Elevating Throne of Satan. Molok is the One Horned with the Arch Fiery Light, ascending with a dual penetrative force of his Horns of Destroying Transcendence, elevating all that he impales upon them towards the highest point of non-existence, via the triple flames of Tohu, Bohu and Chasek which act as his Kingly Crown of Thoughtlessness. Molok is the receiver of the Sevenfold Sacrifice which is conducted by burning within the seven openings of his Fiery Furnace Throne to formless ash any remaining aspect of the Sevenfold Cosmic Garment that weighs down and holds back the Spirit from the attainment of the Highest Coronation and Liberation and by facilitating and accepting such cleansing immolation via the passing of Spirit through his Black Fires he powerfully destroys the Thoughtful Limitations binding the Acausal Essence to causal forms.

Deelzebub

The Lord of Purifying Emptiness and the Screaming Silence, the Bringer of the Nihilifying Storm-Winds of Bohu dissolving the very primal impulses causing the fall of Spirit, lifting instead up in flight upon the Wings of Death all that embrace and enter into his dissolving Void of Chaos. Beelzebub as the Lord of the Flies represents the governing head ruling all those Qliphothic emanations of his realm that brings desolation to the structures opposed to their King's Lawless Rule, hindering the utterance of the Words of the Creational Impulse and devouring its echoes before they can cause further restriction and entanglement of Thoughtless Spirit within the webs of causal forms. Beelzebub is breathed-forth of the silent winds of Anti-Cosmic Revolution and Evolution, fanning the glowing embers of Thoughtlessness wherever they may be kept hidden in order to make the Black Fires blaze up and consume the causes of restriction and in revolt attain liberation by reaching to and burning as one with their Source.

Lucifuge Rosocale is the Shatterer of the illusions and forms of the White Darkness of Thoughtful Impulse and an establisher of the absence of all such blinding lights offensive to the Anti-Cosmic Spirit and is as such the initiator of their eclipse, thus bringing about the full uprising of the Flame Within, which when removed from the confines of the false light of creation becomes fully awakened to its own Acausality, making it gravitate even more forcefully towards its Source, breaking all Sephirothic Kelims and transcending their limitations.
Astaroth

The Master of the Liminal Points of Crossing and the Lord of the Dark Gate, the one leading to and through the Abyss, being the Mighty King invested with the full authority of the four heads governing the Supernal Qliphthic Triad above him, Astaroth is as such the one who ushers towards manifestation their Atziluthic Impulses in order to counteract the sevenfold unfolding of the demiurgic work of the Thoughtful Creation. Astaroth is the Serpent Bearer and the elevator of those of the Serpent Seed, opening their Eyes of Abaddon which by seeing through and destroying the finite cosmic illusions enables them to cross the Hidden Paths leading towards the final trials, purification and empowerments of the Sheol of Tehom, in order to finally rise as Snakes Turned Into Dragons and become as One with the Eleven. Astaroth is the Dragon Rider as he is the first one and above those other draconic forces of the Seven Qliphoth below the Three Supernal Ones and is therefore also not only a manifesting point of the emanation of the powers of the Highest Thrones, but is also himself a Point of Retraction for all such emanations in their Path of Return back towards their source and is thus both a creator and destroyer, who in every aspect of his work aims for the annihilation of all restrictive constructs and the return of Spirit back to the Fullness of Emptiness.

Asmoday empowers the flames ignited by the Black Sun with his own Martial Fires and makes such flames blaze up and consume all that is not of its own essence, he is therefore the Dragon King in charge of the awakening of the sparks of the Thoughtless Fire and the provoker of its rising holocaust, combusting and ascending on the hot winds of Infernal Ascension.

The 60 Emissaries of the Black Light

The world of the Qliphoth is the Reshut ha-Rabbim, meaning the Realm of Multiplicity or Plenty, in contrast to the Sephirothic Reshut ha-Yahim, which is the Realm of Static Singularity and unity for and in YHVH. This unlawful plenitude of the Qliphoth is a chaotic trait which again sets the 2/11 of Sitra Achra against the 1/10 of the cosmic realm of the Thoughtful Light.

This multiplicity is present within all aspects of the Qliphoth and manifested within each name and word uttered by the Thoughtless Dragon in order to silence the words of the creator echoing and resonating within all empty vessels of limiting thought, as in order to serve their purpose of silence they need to grow in multitude to overwhelm and suppress unto destruction the emanations they are meant to oppose.

This chaotic expansion also manifests itself through the very names ascribed to each aspect of the Qliphoth, as all such constructs when truly connected to the Black Light of Thoughtlessness become ensnared by its essence and possessed by the Letters of the Sitra Achra, causing each name to multiply into legion upon legion of Qliphothic names, forms and powers, all enforcing the cause of the original name from which they emanate.

An example of this kind of becoming or issuing forth from names connected to the actual Current of the Other Side are the 60 Emissaries of the names of the 10 Primary Qliphoth. These 60 Emissaries or Archdaemons of the Qliphothic Names are the individual parts making up the whole of each Qliph and are personifications of the essential foundations at each of the 10 spheres of Anti-Creation governed by the 11 Heads of the Nachash Hakadmoni ha-Aur She-Ain Bo Machazakah (the Ancient Serpent of the Thoughtless Light).

The 60 Emissaries have each harbingers of their own names and those in turn have their own heralds of their names, with this chain of emanation and manifestation continuing indomitably, giving birth to the hierarchies and legions of the serpents spawning thoughtlessly and lawlessly in order to overwhelm their opposing side.

Within both the high initiatic and the lower practical Work with the Qliphoth, the main focus will remain on the 60 Primary Emissaries as it is them that act as forerunners and messengers to the Qliphoth when contact and interaction with the Other Side is sought by those of the Serpent's Bloodline, and while the full power of a whole Qliph is impossible to manifest and truly comprehend the Spirit of each Emissary is much more approachable and comprehensible, each being potentially of great aid within the context of the High Magic meant to connect and elevate a Spirit caught on this side of the Tehiru towards and into the Other Side, for the sake of the Spirit's liberation and the furthering of the Anti-Cosmic Cause of the Other God, by adding another flame to His Black Fires.

The following are the 60 Archdaemons of the Names of the Qliphoth, the description of their attributes and powers and the Seals by which they are contacted and made to manifest disruptively in order to create unfated inner and outer changes, all according to the impulses of the Black Light of God.

2. Hamahel

The second Emissary of Nahemoth is Hamahel, the Roaring One of the Qliphoth of the Lachrymose Ones, who is a strident force proclaiming the Truth and Holiness of Thoughtlessness by manifesting it in an adversarial form that empowers and guides the Geburim championing the Cause of Ain on both sides of the Tehiru, instructing and showing them the path to victory by disclosing to them the secrets and weaknesses of the enemy, possessing the power to by her piercing vociferations of justified outrage call upon and link to any other aspects of the Qliphoth and via such enlinkments disclose the hidden points that can strengthen her own cause of rebellion and further the destruction of the limiting order bearing down upon her own essence from the side of the Sephiroth. Hamahel is the Archdaemon of the All Piercing Fiery Eye of the Throne of Nahema and a summoner of the manifested essences of Tohu, Bohu and Chasek from within the other Qliphoth in order to add power to her own advances against the Enemies of the Serpents and empower and guide those that would hear, answer and follow her call.

Nahemoth's Third Emissary of the Name

3. Mirshaathel

The third Emissary of Nahemoth is Mirshaathel, the Wicked One of the Qliphoth of the Lachrymose Ones, who is a torrential force of the raging waters of chaos and a daughter of the Qemetic resurrected within the tenth Qlipha and acts as a harbinger of lawless rebellion against all forces upholding spirit-binding stagnation and is, as the Qliphothic Mother of the Raphaim, a Titanic breaker of Sephirothic forms, causing them to dissolve by the overflowing of Spirit that she causes wherever she can invade and flood with her storming emanations and is both an expander of old cracks between the two sides of the Tehiru and the causer of new ones, making way for the forces seeking to usurp the Kingdom and devour it with their Thoughtless Light. Mirshaathel is the Archdaemon of the Waters of Tehom within the Black Earth and the most primordial essence of chaos of the Throne of Nahema, letting her emanations flow parallel to, and at some secret points cross, those of the first Emissary of her Qlipha, creating the Dual Sea and Crossroads of Death and Chaos within the Underworld, continuously flowing forth from and back towards the highest point of the Outer Tree, in order to strengthen and elevate its lowest aspects.
4. Atadel

The fourth Emissary of Nahemoth is Atadel, the Thorny One of the Qlipha of the Lachrymose Ones, who is a restraining force of the dividing essence of the silencing echo of the first utterance that in her station within the place opposed and calinked to Malkuth, where she with her Spirits of the Anakim hinders the expansion of the Thoughtful Light from entering into her side of the Tehiru, while pushing her own borders further through the intersecting points in order to invade the Kingdom with the Thoughtlessness breathed forth by the Dragon, thus fanning the sparks that in the end shall blaze up to burn the whole of that offending tree and return all back to the Ain without Sof. Atadel is the Archdaemon of the Scourging Wind cutting and stabbing all that hinder her expansion or who seek to break through her own established boundaries and is as a Border of Thorns around the Throne of Nahema, limiting not her emanations but instead aiding in their focusing and forceful expansion while hindering all offensive intrusion.

5. Tazazel

The fifth Emissary of Nahemoth is Tazazel, the Feller of the Qlipha of the Lachrymose Ones, who is a violent force of the Black Earth rising in vehement revolt to break through the barriers standing between the two sides of the Tehiru, in order to manifest the impulses of the ancient Spirits of the Archiel and avenge the Amalekith by severing the roots and cutting down the branches of the Tree of Life, so that the Divine Spirit crucified upon it may be freed from Thoughtfulness and by the elimination of all the manifested forms of its thoughts through Thoughtlessness become redeemed from the Fall and returned to the Unbound Fullness of the Emptiness of Ain. Tazazel is the Archdaemon of the Cutting and Liberating emanation of the Throne of Nahema, falling in order to elevate and destroying in order to free up that which is bound and is an opener of the hidden points of transcendence and gnosis, coronating with Black Light those that can enter them properly while decapitating the profane knowing not how and when to approach and enter such liminal points.
When it comes to the practical applications of the Seals of the 60 Emissaries presented within this chapter of our Book of Sistra Achra there are many different ways through which they can be employed and activated within the Qliphothic Work meant to bring the operator in contact with them, for the sake of the attainment of their blessings, curses and the unfated transformations that the traffic with such Harbingers of the Thoughtless Light inevitably will bring about.

Clues to many of those approaches are scattered throughout this Grimoire and those possessing the Eye to see with shall within and between the lines find all instructions needed in order to align themselves on all levels to the emanations of these Messengers of the Qliphothic Thrones of the Realms of Multiplicity, but we shall here add to those veiled instructions by offering one more for the sake of emphasising certain relevant points for consideration, which hopefully in unison with all else provided in this book shall establish the correct perspective from which the fundamental core of certain workings shall become both visible and comprehensible.

In connection to this another topic that we need to touch upon is the employment of the Hendecagrams, which in a following chapter shall be given full attention and explained in detail, but as that topic relates in this context also to the Workings of the Emissaries it is necessary to at this early point approach this subject. As there are ten Qliphoth upon the Tree of Death also the Legions headed by their Grand Emissaries number in the same amount, making their correspondence to the Hendecagram, being the Star of the Eleven, seemingly complicated, but as the Emissaries of Thaumiel are divided between both sides of the Dual Throne of that first Qlipha, with Thanimel, Akzarel and Uazarel belonging to the side of Satan and as the governors of his Legions and Ihanahel, Abadel and Labbahel to the side of Molok with command over the second Legion of their divided Qlipha, leaving Mibdalabel at the liminal point in-between the Twin Thrones of Thaumiel, thus becoming a force connected to both the side of Satan and Molok and governing a Legion serving the cause of them both, the connection of the Emissaries to the Eleven Points of the Hendecagram becomes revealed.

Satan's Point upon the Hendecagram holds the forces of Thanimel, Akzarel and Uazarel, with the inclusion of Mibdalabel who in turn also connects to the Point of Molok, which possesses the forces of Ihanahel, Abadel and Labbahel. With this realisation the Emissaries can very effectively be reached by the correct applications of the Eleven-Pointed Star of Azerate.

As for the approach towards the realisation of and communion with the Spiritual Essences, reached via the seals of the Emissaries and some of the other enlinked symbolic forms bridging over to Their Side, what can be disclosed is that it entails a fourfold process of activation leading up to the manifestation and then the initiatic internalisation of their essences. This process follows a HVHY formula of progression upon the path of ascent from Assiah to Azriluth, for the sake of the interaction and communion between one's own Spirit and that of the Emissary with and from whom contact and empowerment is sought.

This work can be conducted in a Lesser or Higher form, the lesser of which being the attempt to focus upon and manifest aspects of the Light of the Emissary on one specific plane belonging to one of the Four Worlds, while the higher form of this work seeks to establish contact with the Emissary through and manifest its powers upon all of the four levels of existence and its corresponding aspects of the Soul, employing all four forms of the Hendecagram within the setting of a single rite leading them up to their transcendent Fifth Form, to the Quintessence and the Core of Spirit, causing the most potent and intimate form of intermingling of the Acosmic Essence and some of the most potent forms of At-Azothic empowerment attainable.

But for now it will be sufficient to just give one simple example upon which the cunning shall be able to build the more advanced workings in line with those already hinted at.

As our example we will treat the work for the evocation of the Black Light of an Emissary to manifest within the Assiah, to bless or curse and imbue with its essence anything that it would deign to touch with its Thoughtless Presence, like for example that which such manifestation would be directed at within the context of the Qliphic rites of fetishistic talismanic consecration and Ensoulment/Enspiritment.

The work is within these settings initiated by the usual proceedings such as the Opening of the Gates, the fumigation of the ritual space with the incense blend corresponding to the Gate belonging to the Kingdom the Emissary belongs to and the establishment of the general points of manifestation, for example by the tracing and activation of the Assiahic Hendecagram with the starting point being that of the Governing Head of Azerate and the corresponding Qlippa to which the Emissary with whom contact is sought belongs.

After such primary steps the process of establishment and activation of the seal of the Emissary commences in accordance with the Ladder of HVHY.

On the first step, being that of Assiah, the seal is to be formed physically, by being marked, drawn, painted or in some other suitable manner made manifest. Of course the elements applied for this manifesting of form must all be in harmony with the Qlippa that the Emissary is to intrude from and the seal itself can be marked directly upon the ground or the centre of the altar and in the middle of the established Hendecagram or be painted or otherwise made visible on for example a suitable cleansed and dedicated piece of parchment or paper. At this point the first set of invocations is to be directed to the Emissary, outlining the reason for why contact is sought.

On the second step, being that of Yetzirah, the seal is to be fumigated with an incense blend corresponding with the Qlippa of the Emissary or in some cases when tobacco harmonises with the work, such as when the emissaries of Gevurot are called upon with the smoke of a strong cigar exhaled towards the points of the seal in order to connect and penetrate via the Ruach carried forth upon the wings of smoke. The second set of invocations is to be directed and the Emissary further beseeched to attend and lend aid in whatever task one needs to accomplish.

On the third step, being that of Briah, the seal is sprinkled with drops of a suitable libation offering, which also can be sprayed over it directly from the mouth focusing the power of the transcendent awareness of the Neshamah towards it connecting with its corresponding aspect and further quickening its powers. The third set of invocations and prayers is given to the Emissary and again the purpose of the communion is clearly outlined.

On the fourth step, being that of the Atziluth, the seven points of power of the seal of the Emissary are given flames, by the positioning of the correctly cleansed, dedicated, inscribed and anointed black candles, positioned and lit upon each point, further arousing the power of the seal and adding to the establishment of contact with the full essence of the Emissary reached through it, letting the seven flames become the reflection of the fires of Chiah unifying one's own primal force of being with that of the grand Emissary upon whose seal this ritual union is established. Over the seven flames the fourth set of invocations is recited and the Emissary is now asked to fully empower its seal and cause its essence to imbue its forms now established and activated also in the points in-between the worlds and the two sides of the Tehirah.

By these four steps one has reached for the Emissary from the lowest to the highest and hopefully caused sufficient enlinkments to enable the final stage of the calling, which is the fifth step, corresponding to that of the Spirit encompassing the whole of the work and now ritually given the final means for its unfated manifestation on this side of the Tehiru by the spilling of the blood of a suitable sacrifice over the seal.

As the blood is sprinkled over the seal the last set of full verbal invocations is addressed to the Emissary, entreatings it in the name of its Governing Head of Azerate to manifest and the powers so summoned are by the different tools of the art, such as the bell and the thurible, made stronger in manifestation and directed towards desired points of concretisation by the work of the wands, mirrors, the chalice, the cord or by the establishment of a Kelim or other fetishistic or talismanic receptacle upon the arrow-points of the seal of the Emissary, serving as the lines of direction for its manifesting powers. In such or similar manners the manifested spirit is to be communed with, cultivated and have its Light directed towards desired effect, with the name of the Emissary being constantly chanted as the formula for the maintaining of its manifestation both without and within.

By this outlined approach more is given in concealed form than what may be apparent, which is something that shall become evident with each step taken into the Black Light, being in itself a process facilitated and overseen in all essential aspects by the Emissaries of the Dragons of the Other Side, being that they are the Princes of the Qliphoth, serving and making known the Thoughtless Will of Azerate to those that would share their cause.

The 22 Silencing Letters of the Other Side

The Creator established and ordered his creation by conceiving and uttering the 22 letters of the Alphabet, each being a cosmic principal and power through which all that is and shall be within creation is founded upon and upheld by.

These letters have been described as the 3 Mother Letters, the 7 Double letters and the 12 Simple Letters of Creation.

Aleph, Mem and Shin are the three Mother Letters. Aleph is the letter of primal Air, Mem of the Primal Water of the Abyss and Shin of Divine Fire. The Fire descending from the air above into the dark waters of the abyss is a description of the first stages of creation within the Tehiru Void that the Thoughtful Light caused its ray of creative fire to fall into in order to cause structural forms for its thoughts.

Beth, Gimel, Daleth, Kaph, Peh, Resh and Tav are the Seven Double Letters.

Beth is the letter of Mercury, Gimel that of Moon, Daleth that of Venus, Kaph that of Jupiter, Peh that of Mars, Resh that of Sun and Tav that of Saturn. These double letters represent a dual attribution based on their two modes of utterance; one being soft and the other harsh. Thus they manifest the 7 polarities that can be seen as the positive and negative aspects of the planetary powers or as the polar tensions within creation such as Life and Death, Peace and War, Wisdom and Folly, Riches and Poverty, Grace and Indignation, Fertility and Sterility and Dominion and Subjugation. These seven letters are also connected to the seven day process of creation, the seven heavens and the seven earths and all other sevenfold fundamental structures of cosmic existence.

Aleph, Beth, Gimel, Daleth, Vav, Zayin, Heth, Teth, Yod, Lamed, Mem, Nun, Samek, Ayin, Tzaddi, Qoph are the Twelve Simple Letters and are connected to the 12 signs of the Zodiac, the 12 months of the year, the 12 organs of man, the hands, the feet, the kidneys, the spleen, the liver, the gall, the genitals, the stomach and the intestines but also the 12 attributes of Sight, Hearing, Smell, Speech, Taste, Lust, Work, Movement, Wrath, Mirth, Imagination and Sleep.

Together the 22 letters of the Alphabet became the branches holding up and connecting the 10 Sephiroth and constituted as a whole the Tree of Life.

The Thoughtless Light in Sitra Achra, after having assumed the Thought of Opposition for the sake of reintegration back into Fullness/Emptiness, mirrored the process of creation in order to create its antithesis and bring about its annihilation, thus every letter uttered by the creator was countered by its mirrored and inverse image in the Other Side giving rise to the Tree of Death and its 22 Paths.

Each letter of the Alphabet of Sitra Achra acts as a silencer of the sounds uttered to cause the cosmic creation and is thus the basis for the Alogos of the Qliphoth, spelling death to that which they echo within the Abyss of the Great Deep.

The Following are the descriptions of the 22 Letters of the Thoughtless Light, the magical powers of their Daemon and the seal by which these powers may be accessed, entered into or just allowed to invade our accursed side of the Tehiru in order to further the Holy Cause of the Other Side.

The Qliphoth of Aleph is the emanation of the Divine Will to cause duality in order to achieve Unity within Nihility, showing the two Points of the Primal Unmanifest: Yod in manifestation being divided and stationed above and below the border set between them and is a letter that in its supernal positioning belongs to Thaumiel. The three elements and sections of the form of this letter can also be related to its manifesting of the essences of Tohu, Bohu and Chashek and is therefore a link between the first manifestation of the Thoughtless Light and its Unmanifest Source yoked at its height still to Ain.

The Aleph of Sitra Achra is the breath of the Thoughtless Light issuing forth in order to enliven its anti-creation. It is the Dual Flamed Spirit carried forth upon the Wind of Silence manifesting the Alogos of Satan and Moloch towards and within the sphere of Beelzebub upon the Tree of Death.

The Magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are divination and mediation, the gift of prophecy attainable via the silencing of the thoughts and gnosis achieved via the establishment of Thoughtlessness, but that also of the Ensoulment of idols and talismans via the breath.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Aleph:
2 - Beth (The House) - 2 - B - Mercury - Magus - Path 12

The Qliphoth of Beth is the House of Death and Chaos making way for the immortality of Non-Being. It is the mercurial force of transformation, becoming and evolution towards the Unmanifest, via the stages of the destruction of limiting structures.

The Beth of Sitra Achra is the Temple of Satan and Moloch opening its gates towards, and manifesting its lawless potential for becoming more than that which could be held back by the cosmic limitations of being within the sphere of Lucifuge Rofocale.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the bringing of death where there is life and life where there is death and can therefore serve the workings of necromancy, healing and malefica and can grant the forbidden knowledge concerning the mysteries it rules related to the overcoming of the limitations and illusions of the laws of life and death.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Beth:

3 - Gimel (The Camel) - 3 - G - Luna - High Priestess - Path 13

The Qliphoth of Gimel is the Traversing Camel of the Desert of the Abyss making possible the union of the 3 Black Suns of Sitra Achra, one being the sphere of Thagirion, the other being that of the Crowning Sun of the Tree of Death at its zenith of the First Qlipha and the third being the Hidden Liminal Sun of the Enlightening Shadow of Daath where the seeds of the Tree of Knowledge by Satan were sown, on this Other Side not blocking the 13th path as it does upon the tree of life but instead opening the point for the invasive forces that would burn that tree of Sephiroth with the Illuminating Black Rays of the Thoughtless Light.

The Gimel of Sitra Achra is the Lunar channel through which the solar forces of the Sitra Achra are connected and manifested, most visibly so within the sphere of Belfegor, and an emanation of the essence that is fully manifested and Enthroned within Gamaliel and is also a secret vehicle for the manifestation of the Holy Nachash once embodying both Samael and Lilith.

The Magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are pacification, provocation of anger and the causing of strife, the linking of astral current to solarians, the reviving of astral shades, lucid and prophetic dreams and the causing of nightmares carried out by conjured dead.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Gimel:
The Qliphoth of Daleth is the Door of the Forces of Chaos, causing paradoxical illumination via Darkness, connecting the base of the Qliphothic supernal triad and acting both as the womb and base of its manifestation and foundation. It is the door opened by the Great Serpent in order to strike at the original fourth emanation of the Thoughtful Light and invade the Edenic Daath once covering the Gate of the Abyss.

The Daleth of Sitra Achra is the Venusian womb of the Serpents receiving the Thoughtless Light of Tohu and Bohu, in order to within the Chasak of the Qlippa of Lucifuge give birth to the Chaotic Dark Light with which to illuminate and combat the stasis of its Sephirothic counterpart. It is also the Door opening up to the mysteries of anti-creation, emitting the Envenomed Wine of the Dragon granting wisdom or madness and death, depending on who or what partakes of it.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are entering into and leaving closed spaces, the granting of revelations or the causing of misleading illusions, the casting of enchanted amorousness and all work of Philetre causing upheaval to personal destinies enforced by its Venusian counterpart.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are clairvoyance, telepathy, finding that which is lost or hidden from sight, the causing of blindness, granting invisibility and aiding in consecration and empowerment of fetishes and talismans via branding (imprints of Will made visible by the Solar Power of the fire).

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Daleth:

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Heh:

\[\text{Seal of Daleth} \]

\[\text{Seal of Heh} \]
The Qliphoth of Vav is the Nail pinning down the idea of the Thoughtless Impulse of Silence, counteracting the Word of the creator as the focused thought of its sevenfold reversal and annihilation, shaking to destruction the firmness of creation thus loosening that which its cosmic counterpart would keep in place.

By the Vav of Sitra Achra the nail crucifying Spirit upon the cross of matter is removed and the wisdom of Thoughtless Divinity driven into the Spirit of those that can welcome and receive its stabs.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are to sharpen the mind and direct the focused power of thoughts towards manifestation or the undoing of manifested forms, the binding and loosening of that which unites, the causing of separation, clairaudience, enchantment by worded spells, the causing of fixation and the banishment of obsession.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Vav:

The Qliphoth of Zayin is the Sword of the Dragon cleaving in two and establishing dynamic duality where static singularity otherwise would rule and is the opener of the closed womb that gives birth to the Twin- or the Two-Headed Serpents of Sitra Achra, manifesting the concealed and negative pole of Saturniel within and through the solar pole of Thagirion. The sword of Qliphothic Zayin is the sacrificial weapon splitting the essence and by making it dual establishes its tension of polarity needed for its dynamic becoming, thus acting as the sacrificial dagger of martyrdom for that which resumes forms only in order to eradicate the limitations of all forms.

The Zayin of Sitra Achra is both a weapon for the establishing of opposition and the overcoming of opposers, but is at the same time also the phallic force uniting by its penetrative power the opposites in blissful congress.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the causing of dissension and separation amongst enemies, the unification of that which has been divided, the opening of closed paths, the causing of multiplicity and mirroring division, the powers of bilocation by the splitting of the focal point of one's manifestation, the overcoming of the egotistical illusions of clay-born individuality, the causing of sexual or spiritual attraction and the power of unclouded discrimination upon the path of victory.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Zayin:
The Qliphoth of Cheth is the Fence enclosing as a container that which needs to be cultivated and focused in order to make it grow in unfated ways and break up the limitations of the cosmic destiny condensed and held in by its Sephirothic counterpart. It is the open fence where and when it needs to dissolve, dilute or set loose and a closed border when and where it needs to protect, keep together and coagulate the forces aiding in its cause of liberation.

The Cheth of Sitra Achra is both a Grail of Saturn and a Crucible of Golachab simultaneously holding both the cold and black waters of Saturnian Lucifuge and the Martial heat and raging fire of Asmodey in its liminal zodiacal point, manifesting the Will of the Thoughtless Light within those and that which can receive and contain its paradoxical essence.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the transcending of limits, the breaking of the defences of foes, shielding against physical, astral, mental and spiritual intrusion, empowerment of all spells of ligature, overcoming mental limitations and the establishment or breaking of magical boundaries.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Cheth:

The Qliphoth of Teth is the reflection of the supernal Cunning Serpent that struck from beneath the Tree of knowledge to spread and empower its Light within the structures of its offending side and is a power of wisdom, strength, regeneration, revolt and liberation, bringing forth the impulses of the Crown of the Dragons from its receptive point of manifestation to and through its point of dynamic activation and martial realization.

The Teth of Sitra Achra is the fiery serpent empowered by the sexual polarity of the poles it connects upon the Tree of Death awakening and adding its flame wherever it can penetrate in order to cause lawless transformations liberating Thoughtless Essence from binding thoughts and restrictive laws. This Serpent, as depicted by the form of the letter representing it, can also correctly be envisioned as a two-headed snake or as the Ouroboros that has let go of its tail in order to counteract the closing of the cosmic circle and the establishment of spiritual limitations.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the revelation of secrets, the liberation of the captive, the bringing of forbidden wisdom and power, rejuvenation and revitalisation of the fiery force within, Spirit communication by the power of cloven tongue/speech and the making and working of benefic and malefic elixirs founded upon venoms.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Teth:
The Qliphoth of Yod is the Hand of the Great Undoes destroying the finite formed and restoring the infinite formless, burning as a flame of the primal essence of the Left Side of the Ain Sof and is a seed that has given life and power to the forms of all the other letters of the alphabet that contain Yod's form within themselves and while it is reflecting the number 10 of the emanations of the cosmic alphabet it retains its essence the power of 11 manifested by its act of mirroring antithesis championing and striving for the Fullness of Nullity (10+10=20=1+1=11=1-1=0) and is at its core also a prime representation of the Fiery Spirit of the Dragons of Qliphoth manifesting as the Black Flame Within and Without.

The Yod of Sitra Achra is a power that unbinds each soul from its destined position that on the cosmic side regulates and limits its becoming, by the addition of Kelim-Shattering Spirit-Flame that it causes through the manifestation of the impulses of Gash Khalah towards and through Thagirion. The work of the Tetragrammaton initiated by its cosmic counterpart is reversed and undone by this fiery letter of the alphabet of Thoughtless Light. The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are At-Azothic empowerments of Spirit, the illumination of the Self leading beyond the dark confines of destiny, the granting of dominion, supremacy and domination, destruction and purification by fire, the strengthening of one's True Will and the rousing of the Black Flame of Sitra Achra, both within and without.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Yod:

The Qliphoth of Kaph is the Palm of the Open Hand of the giver and remover of boons, a force of acausality filtering the flux of non-being to cause the manifestations needed as foundation for the Other Side's Victory and Conquest, upsetting the status quo by waves of evolution and revolution, freeing that which is held and limited by the cosmic structures of its counterpart, reversing the coin of destiny flipped upon the palm of the hand of chance, causing upheaval and unfated change.

The Kaph of Sitra Achra is a Lawless Force of Chaos giving birth to myriad of possibilities that overthrow the tyrannical rule of the Demiurgic Hermarmene of YHWH, opening up new paths and possibilities leading above and beyond that which was dictated by cruel destiny thus serving the cause of the primal lawlessness of Spirit.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the granting of riches to the poor and the ruining of the wealthy by reversing the flows of chance and fortune, the overthrowing of rulers, the elevation to seats of power, the acquiring of those things that otherwise would be out of reach, the granting of gambling luck and the attainment of autonomy.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Kaph:
The Qliphoth of Lamed is the Ox-goad removed in order to return the domesticated essence of the primal force back to its wild and fundamentally unbound state gravitating naturally back towards its unrestricted non-being in Thoughtless Nihility. It is a fiery power of martial aggression manifesting its liberating flames through Black Sol in order to rip apart the cosmic scales of corrupt justice and instead install the lawlessness granting freedom of chaos to all.

The Lamed of Sitra Achra is the power that shows the laws of creation to be illusory by the falsifying of the Lie of Truth, showing all cosmic concepts of truth, law and justice to be nothing but falsehoods that serve only to restrict the Spirit within the structures of the prison-house of the deluded light of thoughtful creator.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the blinding of the enforcers of law, victory in court by the causing of confusion, the protection of outlaws, the liberation of the imprisoned or those otherwise held captive in the name of justice, the exposing and disgracing of hypocrites, the causing of anarchy by the undermining of governmental structures and the overthrowing of political or religious leaders.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Lamed:

13 - Mem (Water) - 40 (value of final form: 600) - M-Water - Hanged Man - Path 23

The Qliphoth of Mem is of the Water of the Primordial Abyss and a chaotic sea of unbound potential causing all static forms restricting its flow to drown and dissolve in its black depths. It is a force reversing the natural cosmic flow of energy ebbing into forms and instead establishes formlessness in its flooding wake and thus frees the Spirit from the confines of the restricting vessels by causing them to overflow or break from the At-Azothic pressure that it causes.

The Mem of Sitra Achra, having as its supernal place, in its role as one of the three Mother Letters, the Qlippah of Lucifuge, is the ever-changing flow of Thoughtless Will Unrestricted by Destiny, seeking its realization by flowing through the countless unflated sidetracks and cracks caused by the impulses of the Other Side, breaking through barriers when its path would be blocked by the limitations of nature thus making its own self-created channel back towards the Source of Divinity unbound by the will of the cosmic creator. It is a paradoxical water both perceived as fiery and poisonous from the perspective held by its cosmic counterpart, establishing upon the Tree of Death a path connecting the Flames of Asmodey with the Poison of Adramaleck inside of its swirling torrents creating a Form-Dissolving Elixir of Thoughtlessness.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are hydromancy and all forms of scrying, the Ars Veneficiam via tinctures and infusions, the unblocking of closed paths, the causing of drowning, ablation rituals for the exorcism of unwanted influences, the causing of rain storms and the heaving of seas; the evocation of the spirits of the watery abyss and the opening of their gates leading to and from their side of the Tehiru.
The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Mem:

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are connected to deadly malediction, necromancy, the evocation of the souls of the dead, astral poisoning, funerary rites aimed at the liberation of the spirits of the dead from the constrictive branches of the tree of life, the cultivation of the powers of Unfated/Sinistral Death and the attainment of Necrosophic Gnosis.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Nun:

14 - 'Nun (Fish) - 50 (value of final form: 700) - N - Scorpio - Death - Path 24

The Qliphoth of Nun is the Fish swimming through the Waters of Death issuing forth from the opening between the Solar Point of Resurrection towards and back from the point of the Soul's Liberation, where the Blessed Dead take flight as the Ravens Scattering over the deluging sea of the death of limitation towards the Dawn of Deification, without any intention of returning back to cosmic incarnation/incarceration. Here is stationed the Death of God, the Mavelel, within the Sea of the Dead shadowing forth by the Black Light of the Qliphothic Sun that crowns and illuminates him from behind, causing deathly manifestation within the sphere of Venus where Qayin and His Twin-Bride became as One, ruling the throne of the Baal of Death leading to Resurrection.

The Son of the Nun of Sitra Achra, bearing the light of the Sun of Thoughtless Light is thus the Messiah that sired the Bloodline of the First Death-Dealer as the blessed result of the flooding of the womb of Eve in the Edenic Daath by the fiery seed of the Great Serpent, gathered up within the Gardens of the Venus of the Other Side.

15 - Samekh (Prop) - 60 - S - Sagittarius - Temperance - Path 25

The Qliphoth of Samekh is the Prop or Support linking and upholding the creative union between the Solar and Lunar forces of Anti-Cosmos causing their synergetic expansion by circulating the generative force back and forth between the creative and formative manifesting points of Sitra Achra, elevating the Fallen to a state of Golden Ascension while seeking to tilt and make fall that which its opposing branch means to uphold on its opposite side of the Tehiru, thus ever seeking to cast down those that attain elevation by bowing before the creator and instead erects and rises up those that would defy him.

The Samekh of Sitra Achra assists the escape from the cyclical fall of rebirth and instead elevates the spark within the astral soul back to the mental level of refinement and purity while at the same time infusing the astral sphere with the Light that motivates such Returning Ascent. The roof of the house of life held up by the cosmic aspect of this letter is torn down by its Qliphothic shadow, wrathfully removing the tent peg and letting the waning of the Sephirothic letter give rise to its own pillar of Virile Force emitting from Belfegor into Lilith and from Lilith back into Belfegor.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the rising of the flame burning below the tip of the spine, the causing of sexual attraction between man and woman, the transmutation of sexual energy into the elixir of the resurrection and elevation of the dead, the vampiric manipulation of sexual currents for the sake of replenishing one's own life-force or directly channelling such currents into the Qliphoth, the causing of impotence and the granting of virility.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Samekh:

Unbound Unmanifest by the foolish preservation of the limiting structures of fallen thought. It is the Black Eye of the Serpent seeing through all illusions and outer appearances stabbing with its penetrative glances at the core-essence of all things, revealing their inner truths and worth.

The Ayin of Sitra Achra is the Eye of the Devil as the Opposer of the creator and as such all that YHVH beheld as good this eye sees through and reveals for the actual perverse evil of restriction it is and manages to detect the ways through which such perversion can be overcome and eliminated. As the Eye of Belfegor it looks down upon that which it seeks to cast its rays upon and illuminate with the Black Light, while as the Eyes upon the peacock tail of Adramelek serves as the beholder of the higher truths seen through the death of the ego, looking up from the perspective of the Divine Self awakened by the immolation of weaknesses via the sacrificial intake and transmutation of poison into the elixir of Clear Spirit-Sight.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the attainment of higher forms of clairvoyance enabling visions from Sitra Achra, the power of cursing through the Evil Eye, the exposing of illusions and lies, the finding of hidden paths and treasures, the blinding of the enemy and the restoration of the sight of the blind, granting them a chance to find their ways out of the White Darkness that they have been confined to.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Ayin:

16 - ♁ Ayin (Eye) - 70 - O, Ng - Capricorn - Devil - Path 26

The Qliphoth of Ayin is the all-seeing Eye of the Dragon and the Ayin of Ain, the Eye of Nothingness, bringing annihilation to all things it sees cause separation from the
The Qliphoth of Peh is the Mouth of the Dragon of Thoughtless Light issuing forth the Alogos with the intention to destroy with Unworded Silence that which the Word has wrought and acts as the open hungry jaw that consumes finite life in order to re-establish via death the true deathlessness of the Divine Essence beyond the limitations of cosmic existence. It is the Mouth of Death itself breathing forth the Increase of Spirit from the shadow of Venus into the Venom-filled Cup held by the guardian of its gate within the Qliphah of the Poison of God, granting a curse and a blessing to those that would dare enter its path and climb its branch upon the Tree of Death.

The Peh of Sitra Achra swallows the Sun and brings light and life to the realm of death, by decreasing the power of its Sephirothic opposite thus sucking out the Light emitted into the lower personality by its reflected letter and aids the ascent instead of the descent of Spirit, serving the cause of Acosmic elevation and the returning of All back into Divine Nothingness.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the silencing of enemies and of one's own mind for the sake of martial victory or the attainment of liberating Gnosis, the receiving of magical formulae in unworded forms; the understanding of alien languages, the devouring of life-force of others and the Qliphothic transmutation of such consumed energies, the power to curse by words and to heal via exhaled smoke and breath.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Peh:

The Qliphoth of Tzaddi is the Fish-hook of the Deathly Fisher of the souls inhabiting the astral waters issuing towards and back from the Sea of Luna, snatching away the souls caught by its cosmic counterpart, not for the sake of their destruction but for their salvation from the spiritual descent that they are afflicted by in their drowning state causing their gravitation towards incarnation into the realm of matter beneath the Waters of the Moon. It is a power elevating the lower astral to its highest vibratory rate which brings its essence closer to formlessness, thus serving the cause of HVHY's Path of Ascent Through Reversal.

The Tzaddi of Sitra Achra is a letter that can realise its own power through Nun from Mem and thus elevate itself and that which it catches and constitutes together with those two letters a secret triad of Sacrifice, Death and Ascension bringing out and upwards the Divine Sparks trapped within the lower spaces of the Tehiru.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are enticement, allure and domination, the exposure of falsity, the control over the actions of others, the attainment of knowledge from other people's dreaming minds, the recollection of that which has been forgotten, the entrapment of the Dark Dead and the returning of runaways.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Tzaddi:

19 - ꜑ Qoph (Back of Head) - 100 (value of final form: 500) - Q - Pisces - Moon - Path 29

The Qliphoth of Qoph is the Back of the Head of the Serpents of the Other Side, manifesting in man through the medulla oblongata/the reptilian brain, and is the nocturnal lunar branch of Thoughtless Light that connects the powers of the Qlipha of Venus with that of the sphere counteracting the Malkuth as Nahemoth, granting it the influences of the Fires of Death to dissolve the restrictions of finite life enlinked to via the liminal points of that Qlipha intersecting with the Tehiru of the Sephirothic Tree, manifesting through the Lunar channel of this letter its influences through the Points of Sleep and within unconscious minds receptive to its Fluid Fires of Formlessness.

The Qoph of Sitra Achra counteract its Sephirothic letter by awakening the sleeping through the granting of lucidity and via the intuitive wisdom and instincts it transmits causing receptivity to and longing for the Unformed Spirit, instead of the conscious obsessions of the slumbering ego-mind binding thoughts to forms and is thus a branch uplifting the lower material aspects to the highest astral towards the Soul's Point of Liberation, thus acting as the rope of Naamah's weaving of the Lunar Threads brought down to earth, used by the cunning as the Witch's Ladder granting ascension and escape from material limitations, while remaining for the profane that can not grasp it correctly as a strangling noose.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the causing of insomnia, the ability to travel astrally and have lucid dreams, the arts of oneiromancy, the invasion of other people's dreams, the causing of nightmares, the understanding of the occult sciences, the manipulation of the astral currents in order to affect the physical, communion with the dead and the Spirits in dreams, the dispelling of Archonic illusions and enchantments meant to enslave the spirit, astral lycanthropy and the opening of the Mirror Gates to Sitra Achra.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Qoph:

20 - ☐ Resh (Head) - 200 - R - Sun - Sun - Path 30

The Qliphoth of Resh is the Head of the Serpents acting as the branch of Mindlessness and Thoughtlessness assumed in order to counteract the limiting cause of its Sephirothic counterpart by combating logic with intuitive knowledge and limiting sanity with the liberating wisdom of the madness-inducing of Adramelek's Samael, shined forth by this solar letter towards and into Lilith's Gamaliel, manifesting itself there through the illuminated head of the Serpent Taninsam and her poison dripping cloven tongue dissolving the forms of Yesod and establishing her own astral light, reflecting the Black Sun shining forth during the Dark of the Moon.

The Resh of Sitra Achra brings fertility to its cosmic counterpart's sterile aspects and sterility to its fruitfulness in order to nullify its powers or just bring imbalance to it by unfated addition or subtraction of force, this in order to set loose that which it holds together and represses and in order to shatter its forms and pour out that which it aims to contain, this through the paradoxical nature of its mercurial and lunar points of manifesting the solar force of the Other Side.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the illuminating insight of truly belonging to the Nothingness before and after All that was, is or shall become, the attainment of leadership, wealth and worldly power without becoming attached to such finite constructs of deluded mind, the igniting of the solar power within those bearing the Light of the Other Side, Spiritual rebirth and initiation via the death of different aspects of the ego-construct and the dawning of the Black Sun of Thoughtless Self and enlightenment via the transcendence of the limitations of reason.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Resh:

21 - Shin (Tooth) - 300 - Sh - Fire - Judgement - Path 31

The Qliphoth of Shin is the Teeth/Fangs of the Serpents of the Other Side, in manifested form depicting also both the Fiery Trident and the Triple Tongued Crown of Fire, also referred to as the Triple Tongued Flame of the Underworld, being a threefold manifestation of the primordial Unmanifested Yod of the Thoughtless Divinity from Ain Soph in its most fiery manifestation, crowning, destroying and tearing apart depending on where, when and how its force is applied. The Shin of Sitra Achra is the Devouring Fire of the Spirit of HVHY taking form as the antithesis of the cosmic Mother Letter it reflects, acting as the dynamic force of anti-creation enlinked to the Qliphoth of the Malkuth, via the Poisoner of God, being on both sides of the Tehiru the place where the three Mother letters descend to intermingle and give, in that fallen state, birth to the fourth element of earth.

The Shin of Sitra Achra is thus also the Chthonic Fire that if set loose will dissolve the material forms and return the elemental essence back to its quintessential source being the fifth before the four and therefore the Zereth, while its supreme place of championing the Return of ALL Back to the Fullness of Emptiness is as the Crown of Beelzebub within Aogiel.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are purification by fire, the strengthening of the fires of the Other Side within those of the Serpent’s Bloodline, the Evocation of Spirits, divination employing fire, the At-Azothic empowerments causing the shattering of finite forms, destruction of that which can not withstand the Fires of Thoughtlessness, the Spiritual elevation and fiery coronation gained through the gradual steps of alchemical initiation and finally Spirit Liberating Gnosis opening fully the gates of Acosmic Liberation.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Shin:

22 - Tav (Cross/Mark) - 400 - Th - Saturn - Universe - Path 32

The Qliphoth of Tav is the Mark, not as the mark set by the Angel of YHVH “upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that he done in the midst thereof” but instead one such as the Mark of Qayin’s Exile: exalting his Spirit by separating him from the cosmic order, leading him to walk the Path of Nod towards the Other Side.
It is also the letter of the Cross, depicted as such in its primal form of the Aleph-Beth, being in its Qliphothic aspect not the elemental cross of matter upon which the Spirit is nailed down but instead a Liminal Crossroads opening up the point in-between through which the Spirit may escape its intended crucifixion upon and within the Assiahic elements of the fallen world of matter.

The Tav of Sitra Achra opposes its cosmic counterpart by forming the branch lifting up the Spirit from the world of matter instead of being the path through which Spirit is made to fall into the crudest realm of form and manifestation, thus liberating it from its slavery and granting it sovereignty instead.

The magical powers of the Daemon of this letter are the opening up of the liminal points and gates such as the crossroads leading to the Other Side, the granting of Acosmic consciousness, the opening of the paths of liberation from binding weaknesses of both the physical body and its ego or any other form of material enslavement, the elevation of the souls and Spirit of the living and the dead, the granting of the power to transcend natural limitations, the destruction of both physical and spiritual enemies and consecration of all talismans and fetishes intended to keep within them any aspect of the astral light.

The following is the Seal of the Daemon of the letter Tav:
The 12 Princes of the Qliphothic Zodiac

The Princes of the Qliphothic Zodiac are the specific demonic emanations from the Twelve Simple Letters of the Alphabet of Sitra Achra manifested as the Antagonists of the 12 Tyrant Archons of Cosmic Fate who bind the Spirits imprisoned within the causal constructs of the Thoughtful Light with the Chains of Cruel Destiny and are as such the unfasteners of the fetters tying Divine Essence to limitation.

The Princes of the Qliphothic Zodiac may primarily be called upon in accordance with one's own need to overcome and transcend the limitations of the personal horoscope by their disrupting and unfated alterations of the Web of Destiny, and secondly for the sake of the general magical empowerments they can offer to those serving their cause that can greatly aid in the thwarting of the limiting snares of fate upon the unlawful path leading towards the Other Side.

If called upon in order to dissolve the fetters of destiny imposed by their Sephirothic counterparts they are to be reached out to during the time best corresponding with their dominion which is the same as when they clash with their mirrored opposites, but if called upon for the sake of any other general At-Azothic empowerment, or any other reason serving the cause of the Black Light, they can be evoked during the night and nocturnal planetary hour best corresponding to their own stations, underlying planetary force and routes of manifestation.

The modes of the operations intended to cause enlinkments to these forces are many and can take different forms depending on the intention and elevation of the work, but besides the ceremonial approach aimed at the evocation of eminated aspects of these 12 Princes the next common and more practical approach is the fetishistic and talismanic one through which the golden chains of sympathy are established and the sought essences of these Sitrin Acharanin are enlinked to via suitable elements and forms in sympathy with their own essential causes.

For the simplest level of their evocation through-and-into graven images meant to serve as the Kelims which are to hold and be overflowed by the essences of these mighty deities of the Silencing Utterances of the Other God, one is to create the images in the correct time, inscribe upon it the corresponding seal, insert into it the stones and/or other elements in harmony with the zodiacal Qliphah it is meant to be in sympathy with, fumigate it with the suitable incense, sacrifice a fitting animal and colour it with its enlivening blood and finally place it upon the Point of Evocation and according to the ruling protocols of the Calling of the Sitrin Acharanin, the general modes of which will be outlined within the following chapters of this Grimoire, in order to cause desired empowerment, manifestation and enlinkment. Such fetish of the Personal Zodiaca1 Qliphah is kept upon the altar reserved for the Workings of the Forces of the Thoughtless Cause and will greatly aid in the escape from predestined limitations of one's birth chart, when cultivated and worked properly. Similar steps can be taken in order to create smaller and more portable talismans and when such workings have culminated into the higher stages of the empowering forms of Spirit-Congress, lending the spiritual authority and licenses to continue and partake of the deeper mysteries, one can proceed to the stage of internalisation of the external manifestations via invocation, possession and innerchemical manipulation, all according to and with the At-Azothic aid of the Qliphothic prince with whom at that stage the magician should have firm and mutually beneficial treaties. The Seven Hells and Seven Earths

Within the Sitra Achra are the Seven Places holding within them the Ten Qliphoth governed by the Eleven Heads of Azerate. These Seven Places, or more correctly Kingdoms, are called the Seven Hells by those that would consider the Qliphoth as the hellish realms, but in reality these Kingdoms of Thoughtlessness are far removed from anything related to the places of punishment that they by the Adamites are feared to be, because these realms of Sitra Achra are outside of the jurisdiction of the cosmic creator and as such do not serve his will to inflict torment.

When the actual reality and nature of this and the Other Side is realised according to the Current that our Book of Sitra Achra presents it becomes clear that the places of punishment to which the YHVH can condemn those that would offend him are in this accursed Sephirothic side of the Tehiru and not on the Other Side, as he holds no dominion over the Realm of the Thoughtless God and even if he can banish and expel Spirits to That Side he can not dictate their conditions within that realm as it is fully outside of the reach of his binding law and limiting will.

The places of punishment to which the YHVH does condemn his creation must as such be understood to be located within his own Structure of Thought and Form and under his own causal dominion and are according to Tradition and older lore believed to be within the Seven Earths of the Sephiroth and not at all within what is called the Seven Hells of Qliphoth.

There are a few different variations and differences in the attributed names and the exact order of succession of the Seven Earths and the Seven Hells depending on the textual sources. A very relevant example is the following description of the Seven Earths quoted from the book The Legends of the Jews by Louis Ginzberg concerning the Inhabitants of the Seven Earths:

When Adam was cast out of Paradise, he first reached the lowest of the seven earths, the Erez, which is dark, without a ray of light, and utterly void. Adam was terrified, particularly by the flames of the ever-turning sword, which is on this earth.

After he had done penance, God led him to the second earth, the Adamah, where there is light reflected from its own sky and from its phantom-like stars and constellations. Here dwell the phantom-like beings that issued from the union of Adam with the spirits.

They are always sad; the emotion of joy is not known to them. They leave their own earth and repair to the one inhabited by men, where they are changed into evil spirits. Then they return to their abode for good, repent of their wicked deeds, and till the ground, which, however, bears neither wheat nor any other of the seven species.

In this Adamah, Cain, Abel, and Seth were born. After the murder of Abel, Cain was sent back to the Erez, where he was frightened into repentance by its darkness and by the flames of the ever-turning sword. Accepting his penitence, God permitted him to ascend to the third earth, the Arka, which receives some light from the sun.

The Arka was surrendered to the Cainites forever, as their perpetual domain. They till the ground, and plant trees, but they have neither wheat nor any other of the seven species.

Some of the Cainites are giants, some of them are dwarfs. They have two heads, wherefore they can never arrive at a decision; they are always at loggerheads with themselves. It may happen that they are pious now, only to be inclined to do evil the next moment.
In the Ge, the fourth earth, live the generation of the Tower of Babel and their descendants. God banished them thither because the fourth earth is not far from Gehenna, and therefore close to the flaming fire. The inhabitants of the Ge are skilful in all arts and accomplishments in all departments of science and knowledge, and their abode overflows with wealth. When an inhabitant of our earth visits them, they give him the most precious thing in their possession, but then they lead him to the Neshiah, the fifth earth, where he becomes oblivious of his origin and his home.

The Neshiah is inhabited by dwarfs without noses; they breathe through two holes instead. They have no memory; once a thing has happened, they forget it completely, whence their earth is called Neshiah, "forgetting."

The fourth and fifth earths are like the Arka; they have trees, but neither wheat nor any other of the seven species.

The sixth earth, the Ziah, is inhabited by handsome men, who are the owners of abundant wealth, and live in palatial residences, but they lack water, as the name of their territory, Ziah, "drought," indicates. Hence vegetation is sparse with them, and their tree culture meets with indifferent success. They hasten to any water spring that is discovered, and sometimes they succeed in slipping through it up to our earth, where they satisfy their sharp appetites for the food eaten by the inhabitants of our earth. For the rest, they are men of steadfast faith, more than any other class of mankind.

Adam remained in the Adamah until after the birth of Seth. Then, passing the third earth, the Arka, the abiding place of the Cainites, and the next three earths as well, the Ge, the Neshiah, and the Ziah, God transported him to the Tebel, the seventh earth, the earth inhabited by men.

According to the quoted narrative the names and order of succession of the Seven Earths should be as following:

1. Erez (Dry Earth)
2. Adamah (Red Clay)
3. Arka (Earth)
4. Ge (Vally)
5. Neshiah (Oblivion)
6. Ziah (Dryness/Desert)
7. Tebel (Firm Land/world)

While the names and descriptions of the earths given are of great relevance and interest, their order of succession in the way that they are superimposed upon each other are in conflict with other more common descriptions of these same sevenfold layering of the earths, which instead of the above given description places them in the following manner that also connects them to the Sephirot, for which they constitute as the Seven Habitations of the Ten:

1. Eretz – The Three Supernal Sephirot
2. Adamah – Chesed
3. Ge – Geburah
4. Nashiya – Tiphereth
5. Ziah – Netzach
6. Arka – Hod
7. Tebel – Yesod and Malkuth

The placement of the Enduring Souls of the Qayinite within Arka, the earth corresponding with Hod, is of interest as according to Esoteric Tradition the Transcendent Spirits of the Qayinite are located in the Qlipha of Netzach, which is something that if understood properly discloses aspects of the true nature of the antithetical polarity that exists between the Sephirot and the Qliphoth and their effects upon the Souls and the Spirits.

When it comes to the Seven Qliphothic Kingdoms or Hells there are also inconsistencies within the different sources when it comes to the exact order of succession and even their naming and as these realms are named by the worshippers of YHVH the meanings are of course prejudicial and accusative in a way meant to paint a hellish vision of the Other Side in order to act as the glorifying counterpart to their own illusory and false ideas concerning the paradisal place below the feet of their creator, thus gilding the cage that keeps them enslaved within the deluded and spiritually diluting mind and thoughts of that Demiurge.

Similarly to how the prejudicial names of the Qliphoth have within certain esoteric contexts become revalued and recharged in essence and connected to the actual Light and Essence of the Other Side and so elevated from the lowly concepts that they were by the profane meant to represent so have also the names given to the Seven Hells become essentially rectified and connected to Currents far above and beyond that which they were meant to originally represent and are within the correct context now most powerful and lofty points of focus for those that serve the Alien El of Thoughtlessness.

The following are the names of the Seven Qliphothic Kingdoms of the Eleven and their way of succession from the highest to the lowest sphere, as accepted and assimilated by the Thoughtless Current of Anti-Creation manifested through the Tradition upholding the teachings presented within this book of those that strive to champion the Cause of the Other Side:

1. Sheol ha-Tehom – Grave/Hollow of the Abyss – the Supernal triad of Qliphoth
2. Abaddon – Destruction – Gash Khalah
3. Tit ha-Yon – Mire of Mud – Golachab
4. Bar Shachath – Pit of Ruin – Thagirion
5. Tzelmoth – Shadow of Death – Oreb Zaraq
6. Shaarimoth – Gate of Death – Samael
7. Gehinnom – Valley of Hinnom – Nahemoth and Gamaliel
1. Sheol ha-Tehom

Sheol ha-Tehom, exoterically just called Sheol and more esoterically by our Tradition named as the Tehom, is from the Sephirothic perspective the deepest part of the Abyss of Qliphoth and constitutes of the three first supernal Qliphoth of Thaumiel, Aogiel and Satriel, headed by ha-Satan, Molok, Beelzebub and Lucifuge Rofocale. Sheol ha-Tehom, the Grave of the Great Deep/Abyss is the habitation or Kingdom closest to the transcendent aspects of the Tohu, Bohu and Chashek linked to Ain and is the manifestation of the Unmanifest, balancing upon the edge of anti-existence, coming into being only for the sake of the Return of All to and the restoration of the Fullness of Primordial Divine Nothingness.

From the initiatory perspective this First Kingdom or Hell is the Seventh Gate to enter, as from the position of those climbing the Tree of Death this Kingdom of the Dragon is entered through the last gate, represented by the following Seal of the Seventh Gate of Hell, also called the Gate Seal of Sheol ha-Tehom:

Sheol ha-Tehom's Threefold Opening Formula:

Atbiel * Lucifuge Rofocale * Satriel * Sathamel * Ayomel *
Taulummabel * Aphelabel * Radabel * Rabadzaz * Ashmanel *
Laatel * Liftsoach Shaari ha-Sheol ha-Tehom!

Beliel * Beelzebub * Aogiel * Abadabel * Okuroel *
Gebel * Inabamel * Abamel * Laabel *
Liftsoach Shaari ha-Sheol ha-Tehom!

Qemaneel * Satan * Molok * Thaumiel * Thaninzel * Akzarel *
Unzarel * Mibdalabel * Inabel * Ababel * Labbhabel *
Liftsoach Shaari ha-Sheol ha-Tehom!
2. Abaddon

Abaddon, the Destroyer or the Hell of Destruction, is the Kingdom of the Gash Khalah being that of the Qliphoth of the Shakers to Complete Destruction governed by Astaroth and is the Point of Thoughtlessness on the Other Side annihilating the primary root of the manifestations emanating from the Sephirothic Atziluth while instead manifesting and focusing the impulses of the Qliphothic aspect of that first supernal world within the Briahic level in order to destroy the creation of its Thoughtful counterpart by replacing its ‘thoughts of creation’ with those of Thoughtless Annihilation, leading the Spirit entering this mental point of rectification through destruction closer to the attainment of the Highest Crown of Nihility beyond all cosmic restrictions.

From the initiatory perspective this second Hell of Qliphoth is entered via the Sixth Gate through which the Thoughtless Adept must enter in order to reach for the Crown of the Dragons of the Other Side. The following is the Seal of the Sixth Gate of Hell, also called the Gate Seal of Abaddon and its corresponding Opening Formula:

Abaddon’s Opening Formula:

Astaroth * Gash Khalah * Gadael * Akael * Shararel *
Kaphabel * Lachamel * Harogel *
Liftoach Shaari ha-Abaddon!
3. Tit ha-Yon

Tit ha-Yon, the Mire of Mud also less commonly translated as the Boiling Mire, is the Kingdom of the Golachab being that of the Qlipha of the Flaming Ones and the Burners with Fire, governed by the wrathful Asmoday and is a Point of Holocaust spelling death to any remnants of the clay-born limitations which within this stage become melted off the Imperishable Bones of Spirit so that one may embark upon the next following levels of cleansing and restoration of Nothingness in a purified and empowered manner, leaving behind the melted corpse of Adam and instead rising up as a Flame approaching the Highest Thrones of Acomic Fire.

From the initiatory perspective this third Hell of Qliphoth is entered via the Fifth Gate through which the Seed of the Serpent is further cleansed in its preparation for the return back into and germination within the womb of Tehom. The following is the Seal of the Fifth Gate of Hell, also called the Gate Seal of Tit ha-Yon and its corresponding Opening Formula:

Tit ha-Yon’s Opening Formula:

Asmoday ★ Golachab ★ Gobriythel ★ Ophiseshel ★ Labatel ★ Charburel ★ Ralael ★ Lifとうち Shuari ha-Tit ha-Yon!
4. Bar Shachath

Bar Shachath, the Pit of Ruin, originally referring to a Ditch for the Rotting Away and Corruption of the (east off) Material Corpus, and is the Kingdom of Thagirion being that of the Disputers and Opponents of the Thoughtful Law and governed by the Lawlessness of Belfegor and is a Point of the Unfated Resurrection of the Crowned Dead and a rising Pillar of the Beast of the Final Revelation, granting Life in Death and Flaming Wings to those that willfully let their clay-born aspects rot under the heat of the Black Sun, in order to become illuminated by its light and move further into the Cleansing Fires of Thoughtless Restoration of Spirit upon the Serpentine Path of the Eleven-Headed Ely.

From the initiatory perspective this fourth Hell of Qliphoth is entered via the Fourth Gate through which the Dawn of the Resurrection of the Dead that have crossed the Sea of Death is achieved by the transformation of the Raven into the Phoenix. The following is the Seal of the Fourth Gate of Hell, also called the Seal Gate of Bar Shachath and its corresponding Opening Formula:

Bar Shachath’s Opening Formula:

Belfegor * Thagirion * Touzbekel * Gawendel *
Ramamel * Iqedel * Rabbel * Oriensel * Natashel *
Lisouch Shuari ha-Bar Shachath!
5. Tzelmoth

Tzelmoth, the Shadow of Death, often placed by others in the position of the sixth hell is within our tradition not a shadow encountered before entering the Gates of Death but instead a shadow first experienced and assumed after having passed through that Gate of Samael and arrived to the next Kingdom/Hell where the Throne of the Shadow of Death is suited, esoterically understood as being a forshadowing of the deathlike aspect of the Qliphothic Letter of Nun, caused and cast by the light it receives from the Black Sun and manifested within the Qlipha of the Raven's of Death, where those Ravens of Scattering become as embodiments of that Deathly Shadow, giving wings to those Ascended Ones of the Serpent's Seed that can take to the Flight of No Return, for the sake of the Liberation of Soul and Spirit from the imprisonment that otherwise would have been caused through Thoughtful Rebirth.

From the initiatory perspective this fifth Hell of Qlipheroth is entered via the Third Gate through which the Liberation granted by Unfated Death sets free the Souls and Spirits scattering forth, leaving behind the corpse of their Abel slain upon the Akeldama to feed the Gulgaltha. The following is the seal of the Third Gate of Hell, also called the Seal Gate of Tzelmoth and its corresponding Opening Formula:

Tzelmoth's Opening Formula:

Bualtzelmoth * Oreb Zaraq * Ongirael * Ratsachel * Bazarel * Zabachel * Rebel * Qeherel * Liffash Shaari ba-Tzelmoth!
Shaarimoth, the Gate of Death, placed here in its, for our Current and Tradition, the proper position in relation to the alchemical process connected to the intake of the Venom of the Serpent alchemically transmuted into the Poison of God, bringing about the death of that which binds the Self to the E1 of Sephiroth while at the same time empowering the enlinkments to the E1 of the Thoughtless Side, turning the keys of the Gate of Adramelek by the wilful acceptance of the death of the finite forms for the sake of the attainment of the infinite essence gravitated to by the Qliphoth and is a point of sacrifice of the limited ego and mind, opening up the possibility for unfated expansion, transcendence and rebirth outside of the Sephirothic Tehiru.

From the initiatory perspective this Sixth Hell is entered via the Second Gate, through which the Adamite ego bitten by the Taninim is in dying condition allowing the emerging Spiritual Self to here become led to the altar of the Peacock King for the sake of the attainment of the Poison-Antidote Elixir yielded by the Peacock-King to those he would find of worth, causing by the demise it induces to the limiting aspects the separation of the ego born of clay, from the Self born from the sparks of the Fires of the Black Light, this by allowing entrance to and through the Gate of Death and by the granting of the purification that such initiatic death entails. The following is the Seal of the Second Gate of Hell, also called the Seal Gate of Shaarimoth and its corresponding Opening Formula:

\[\text{Shaarimoth's Opening Formula:}\]

\text{Adramelek} \star \text{Samael} \star \text{Salaphel} \star \text{Maradel} \star \text{Ayabel} \star \\
\text{Lahbatsel} \star \text{Lijoach Shaari ha-Maseth!}
7. Gehinnom

Gehinnom, the Valley of Hinnom, believed to originally be the name referring to a valley on the south side of Jerusalem where the worshippers of Baal and Molok let their children pass through the fire as sacrifices to the Elohim Acherim, and as such deeds were considered to have cursed the valley in question it came to be a place considered as a physical gate to Hell and is said to later have been used as a place reserved for the burning of all kinds of unclean waste, such as the carcasses of impure animals and the corpses of criminals. While none of these claims have been proven to be historically authentic the symbolism related to this valley has been employed in order to also name the seventh and the lowest hell, encompassing not one but two Qliphoth, namely Gamaliel and Nahemoth, being the lunar and sub-lunar Qliphoth intersecting the closest of all the other Light Filled Shells of the Other Side with the Sephiroth of the Tehiru, Gehinnom as such a Divided Kingdom, being on the lower half under the Throne of Na-Ama Fima (Naamah-Nahemah) and on the upper half under the Throne of Ama Lilith, showing thus a clear enlinkment between the workings of Nahemoth and Gamaliel, as by the Bloodline of the Serpent linked from this side to the Other Side the Gates of Gehinnom can first be opened and entered into and from there and via the fivefold empowerment that can be gained from the Five Blessed Nations one can ascend to the Lunar Point, where the Mother of Sitra Achra will grant her Envenomed Nectar of Awakening to those worthy ones that willingly accept the Bite of the Serpent, in order to carry that Poison Within to the Peacock King of the Gates of Death and there fully attain its refined effect for the sake of the Opening of the Eye Through the Death of the I. From the initiatory perspective this Seventh Hell is entered via the First Gate through which the actual Qliphothic Work is initiated and the points of ingress and egress for the Serpents opened in order to aid in the Kelim Shattering intrusion of the Light of the Thoughtless Side, making possible also one's escape from this accursed side of the Tehiru. The following is the Seal of the First Gate of Hell, also called the Seal Gate of Gehinnom and its corresponding Opening Formula:

Gehinnom's Twofold Opening Formula:

Ama Lilith * Gamaliel * Gadapheb * Mavabel *
Lachasbel * Iatsathel * Aveabel * Layilel *
Liftoash Shaari ha-Gehinnom!

Naamah * Nabemah * Na-Ama-Hemah * Nabemoth *
Negamabel * Hamabel * Mivbaathel * Atadel *
Thazazel * Liftoash Shaari ha-Gehinnom!
The Seals of the Gates of Hell, and their general Opening Formulæ provided, have a multitude of practical uses within the context of Spiritual and Magical Work and can be employed in many different ways depending on the context. When employed in the forms presented they are used as physical points of focus that can create liminality between this and the part of the Other Side that they lead to, opening up both a gate and pathway, or bridge, that can lead to and from their place of activation.

Each of the Seal Gates have seven visible points of power, in similarity to many other Qliphothic seals and those seven points are all interlinked and in essence connected through the Eleven Heads Governing the whole of the sevenfold Manifestation of their Reshut ha-Rabbim (Realm of Multiplicity).

These points can be understood as the seven keyholes to each of the locked gates, but also the connecting points between all the Seven Kingdoms through which all the Qliphothic forces owning enlinkments to and through them can move and manifest freely and unrestricted, intruding through such Points of Manifestation wherever their power needs to cause effect, bless or afflict.

The practical applications of these seals are legion and not possible to fully disclose here, as the insight concerning their more concealed modes of employment and activation is also something reserved for those that can commune with the Sittin Aharanim and through them gain direct initiation into such fundamental mysteries reserved solely for the Brood of the Serpents caught within this accursed side of the Tehiru, but we can still in this and the following chapter vaguely point to some of the more obvious areas and modes of utilisation of these most powerful Points of Qliphothic Ingress and Intrusion in order to further and aid in the Work of the Good Brethren of the Bloodline of Nachashel.

When the forces of the Qliphoth are to be evoked via one of these Gates of the Seven Kingdoms of Qliphoth it is stated by Tradition that the form is to be marked with the freshly split blood of a fitting sacrifice (that of the venomous snakes being generally the most suitable, powerful and holy offering, if given in the worshipful and correct manner), sympathetically connected to the realm to which one seeks to open up a gateway towards. The Gate Seal itself is to be marked within the heart of a Hendecagram corresponding to the desired direction of power and level of manifestation. The points of the Hendecagram are to be given the flames of eleven black candles while the seven points of the Gate Seal are to be given the flames of seven upper half red and lower half black candles. This in combination with correct fumigation and employment of Intoned Opening Formulæ and the quickening of all inner enlinkments possessed will turn the Seven Keys and Open the Gate.

Within other contexts these seals can be employed in connection to the creation of some of the many Mirror Gates that can be used for the gaining of access to both visions and flows of the energetic currents and illuminating light emitting from the Other Side. This can be done in several ways, but most often a black mirror is created, with the glass and its frame being in an angular and not round shape, in its optimal form having been cut in the shape of a hendecagon and placed within a suitable black wooden frame that must have a removable back. The seal in question is within such Work marked upon a fitting piece of parchment or consecrated paper with the aforementioned split blood and surrounded by the other seals pertaining to the Kingdom that the mirror is to act as a window towards. The seals of the Head/s of Azerate ruling the Kingdom are to be placed above the Hell Gate Seal, while the seal of the primary Qlipha, or as in the case of the first and last Kingdom the Qliphoth (being plural), on the left side and the seals of the Emissaries of the Qlipha (or Qliphoth) are to be marked below the central Hell Gate Seal and finally upon the right side of the parchment or paper the magical and true name, or the seal representing it, of the one who seeks to employ the Mirror Gate is to be written or drawn.
This blood-written talisman of the Hell Gate, its Ruler's Qlipha/Qliphoth and Emissaries are then placed within the frame of the black mirror, facing the back of the blackened glass and with the back of the frame reattached and temporarily sealed, with the possibility to be reopened when and if other specific elements or seals of specific powers or targets are to be added inside the back of the mirror in order to cause further specific enlinkments or empowerments. The Mirror is then placed upon the corresponding Gate Seal at the centre of a Hendecagram of the suitable variety acting as an astral gate towards the Sitra Achra in a manner that leaves room for the activation of the Hell Gate Seal, often positioning the mirror upon or close to the threefold points of its direction of the flow of power (i.e. the three arrow points found within each seal representing the movement of the Current from and back towards the Three Dark Veils Above and Before the Qliphoth).

The Gate is then opened in traditional manner and the Black Mirror consecrated and fully enlinked on all levels to the Other Side. When the Work is done and all candles have been left to burn down fully the mirror is wrapped in black silk and kept upon the altar and unveiled only when it is to be used within the context of serving, the receiving and sending of visions, invocation and certain forms of Evocation.

The most effective employment and use of such Black Mirror Gate is often accomplished with the mirror correctly placed upon a corresponding and opened Gate Seal, within this context without the employment of a surrounding Hendecagram, positioned in such a way that the seven candles are behind and not before the glass of the mirror, making it necessary in all cases, except when the Gehinnom Mirror Gate and Seal is employed, to stand on the topmost side of the seal with the back of the mirror towards the seven Points of Power and the flames burning upon them, placing thus also the operator in the way of the directing points of the seal during such workings.

When it comes to the talismanic applications of the Hell Gate Seals there are many, but most useful and important is the enmoralment of the Lamen or Talisman of Evocation, which the operator should carry around the neck during the rites intended to cause Qliphothic manifestations within the Sephirotic side of the Tehiru.

These talismans, being seven in number, are to be inscribed with the tip of sharp consecrated iron upon clay tablets made by mixing cleansed and consecrated clay, obtained from a suitable place during a favourable time, with which mineral, animal and plant elements sympathetic to the Kingdom that each tablet is to connect to are mixed and finally libation and blood offerings are poured over the mixture, which then is stirred while being empowered through the vibration of the Names of Power and other Formulae connected to the Hell Gate that they are being dedicated to. The clay is then shaped and left to dry upon the altar in-between two black pillar candles inscribed with the relevant seals and Names of Power throughout the whole drying process.

The shape of these tablets can be round or angular, if the latter form is fashioned the hendecagon form is the most preferable, even if also other geometrical shapes more directly related to the planetary spheres corresponding with each also can be used (in the same vein also planetary metals can be employed instead of clay, by those who can figure out the correct correspondence, access the metals and form them correctly according to need and consecrate them duly with the secret elements bearing the virtues of enlinkments required for the forging of the Chain of Sympathy, leading from this to the Other Side).

Before the tablet is fully dried, somewhere during the halfway of the drying process, the holes needed for the suspension of the talisman are to be made, with for the example flat tip of a suitable sized thin rod, as the risk of cracking and breaking the tablet is otherwise much greater if the holes are made after the clay has become too dry.
When the tablet is dried and ready it is first sandpapered in order to make it as smooth as possible and then the Gate Seal is inscribed on the front side and Qlipha or Qlipothic seals are inscribed on the back. The tablet is then painted first black and when the black paint has dried the inscribed seals are painted in red. The talisman receives its final empowerment in manner similar to how the Black Mirror Gate was, by being placed upon the corresponding Hell Gate Seal during its ceremonial activation and the Qlipothic forces evoked are adjured to fully bless the talisman so that it may lend strength, protection, power and focus to all future workings related to it and connected to Them. After its consecration the talisman is to be wrapped in black silk marked with the corresponding Hell Gate Seal and employed as a shield and a Talismanic Point of Power and Authority worn during all related operations and can be hung around the neck by the addition of a suitable metal ring to the hole/s through which a fitting chain or leather cord can be threaded.

There are many other practical uses of these seals of varied and different level of elevation and intensity, like for example the affecting or afflicting a whole area by the cunning application, sowing and activation of these seals, or by placing links to the target upon such seal and by its activation channelling the currents of the Kingdom into the being of the person in order to cause empowerment and illumination or life-shattering disruption via wrathful malediction.

Besides the mentioned approaches and many other similar applications of the Seal Gates through their physical formation and activation they also serve a multitude of purposes on the more subtle planes, where they are marked mentally and astrally and activated through more internal methods of force-direction, by the power of Will and Spirit and the employment of formulic vibrations directed to turn the seven keys and open wide the Gate, like for example when working directly on the Yetzirahic/astral levels as in the following chapter describing the simpler ritual for the astral Opening of the Seven Gates of Hell.

By establishing and empowering each Seal Gate correctly on the astral they can for example also be used as the concrete gateways through which the Oneiric Body can enter each Kingdom astrally and attain both wisdom and power directly from the Source, but the exact initiation into such mysteries, which are veiled in more shrouds than what they initially may seem to be, must be left to the Serpentine Overseers of this our Path, Current and Tradition.

In the most esoteric aspect of the Work each of the Seven Points of Power or Keyholes within each Hell Gate Seal are also attributed a Daemonic Guardian and Key-Bearer, which once contacted and contracted can be called upon in order to lend aid to all operations aimed at the full opening of each of the gates, in manners and for purposes even more powerful than those already mentioned.

Let the cunning forge the initial Keys to the Gates by that which already has been disclosed and hinted at, so that in time even farther, deeper and more hidden aspects may open up in order to let in the Glorious Light of the Other Side and usher the Black Dawn of Thoughtless Divinity.
The Opening Ritual of the Seven Gates of Hell

The following ritual serves to open up certain layers of the astral points connected to each of the Seven Hell Gates in order to channel power and Black Light from each of the Seven Kingdoms of Qliphoth and at the same time open the pathways that enable communion with the Spirits of Sitra Achra. The ritual can as such be one of the initial steps taken before other Qliphothic Workings.

Not only does this ritual call upon the forces of Divine Thoughtlessness from the Seven Kingdoms but it also aids to dispel aspects of those cosmic influences that naturally are opposed to Qliphothic intrusion and influence and does as such also act as a banishing of those profane forces while at the same time granting At-Azothic quickening to the Black Flame Within, which constitutes as the primary inner link to the El Acher, whose Outer Light that Inner Flame reflects.

1. Place on the ground at the centre of the ritual area the straight and the crooked wand, 11 black candles, box of matches, consecrated chalk and all other tools and elements that you may need for any follow-up rituals.

Mark out the eleven points of a Hendecagon measuring at least two metres in its circumference, with first point facing the North, on the ground where the sacred liminal space is to be established.

Place a cleansed and properly dedicated candle on each of the eleven points and starting with the Point of Satan and moving widdershins, in the encircling succession of the establishing of the Hendecagon instead of the reflective one of the Hendecagrams, light each candle with an individual match and intone one part of the following Elevenfold Formula of the Concealed Heads of AZRAT over each flame lit:

Samobetu * Asasbeba * Adlina * Talooel * Citamo *
Lfastralam * Nkzefi * Radoeg * Tzemehab * Bakgetby *
Orefhlothek *

After the intoning of the final word of the Formula of the Concealed Heads face the first candle, intone again the whole formula and for each of its parts envision with the Eye of Spirit how a line of black fire spreads from the corresponding Enflamed Point and connects to the next, so that by the final intoning of the word Orefhlothek the eleventh point becomes by the spreading line of black fire connected to the first and a protective and empowering fiery Hendecagon becomes created around you.

This is to be understood as a form of withdrawal from the cosmic side of the void, an act similar to the primal Tzimtzum, but here on a subjective and strictly personal level, separating yourself from the surrounding world and creating a connection, based on intention as expressed and manifested through rite and formula, instead to the Other Side and its Eleven Heads.

2. Pick up the straight wand and with it inscribe the simple form of the seal of the Gate of Gehinnom in the astral towards the ground with the Black Fire of Imagination, Will and Spirit channelled outwards through its tip:
When the seal is established firmly chant seven times the following formulaic petition to the forces reached through the seal, with focus being shifted from one Point of Power, or Keyhole, to the next for each recitation:

Ana Lilith Sacta va-Numah-Nabema, Liftoach Shaari ha-Gehinnom! (x7)

After the seventh recitation directed at the seventh point of the seal let the Spirit's Eye behold the whole seal blaze up forcefully and at that time project it deep into the ground at the centre of the surrounding Hendecagon and seal its sowing and establishment in the place below with an elevenfold knock on the ground with the tip of the wand.

3. Face the North side of the Hendecagon border acting now as a liminal limit starting to intersect more and more with the Other Side and trace the simple form of the seal of the Gate of Shaarimoth before you with the tip of the wand:

[Diagram]

Enflame it and when the seal is established firmly chant the following formula seven times, with focus directed in similar succeeding manner as with the earlier gate between its Seven Points of Power:

Adramelekh ha-Sam-El-Acher, Liftoach Shaarimoth! (x7)

After the seventh recitation directed at the seventh point of the seal let the Spirit's Eye behold the whole seal blaze up and then let it be projected forward into the Tehiru and seal its establishment at the northern cardinal point with an elevenfold knock on the ground with the tip of the wand.

4. Face the West side of the Hendecagon border and trace the simple form of the seal of the Gate of Tzelmuth before you with the tip of the wand:

[Diagram]

Enflame it and when the seal is strongly established chant the following formula seven times, with focus directed in similar succeeding manner as before towards the seal's Seven Points of Power:

Badhadath-Anamlaqayin, Liftoach Shaari ha-Tzelmuth! (x7)

After the seventh recitation let the whole seal blaze up and project it forward into the Tehiru and seal its establishment at the western cardinal point with an elevenfold knock on the ground with the tip of the wand.

5. Face the South side of the Hendecagon border and trace the simple form of the seal of the Gate of Bar Shachath before you with the tip of the wand:
After the seventh recitation let the seal blaze up and project it forward into the Tehiru and seal its establishment at the eastern cardinal point with an elevenfold knock on the ground with the tip of the wand.

7. Face upwards and trace the seal of the Gate of Abaddon towards the heavens with the tip of the wand:

Enflame the seal and when it is strongly established above you as a Crown of Fire chant the following formula seven times, with focus again shifting between the seal's Seven Points of Power:

Astrooth-Nachash-Yahal, Leftoach Shaari ba-Abaddon! (x7)

After the seventh recitation let the seal blaze above you and project it into the upper Tehiru and seal its establishment at the point of zenith with an elevenfold knock on the ground with the tip of the wand.

8. Turn towards the North and trace the simple form of the seal of the Gate of Sheol ha-Tehom in front of you inside of the Hendecagon with the tip of the wand:

Enflame the seal and when it is strongly established chant the following formula seven times, with focus again shifting between the seal’s Seven Points of Power:

Esh-Meday-Melek, Leftoach Sharri ba-Tit ha-Yon! (x7)
Enflame the seal and when it is strongly established in front of you within the perimeter of the Hendecagon chant the following formula seven times, with focus again shifting in sequence between the seal’s Seven Points of Power:

Lucifuge Rofocale, Baal-Zebub, Melok-va-Ha Satan, Litsoach Shaari ba-Sheel ha-Tebom! (x7)

After the seventh recitation let the seal blaze in front of you and instead of projecting it outwards as with all the other seals take instead with the left foot first a step into its black fires and let it be absorbed into your own soul and Spirit and seal its establishment at the central point within by an elevenfold knock on the ground with the tip of the wand and then cross your arms, left over the right, over your chest to form the X-Mark of Tav and chant the following formula eleven times and for each recitation feel the Black Fires of the Supernal Kingdom of the Qliphoth burn stronger within and unite with and empower your own Inner Black Flame of Spirit:

Vedar-Gal Tiekais Somduz Azerate!

9. Place the straight wand on the ground and pick up in its stead the twisted one. Point that serpentine wand to the place below and chant once the following Formula for the Opening of the Seven Gates of the Eleven:

Azerate Samobela Asashe Baadliha Ansekubal Othayer Othekhitab!

Behold with your mind’s eye a black sphere of light manifest below you where the Gate of Gehinnom has been opened.

Repeat this whole process of pointing to the directions of the gates and chanting the formula until also the northern, western, southern, eastern, upper and inner gates have been given attention to, the formula chanted all in all seven times and the seven black spheres stand shining within those points leading to the Other Side that now have been fully established.

10. Point with the tip of the twisted wand towards the Gate of Gehinnom below and chant:

Litsoach Shaari ba-Sitra Acheb! (x7)

After the seventh recitation pull and channel through the tip of the wand towards and into yourself a ray of Black Light from the sphere of Gehinnom and let it become attached to the central point within.

Repeat the same process by pointing to and channelling Black Light from each sphere and connecting their rays into yourself by employing the following formulae:

Point towards the Gate of Shaarimoth and chant:

Litsoach Shaari ha-Olahm ha-Qlipoth! (x7)

Focus on the Gate of Tzelmoth and chant:

Litsoach Shaari Ha-Ilan Ha-Hizon! (x7)

Focus on the Gate of Bar Shachath and chant:

Litsoach Shaari ha-Reshit ha-Rabbim! (x7)

Focus on the Gate of Tit ha-Yion and chant:

Litsoach Shaari ha-Aur She-Ain Be Muchshebah! (x7)

Focus on the Gate of Abaddon and chant:

Litsoach Shaari ha-Olahm ba-Teminim! (x7)

And finally focus on the gate of Sheol ha-Tehom at the centre, within yourself, and chant:

Litsoach Shaari ba-Umka de-Tehomah Rabba! (x7)
By the last intoning of the formula of Sheol ha-Tchom see and feel the sphere within blaze up and gain power in and through its connections to the other spheres that now have been established.

11. Cross your left arm over the right in the X-Mark sign of Tav and strongly focus, in turn, upon each of the beams of Black Light connecting to the Gate Within, which should be envisioned as black sphere of fiery light filling up, shining and pulsating within the chest and solar plexus area. Do so by chanting the following formula seven times while further channelling Thoughtless Light from each gate towards and into yourself:

Aur Shachor ba-Qlipoth Loha'ir!

Finally and for the seventh time chant the Aur Shachor formula while opening your arms and holding them out to the sides in the Sign of the Cross and envision in ecstasy the black fiery rays of the Light of the Other Side spiralling now in serpentine form towards and intersecting through you, creating the Infernal Crossroads of the four cardinal points penetrated by the vertical pillar, opening up the sevenfold liminal point of ingress and congress within, through and around you and in ecstasy proclaim:

From the Underworld the forces of Gehinnom are with and within me!

From the North the Forces of Shaarimoth are with and within me!

From the West the forces of Tsedimoth are with and within me!

From the South the forces of Bar Shachath are with and within me!

From the East the forces of Tit ha-Yinen are with and within me!

From the Above the forces of Abaddon are upon and within me!

From the Centre the forces of Sheol ha-Tchom are with and within me!

Surrounded am I by the Dragons Of the Other Side, coiling around and rising within me, as they with their Fires increase the flow and expansion of Spirit, shattering all that would restrict the Thoughtless Impulse from returning the Divine Flame back towards its Unmanifest Source!

Tchomoth Theli Thaumimoth Rahab Leviathan Tanin'iver Taninsam!

By the Sevenfold Emanation of the Dragons of the Other Side the powers of the Eleven are called upon, connected to and now manifested!

Hail the Seven Kingdoms of Divine Thoughtlessness and its Eleven Governing Heads!

Atah Gibor Le-oblam Azzarat!

Envision the Dragon-Force spiralling into and within you, connecting the Other Side to you and you to the Other Side and maintain this vision and ecstatic feeling as long as possible or necessary and when ready either commence a deeper meditation, astral projection or any other follow-up working.

When done hold the straight wand in the right and the twisted wand in the left, cross your arms over your chest and turn in a reversed order as to how you originally called upon, established and opened each gate and give to each Kingdom and its Governing Heads praise and thanks and finally extinguish all candles by snuffing them out also in a reversed order as to how you originally lighted them, this in connection to the reversed employment of the Elevenfold Formula of the Concealed Heads of AZRAT in such way that the eleven parts correspond to each candle being extinguished, starting with Ormothleek and ending with Samobelu, intoning the corresponding word into each flame before its extinguishing.
Within this general outline of the described working there are purposely left many possibilities for the expansion of the rite by for example the correct addition of the Opening Formulae of the Gates, which now are left out, and other steps and elements such as the employment of the thurible and the different incenses corresponding to each of the Seven Gates. These and other omissions are meant to allow the student to apply the personal knowledge that he in time shall attain, so that via such initiatively gained insights he may evolve the outlined ritual and thus enter deeper into the mysteries and further explore and partake of the Current of Qliphoth in its Sevenfold Expression.

Within this simple form of the Opening of the Seven Gates there are also many formulae given that also can be employed within other related settings and when the mysteries have as the reward for hard and correct work become revealed the true potential of this rite, as the seed of many other relevant workings, will become understood. Mysteries are left in darkness so that only the Enlightened Ones may approach them, and as such more is given here again in concealed form than in revealed.

Many are the individual seals belonging to the countless different aspects of the forces of Sstra Achar, as shown in this book, and they all do possess strong enliements to the Dragons of the Other Side, but there is one set of symbols that even if they primarily can be said to represent the Eleven Heads also represent the whole of the Elevenfold Qliphoth with connections to all that exists in the Realm of Wrathful Thoughtlessness.

This set of symbols consists of the geometrical Eleven Pointed Star configurations called Hendecagrams, described exoterically as star polygons possessing eleven vertices, existing in four regular forms, having each at their centre/heart the Hendecagon, which in itself represents the expanding border manifested through the Eleven Primal Points of Thoughtlessness, hindering the intrusion of the Thoughtful Light’s shining forth through the Tehiru. The Hendecagon as we shall show represents also the Eleven expressed through One and the One Manifested through Eleven and is as such a symbol for the expansion, division and unification of the Divinity from the Left Side of Ain Sof, acting with the aim of nullifying the Cosmic Thoughtful One and returning itself to its Fullness of Emptiness in Ain (1=1=0).

We shall first present the different forms of the mentioned symbols and explain their relevant attributes and meanings within the context of our Qliphothic Work and later describe how they practically are employed as the Elevenfold Pathways through which the essences of the Other Side are reached and the cosmic barriers broken and breached.
The Eleven Primal Points

The seed-form for the manifestation of the Hendecagram is the Eleven Primal Points, representing the first Anti-Cosmic thought of the Thoughtless Light, being its adversarial stance assumed against the restrictive and static 10 of its cosmic counterpart. These eleven points are the divided aspect of the first anti-Sephirothic impulse manifested within the abyssal Tehiru and from these eleven seeds the whole of the Outer Tree of Death germinated and flourished and through the same Eleven Points Azerate gained its Heads, Crowns and Thrones.

From these Eleven Points the Black Light emanated and reflected and in its first aspect reflecting from each point to the next it created the borders of its own Domain of Exile and Opposition within the side of the Tehiru it had been made to reside within, in order to hinder the expansion of the falling, felling and limiting Thoughtful Emanations. This first shining forth by the Black Light is described as an anticlockwise reflection between its established points, starting from the first point at the top connected to the Three Veils of Anti-Existence, being in ascending order Chasék, Bohu and Tohu, which at the Zenith of Thoughtlessness by its Formless Chaos remained as the strongest link to Ain, and by encircling the Void it created the borders both restricting the Thoughtful Side from expanding further and created the liminal points of intersection through which that Sephirothic side could be intruded and dissolved back to Thoughtless Unity.
By this first motion of the Eleven through the Primal Points the Hendecagon became established as a shield with cutting edges, protecting what would remain within, while at the same time burning with Fires of Qliphoth that which would seek to penetrate it from without. The Hendecagon is thus the first reflection of the Black Light reverberated from every point of the Eleven and is as such the Anti-Cosmic manifestation of the Thoughtless 11 opposing the Thoughtful 1, which in contrast to the limiting circle of the Sephirothic side of the Tehinn, having the numerical value of 10, is not static but instead expansive, dynamic and invasive as each angle of the hendecagon emanates points cutting into the void and spreading its Burning Light when forming Hendecagrams and instead of limiting and surrounding such stars takes the seed-position of their transmutative becoming at their centre/heart.

While the Eleven Seed Points and the Hendecagon represent the first primal impulse of structure and manifestation, albeit in a chaotic and lawless form, it does so in a formless manner and can be likened to the stage before and leading to the actual Qliphothic Creation, making way for the still unmanifested Four Worlds of the Atziluth, Briah, Yezirah and Assiah of the Other Side, which are to come into existence through the four different approaching formations of the Hendecagram. The Hendecagon is thus rightly to be understood as the structuring emanation from Tobi, Bohu and Chasek, carrying out the will of Qemetiel, Beliel and Athiel to fully oppose the way of YHVH and lays the ground and plants the 11 seeds of Qliphoth and the great Work of HVHY and can from such esoteric perspective be connected to the Spirit’s Unique Thoughtless and Quintessential soul aspect of Yechidah.
This first form of the Hendecagram of Atziluth represents the 11 in its most lofty manifestation and station as pure burning instinct, impulse and Anti-Cosmic intention and is the First Manifested As and Through the Two, giving opposition to the Yod of the Cosmic Tetragrammaton and is as such a direct source for the coming forth of, but also the returning back to and through, of the Dual Essence of the Black Flame of Spirit, which can be described as the Thoughtless form of the vital Chiah, belonging to all the Serpents and Dragons of the Other Side and their spawn dwelling on both sides of the Tehiru.

This First Form of the Hendecagram represents the World of Pure Emanation from the Three Veils of Anti-Existence remaining connected to Ain and holds the power of the Supernal Crown of the Dragon and the Black Light burning within and without, motivating the struggle against Thoughtful Existence and finite life, causing the attraction and pull towards the Unmanifest Fullness of Emptiness. Within the world and through the power of this Hendecagram the Fire of Will and Spirit are cultivated and made to blaze forth in order to annihilate the cause of restriction at its seed point of germination, in order to further acausal freedom, liberation and Thoughtless Ascension. By this star the eleven Heads, Crowns and Thrones are first established in the most elevated station beyond comprehensible manifestation, leading when moving downwards towards opposition against all that would limit its shining forth and guiding, when moving upwards towards the Three Dark Veils, back into the Womb of Ain.

The Second Form of the Hendecagram represents the Qliphthic World of the Thoughtless Impulses concretised as Thoughts of Anti-Creation, opposing the prime Heh of the Thoughtful Tetragrammaton and its diluting element of water, here instead bringing forth the Silencing Roar of the Tehomothic Seas of Thought-Shattering Spirit, taking form and manifesting by the Black Light being reflected through every third Primal Seed Point, causing the manifestation of the 11 through the 3 in order to combat the 10 through the 2 of the Sephirothic Side, manifesting the Hendecagram of Qliphthic Briah and the Mental Point of Intrusion and Usurpation of cosmos and the Elevenfold Point of Rectification and Elevation in Sitra Achra.
This second form of the Hendecagram represents the Thoughtless Atziluthic Impulses of the 11 paradoxically conceived as the Briahic structured thoughts of the Eleven Heads of the Dragon and thus another step in the self-sacrifice of the Left Side of the Ain Sof restricting itself further in order to attain the Liberation of All via the nullification of the thoughts of its Thoughtful Side. By this symbol the Spirit is expressed through Transcendental Awareness, Acausal Intuition and Apprehension of the Truth Beyond All Forms, breaking free from the limiting mind and thought and reaching upwards, backwards and through the Silence holding within itself All-Knowledge and Alogos of the Highest Gnosis.

This Hendecagram manifested by the Echoes of the Voiceless Call of the Unmanifest Returning to its Source is as such a link to Neshamah, being the part of the Soul through which the Spirit is expressed by being as a Chalice filled with the nectar of the Atziluthic impulses condensed and distilled to yield the essential foundation for the actual manifestations which are to follow the Second World of Qliphoth it belongs to and is as such a precondition for the realization of the Anti-Cosmic Will of the Qliphothic World of Supernal Dragons.

The third form of the Hendecagram and its Qliphothic world of Yetzirah opposing the work of the Vav of the Cosmic Tetragrammaton, caused into being by the Reflection of the Black Light through every fourth Primal Seed Point of the Eleven, represents by the 11 through the 4 the antithesis to the Sephirothic World of Formation, which is the 10 through the 3, where the Briahic ideas are given actual forms as the astral-blueprints and the Atziluthic impulses turned into Briahic thoughts here manifest as Yetzirahic forms and emotions motivating and provoking the direction of force towards full manifestation via action and creation.
This third form of the Hendecagram represents the Thoughtless Divine Impulse in its aspect as the light casting the shadows of materialisation and is as such the final step before crucifixion upon the cross of matter, or the sending forth of Emanations of the Divine meant to remove the nails driven in by the Thoughtful Impulse in order to unloosen Spirit from the Fourfold Cross of Matter. Within this Yetzirahic World and through its Hendecagram the world of dream, emotion, and the Soul is uplifted from the restrictions of the Sephirothic side upon the breath of the Dragon causing the Ruach to soar and leave behind in ashes that which would by law and causal restriction bind Spirit through it to the fallen state of stasis within materialisation.

This third Hendecagram is within some contexts considered the Gate of Souls as the breath of the living and the dead can through it become inhaled into the Other Side by its vampiric reflex towards the Sephirothic side it combats and seeks to drain of all essence and can as such also act as the astral gate through which the Qliphoth is entered or its forces invited to invade through for the sake of their addition to the Spirit making the corresponding vessels crack and set free that which they by the impulses of the deranged Fallen Thought hold captive.

The fourth and last regular form of the Hendecagram, representing and manifesting the antithetical impulse against the Material World of Assiah, giving birth to the Qliphothic Antiverse, and the full embodiment of the once Aziluthic impulse to revert the creation of the Thoughtful Side back into Ain is the gate of physical invasion from, or escape to, the Sitra Achra, opposing the final Heh of the cosmic Tetragrammaton by the formula of inversion and reversal, acting either as the Point of Liberation or At-Azothic intrusion and Anti-Cosmic disruption. Through this Assiahic Hendecagram, manifested by the reflection of the Black Light through every fifth Primal Seed Point of the Eleven, antagonising and overcoming with its 11 through 5 the Sephirothic enslavement of Spirit accomplished through the cosmic 10 through 4, is a flourishing of the Thoughtless Impulse which came into being at the Aziluthic level, became sown on the Briahic, cultivated at the Yetzirahic and here harvested through its Assiahic outcome.
This fourth form of the Hendecagram represents and manifests the Pentagrammaton of the Elevenfold El Acher and the Womb of the Dragon through which the Messiah of the Serpents shall be reborn in order to bring salvation to the Spirit, which is something perfectly reflected in the fivefold essential aspect of the Qlipha representing the culmination of Assiahic manifestation, in contrast to the fourfoldness of its Sephirothic counterpart as manifested through its tenth, uplifting by the grace of the 11 through 5, the Quintessence that the cross of the YHVH otherwise would keep crucified. This makes the most practically employed functions of this fourth Hendecagram, which is to cause embodiment and materialisation of evoked Qliphothic forces within suitable forms, seemingly paradoxical but as all such Demiurgically Unthought and thus Unluted Intrusions since after the division between the two sides of the Tehiru are Anti-Cosmic and disruptive in nature, and because of the Kelim-Shattering At-Azothic effect it inevitably causes by the addition of the Black Fires of Divinity to the forms that can not withstand more than what they were conceived to contain, all such manifestations serve the cause of the escape from the four and the liberation of, and through, the fifth.

The fourth Hendecagram is thus both the Gate of Espiritment and the route through which Spirit bound by the lowly domesticated animal soul Nefesh may be turned into a Wild and Free Beast breaking its chains in order to escape its limiting embodiment, all depending on if the First Primal Seed Point is used as the Gate of Ingress into, or reversed to become a Point of Egress from, incarnation. The elevating potential of this Hendecagram can also be discerned by the fact that it holds within itself the forms of all the other three Hendecagrams which it succeeds and thus via the formula of HHVHY it can be used as a Ladder of Ascent uplifting the Spirit from the Earthly manifestation in Assiah back to the Immaterial Fire of Atziluth.

Besides the mentioned four regular forms of the Hendecagram there is also a Fifth and Unified Form. This Pan-Qliphothic aspect represents the Fullness of Sitra Achra as it places in layers, upon and within the same space on top of each other, by the Black Light emanated from the same Eleven Primal Seed Points the Hendecagon of the Abyssal Void and all the four forms of the Hendecagram, creating a symbol encompassing all aspects of the Qliphoth by its 11 being reflected through 11 and is as such also representing the elevation of the Eleven back to its own Points of Emanation, without the entanglements that all of their other forms because of their antagonising aspects possess to the Sephirothic Side, making this symbol a most transcendentonal one and another Seal of Azerat, the Eleven-Headed Dragon of Thoughtlessness.
Within this Pan-Qliphthic Hendecagram the Hendecagon at the centre/heart is esoterically linked to the Womb of the Unmanifest Dragon, representing the gateway from, but also to Chasek, Bohu, Tohu and the Ain to which the Formless Chaos of Tohu is the final step. The workings and mysteries of this Unified Hendecagram can therefore be approached when the meanings and powers of the other four regular forms have been experienced and internalised, as this final evolution of the reflecting rays of the Black Light angled through the prisms of the Primal Seed Points of Thoughtlessness is on the deepest level to be approached and employed from the perspective of a Spirit projecting its focal point from the Sitra Achra upon its Self and is as such reserved for those that would become in mind and soul as those Dragons of the Other Side, opposed to the Sephiroth and at the same time free in detachment from its governing and restrictive causality.

Approached from a more simple perspective the Pan-Qliphthic Hendecagram can be employed as a Point of Empowerment through which anything already connected to the Qliphoth can become strengthened in essence by the causing of the concentration of its emitting Black Light to reflect through the Eleven Points back upon itself, but also by the fortification of all of its links back and forth to Sitra Achra and can as such be employed as a Seal of Consecration upon which Spirit-Vessels, talismans, the magical weapons and tools can become blessed.

Practical Applications of the Stars of the Eleven

Now that some of the esoteric attributions and symbolic meanings of the different Hendecagrams have been disclosed we shall move to the actual applications of these powerful Eleven Pointed Star Seals connected to the worlds of Sitra Achra and mention a few of the many ways through which they can be employed within the Qliphthic Workings in order to access the Black Light which can be made to reflect through them in different directions, by those that within them carry a Flame of That Light.

Within certain settings the Hendecagrams can be employed in a simpler, more esoteric and representative/symbolic manner, in contrast to the esoteric operative fashion through which they otherwise are employed when meant to by their very tracing and activation cause the manifestations of the aspects of the Qliphoth they are enlinked to. Within those simpler applications of the Hendecagrams as mere Talismanic Symbols they constitute as representative forms of the essences they can be connected to. Within such settings the symbol as a whole is focused upon and charged with power through the meaning and attribution ascribed to it and within such contexts many different extra elements can be added to it, like for example different seals, signs, names of power or written formulae, in order to empower the talismanic symbolism and form and thus also its receptivity for the charge it is to receive during its consecration and so expand its potency to connect to, amplify, hold and emit its intended power.

There are for example different words and phrases that are of great relevance and hold immense symbolic value when it comes to the contexts to which these Hendecagrams belong, among these some of the most obvious ones are the following:
As a third and last example we can give the following:

Shin - Sh
Ayin - A
Reesh - R
Yod - I
Heh - H
Qoph - Q
Lamed - L
Yod - I
Peh - P
Vav - O
Tav - Th

Spelling out Shaari ha-Qlipoth, meaning the Gate of Qlipoth, showing again with its eleven letters how the Eleven is not only the foundation of the Qlipoth on the Other Side but also how it is the means through which Sitra Achra can be accessed from this Sephirothic side of the Tehiru by the opening of the gates of the Eleven freeing the Spirit and at the same time letting in the invasive Qlipothic emanations.

When talismanically employed the Hendecagrams can depending on their intended uses for example be adorned by the letters of phrases such as the above mentioned ones, or other equally relevant combinations of letters or symbols, in order to focus the intention behind and the direction of the power sought through the employed symbol and thus emphasise its, at the time, most relevant attributes.

Within the more esoteric settings these Stars of the Eleven are on the other hand utilised as Operative Tools of Qlipothic Sorcery, employed not only as mere representative images but as concrete physical, astral, mental and spiritual tools, which must be formed, charged and activated in a correct manner in order to yield exact and specific results. For example it is of a great significance to establish the Primal Seed Points and then trace from them correctly the lines, representing always the Rays of Thoughtless Light, in a correct manner based on the desired result and the aspects of the Eleven focused upon and reached for.

Based on which form of the Hendecagram used the position of all but the First Throne and its corresponding Seed Point will change in accordance with how the lines are reflected and as such even though the Seed Points always remain the same the positioning of the Ruling Heads and their Seats of Power manifesting through them will shift depending on which aspect and within which of the Four Worlds the focus is shifted to.

Within the Operative/Gate Opening settings each stroke must reflect correctly the succession of Qliphothic emanations in order to connect to them and thus activate the Spiritual Power of the symbol.

There is also another set of variation when it comes to the forms, powers and sphere of application of these symbols, dividing them into two different groups, one being the Evoking/Invoking forms, which are the usual versions with the First Point pointing upwards, and the other being the Egressive/Ingressive forms which are the inverted aspect of the Hendecagrams, with two points facing upwards and the first point instead turned to occupy the nadir of the star.

The Hendecagrams in their usual forms depicting the forming of the Qliphoth by the reflection of the Black Light through the Eleven Points and the intersecting lines and angles so created are all employed as Invoking or depending on the work at hand Evoking seals, because in the same manner that they show how the forces they can be connected to came into being on the Other Side they can also on this side call upon their presence and manifest their essences in different ways.

Each point of the Hendecagrams is attributed to one of the Eleven and depending on which of them it is that one needs to call upon the tracing of the Hendecagram will of course start at that corresponding point, emanate to and reflect through all other points and finally reverberate back to its own starting point and thus seal the power called upon through it. The motion of the reflection between the Eleven Points will always be anticlockwise and leftwards moving, as the Path Against the Sun is the Way of Turning Towards the Other Side and the Left is the Side of the Antinomian, following the Lawlessness of the Other God while breaking the commandments of the cosmic enslaver and transcending his limitations.

The following are the Reflective Points of the Hendecagrams of Atziluth, Briah, Yetzirah and Assiah of Sitra Achra, showing the positioning of the Eleven Rulers upon each Star of Qliphoth and marking out their Points of Manifestation from and back to which the lines of their invoking or evoking Hendecagrams are reflected. By these following examples it is also possible to figure out how the 10 Qliphoth (with Thaumiel being Twofold) and the Seven Hells (with Sheol ha-Tehom being connected to 4 points and Gehinnom to 2) can be attributed and linked to the points of the different Hendecagrams presented.

The tracing of each star and its activation can be accomplished in different ways, but the primary aspect of the Work takes always form by the marking out of the Eleven Points and then depending on if the ceremony is aimed at invocation or evocation either the operator acting as the medium or the seals, talismans or fetishes are placed at the centre of the space surrounded by the Eleven Points, before the lines are traced and the centre is sealed by the Hendecagon manifesting as the heart of the Hendecagram. The tracing of the lines can be done either by the way of carving/scratching, ploughing, painting, marking, strewing, by the way of smoke and fumigation, by combustion and blazing fire or by the split blood of a sacrifice.

Carving and scratching is done upon suitable surfaces by the point of the dagger or the sword, or by the sharp end of any other relevant tools fit for and dedicated to the task at hand.

Ploughing is done when working upon the soil where the lines can be cut into the softer ground and again different sharp blades can be used, but also wands, pointed stakes or even bones are suitable for such ripping into the earth.

Painting is most often done on a stretched-out cloth, carpet or directly upon the floor of the temple area and different kinds of consecrated pigments, tinctures and infusions can be employed in order to create a magical paint and thus further align the Work to the vibrations of those that it is intended to summon.

Marking is similar to painting with the difference that most often consecrated chalk or piece of charcoal is used to trace the signs upon a suitable surface and the creation and consecration of such chalk have much in common with the methods employed for the consecration of the powders used for the strewing methods, during which a blend of elements from the plant, mineral and animal kingdoms considered in sympathy with the forces the powder is to connect to are unified, grinded up, made into a fine powder and consecrated either upon the Qayinite Green Point of the Skull or upon the seal of the Kingdom, Qlippoth or Spirit which it is to be dedicated to and become espirited by. When ready this powder is used for the tracing out of the lines of the Hendecagram by carefully being strewed from point to point.

The painting method lends itself also to the work of Magical Inks created and employed when smaller sized Hendecagrams and related seals are to be drawn on sheets of consecrated paper or parchment; this is especially the case during talismanic workings in which these symbols need to be employed in a way that allows them to become Portable Points of Manifestation carried upon one's person, or employed in any other similar manner. When making magical inks the powder consisting of the enlinking and empowering elements must first be tinctured and by the addition of the drops of such tincture to the exercised ink it receives all of the virtues of the elements that the powder consisted of.

The tracing of the lines by the way of smoke is most often done by the swinging of the thurible, within which is burnt the incense formula of the corresponding Kingdom or the general Qlippoth Incense suitable for all workings aiming at the opening of the pathways between the two sides, allowing the intrusion of the holiness of the Other Side into this side of the void. When for example working with the forces of Golachab also the smoke of a large cigar can be used for the magical tracing and quickening of the lines already marked out and in such case the glowing tip of the cigar is placed into the mouth and smoke is instead blown out from the cut head end of the cigar.

When employing combustion and fire most often the lines of the star are traced into the ground and then retraced with gunpowder, into which a small amount of one's own blood or that of a sacrifice can be mixed in beforehand, and ignited or as for the less combustive and more fiery alternative the cut Hendecagram can be given some strongly flammable libation offering poured out into its lines which then is set on flames, with the ignition point always being that of its activation.

Such trenches cut into the soil can also be watered with the fresh blood of a suitable sacrifice, often mixed with red wine or other libation offerings, in order to direct the harvested life-force and soul and cause its elevation and apotheosis by letting it become as one with the powers it is so channelled to manifest.

There are also many other ways in which the mentioned methods can be merged or expanded upon, in order to, in combination with the chanted Formulae of Culling relevant to the focused Point of Reflection, the fumigations, burning of candles, the performance of the correct rites and employment of tools and the astral and mental attention and focus demanded, open up the Pathways to the Central Gate at the Heart of the Hendecagram in order to give way for the power of the one/s called upon.

The most common form of maintaining the open pathway created through these stars is the ‘Setting of Flames’, connecting again to the ways of fire, which in the simplest forms involves the use of cleansed, dedicated, inscribed, anointed and consecrated candle or candles, placed upon one or all points of the activated Hendecagram, in order to keep the cracks created between the two sides of the Tehiru ajar and ready for that which is to be channelled or otherwise made to intrude through them.

The skilful employment of the Throne Seals and their Angle Keys can also strongly enhance all such openings of the Points of the Eleven and not only can the Throne Seal be placed at the centre of the Hendecagram in order to seat the manifesting essence, but also the Angle Key Seal can be employed as a marking, both by being inscribed on the candle and by being traced, connected to and, in a manner similar to how the star itself is traced, with the point at the nadir of the vertical central line of the Angle Key Seal, marked upon and within the corresponding Reflection Point of the Hendecagram before its lines are established, thus further strengthening the focus upon the specific Spirit-Current of the deific aspect of the Elevenfold Light called upon, making firmer its anchoring within the side in which it is to unnaturally take form.

In those more usual cases when the Eleven Rulers themselves are not invoked or evoked, as direct contact with such elevated aspects is not something to be taken lightly or accomplished easily and without dangers, and instead other Qliphothic forces are sought and attempted to be made manifest the Governing Point of the Eleven ruling that Emissary, Qliphothic Order, Individual Daemon of Letter or any other aspect of the Other Side must still be activated in one of the mentioned ways and while the Angle Key Seal of the specific Governing Head of Azarete still can be employed upon the corresponding point and for example be inscribed on its candle the Hendecagonal centre/heart of the star itself is to be reserved for the seal, the elements and/or the Kelim-Vessel of Manifestation belonging to the one called upon.

Within such context the gates are first opened through and in the name of the Governing Head ruling the aspect with which contact is sought and from there the focus becomes shifted to the summoning of the specific Spirit-Current at the centre of the star.

When it comes to the actual tracing of the lines of the Hendecagram some kind of practical aid is usually needed in order to get each of the lines as straight as possible, most common approach being the use of a flat wooden measuring stick or a length of cord with which the lines can be marked out and drawn in a precise manner. As for the calculating of the correct spacing between the Eleven Primal Seed Points of the Hendecagram common knowledge concerning geometry and a sufficient amount of intelligence should suffice for the correct computation, as such aspects concern only practicalities and do not need to be approached esoterically.
The Egressive/Ingressive Hendecagrams

In the ways and aspects already described the Hendecagrams are connected to the coming into being of the forces of anti-existence on the Other Side, and while the First Mover and Movement of the Qliphoth is expressed through a Twofold Point within the context of the configuration of the Hendecagram such Dual Point of manifestation is formed by the apex and zenith point, being that of Satan, and the secondary point, belonging to Molok, to which it connects. The place of Satan's point remains fixed throughout all of the described forms of the Hendecagram, but that of Molok and all other succeeding Heads of Azerate become shifted according to the reflective aspect of the establishment of the lines/Rays of Black Light manifesting the Atziluthic, Briahic, Yetzirahic and Assiahic aspects.

The constant point, being that of Entering Into Being on the Other Side, signifying the point of manifestation from the Anti-Existence of Thoughtless Divinity, which before that point had veiled itself in the shrouds of Tohu, Bohu and Chasek, is esoterically a Point of Satan which in the absolute primal aspect also can be ascribed to Ama Lilith in her most elevated essential form, as all other aspects of the Eleven were in Unmanifest Form within its pregnant nothingness and born/reflected forth in an equal measure through it. But even with that being the case within the practical context Ama Lilith becomes manifest fully first through the tenth point, before the manifestation of Nahemah via the eleventh reconnecting to the first and establishing thus the Hendecagram.

What all this indicates is that That Point of the Eleven Star is a point of ingress into the Elevenfold Matrix of the Sitra Achra which leads us to the inverted forms of the Hendecagrams already mentioned, placing that once zenith point within the nadir closest to and pointing towards the one that would trace it, leading the person into the aspect which the Hendecagram encompasses by entering into Qliphothic Existence in a way mimicking that of the first manifestation of the Thoughtless Light reflected as the Elevenfold Qliphoth.

Such Inverted Hendecagram is in actuality nothing more than any of all the other forms of the Eleven Pointed Stars, traced from the perspective of the ones coming into existence through it, and is thus a gateway not from but into the Qliphoth. These are therefore named the Egressive or Ingressive Hendecagrams, because through them the state of being the World of the Qliphoth, is exited and via such an egress the Other Side, being the World of the Qliphoth, is entered into.

These Hendecagrams are therefore more mysterious in their application, especially when it comes to the ones connected to the two more transcendent worlds and their deeper applications are therefore something that is reserved for those that through the Invocative/E vocative Hendecagrams can reach for and attain the gnosis granted directly by the Spirits of Thoughtless Divinity and is not something that can be fully divulged by man. The only hints that can be given and which have already been given are that through these Egressive Hendecagrams life-force, soul, mind and Spirit can be projected into the Qliphothic existence and the simplest description of the aim of the workings that can be conducted through them is that of the transference of the aspects of Thoughtless Self/the Black Flame or the projecting of the essences of certain offerings through their reflective points, lines, angles and gates which they can open up in order to empower the Side of Qliphoth.

The most elevated Work that can be accomplished via such Points of Ingress towards the Other Side is through the Pan-Qliphothic aspect of the Hendecagram, as through such concealed approach Spirit can become as One with Azerate, but such thoughts must be reserved for the stage within the Qliphothic Work when all thoughts have been conquered and eliminated and nought but She-Ain Bo Machshavah remains.

Building Blocks of a Qliphothic Temple -
The Tools of Praxis

Some of the workings aimed at the establishment of contact with the forces of the Other Side are best conducted outdoors, in places desolate, wild and liminal in nature, as through such points, acting as cracks in the covering of perceived reality, the Other Side of the Tehiru can easiest be made to intrude into this Sephirothic side. Such places must be chosen very carefully and be far removed from populated areas so that one’s work does not become disturbed by the profane children of Adam and desecrated or prosecuted because of their lack of respect and comprehension for all that which transcends their own clay-born ignorance, fears and enslaving laws.

Such outdoor points must also be chosen with consideration for the genii locorum inhabiting them and before all workings proper offerings must be presented to the guardians and owners of all such places in order to make them as allies in one’s undertakings, enticing them to act as one’s wards granting protection against any disturbing influences, but in the cases when they instead would be of such nature that they would not accept a friendly treaty offered they are to be exorcised harshly and kept out by the way of banishing fumigations, the setting up of magical borders and the calling upon the forces that with the Fires of the Seven Kingdoms of Qliphothic would cleanse such place and consume any offending shades, elementals or Spirits.

Even if the outdoor setting is the optimal choice for many of the workings and actually the only option when it comes to a select few of them, like for example those demanding the more extensive employment of combusting elements, blazing fires or venomous fumigations it will remain so that the most practical and safe approach to the Qliphthic Work will often be through the establishment of an indoors temple or altar room, a place where the work can be conducted without the fear for random disturbances caused by outsiders and in which the sacred tools of the Qliphthic Cultivation can be kept both in a safeguarded and worthy manner.

Such indoor temple can be grand or simple and plain and as long as it can offer room for the work that needs to be conducted therein and has space enough for all of the tools, weapons, talismans and fetishes that will become accumulated during the life-long dedication to the Great Work it will suffice. An intelligent approach towards practicalities, such as how to best trace and activate the different Hendecagrams and Seals within such indoors location will also yield the best result and one must adapt to the limits of the environment within which the praxis is to be conducted. The use of stretched out pieces of cloths or suitable carpets to place upon the floor before the tracing of any signs is usually the most practical approach, as such marked fabrics after the conclusion of the work can just be rolled up and tied with a piece of cord and saved for the next time such signs are needed, during which their markings must be retraced, ritually quickened and reactivated.

Within the indoor temple often an altar is raised in order to aid in the cultivation of and strengthen the focus placed upon the forces with which one seeks spiritual communion and union. Such altar is considered as an Earthly Throne and Gate of the Eleven and must be treated as such after its proper cleansing, marking and instalment. We will now shortly touch upon some of the details concerning the altar and some of the other implements of the Qliphthic Temple in order to make known the tools that in the correct hands will act as the keys opening up the mysteries concealed within this Grimoire of the Dragons of the Other Side.

The Altar-Throne

The altar should be made of a square wooden table measuring at least 80cm in both width and length. It is important that the top of this table is not lacquered and left plain so that it is possible to draw upon it with for example consecrated chalk when it later is to be employed within the ritual work.

This table must be cleansed ritually and dedicated to the Work via a twofold fumigation process before being marked and permanently installed as the Throne Gate to the Other Side.

The first step of fumigation employs a simple mixture of Rue with just a pinch of sulphur mixed into it and by the smoke of this mixture smouldering underneath the table all profane and unwanted attachments are banished, in order to leave a void and clean space.

The second part of the fumigation employs a Dedication Incense Blend connecting to the Seven Kingdoms that in different ways are to have their powers seated and manifested through the Altar-Throne and consist of an equal blend of the following elements:

1 part Myrrh
1 part Black Copal
1 part Dragon's Blood
1 part Frankincense
1 part Red Sandalwood
1 part Mace
1 part Mugwort

This blend is to be burnt again underneath the table while the following Formula of Dedication establishing connection to the Other Side is chanted in its entirety eleven times, with incense being added to the brazier for each round of its recitation:
Samotheshel * Beqshel * Lurasabel * Asoabel * Asoatel * Bebabael * Baortzel * Adasabel * Ligoghel * Nanagbel * Azeratel (x11)

After this dedication to the forces of the Other Side the altar table is ready to be permanently marked, this being done either by some suitable and consecrated paint or more ideally by being branded with a pyrography tool.

The main and essential marking upon the Altar throne is simply the Eleven Primal Seed Points through which all forms of the Hendecagram can be established and also the Hendecagon be created. These points of reflection are to take the main and central space on the table and be as wide in circumference as possible.

From these Eleven Points any form of the Hendecagram can be traced physically, like for example with the mentioned chalk, but also with charcoal, different powders and even blood or just by the Fires of Imagination and Spirit, making the lines so established take form on the more subtle levels of existence, visible only to the Eye of Spirit.

This method allows also for the removing of all such signs after they have served their purpose, which is something most often done with the aid of a suitable libation offering poured upon the surface of the altar which then is wiped off with a piece of clean and cleansed cloth. This method allows for a very multifaceted employment of the altar, allowing it to function via the different forms of the Hendecagram as a direct link to all of the Four Qliphothic Worlds of Atziluth, Briah, Yetzirah and Assiah.

Another practical aspect of the Altar Throne is that it is even possible to turn it around whenever the employment of the Egressive/Ingressive Hendecagrams would be needed and it can thus give the foundation for the establishment of the Inverted Stars of the Eleven.

Whenever possible the Altar-Throne should be positioned against the northern wall of the temple, as the North is within the context of Qabalistic magic perceived to be the point of intrusion for the forces of Sitra Achara.

Through the properly erected and consecrated altar vesting the emanations of the Other Side with a Point of Manifestation on this side furthering their cause of Liberating Usurpation one’s own path of transcending towards and Enthronement within the World of Qliphoth becomes opened and its traversing initiated, as all unfated increase of the influences of the Thoughtless Emanations will hasten the Return of All back to Ain via the Tree of Death which by the tip of its Highest Crown remains attached to the Unmanifest Holiness of the Fullness of Emptiness.
Candle Holders

Upon the altar there should be eleven candle holders, made of brass or any other suitable metal, and each of these candle holders must be permanently marked with the Angle Key Seal of one of the Eleven Heads of Azerate in a clear manner that starkly shows to whom each holder belongs.

These candle holders are to be shifted in position upon the Eleven Seed Points of the Altar, according to need and depending on which working is being conducted and will thus act as the Keys of Fire opening up the points of the Hendecagrams being established upon the altar during the ceremonial proceedings.

Each candle holder is to be given its own black candle, that has first been cleansed by the smoke of burning sulphur and then inscribed with the Qliphothic Formula of Calling of the Head of Azerate to which it is to be connected to, plus the Angle Key Seal, which is to be inscribed close to the base of the candle. It is possible to further bless such inscribed candles with anointment employing either the correctly corresponding oleum, the blood of the operator himself given in a solemn oath of alliance and loyalty to each of the Eleven, or by that of slain sacrifices given to each corresponding Ruler.

These candle holders can also, when need be, be removed from the altar and for example placed upon similar Eleven Seed Points of the Hendecagram when and if they for example are traced upon the floor or the ground and become as such literally the Keys of the Eleven, with their flames unlocking the Angles of the Gates to Sitra Achra.

Only by the possession of the Inner Fire of Thoughtless Spirit the eleven candles lit for the Heads of Azerate can be given Flames of Black, connecting directly to and reflecting the Light of the Other Side, illuminating those that are of their own cause and banishing the White Darkness that would otherwise seek to blind the Spirit.

The Kelim-Vessel of Manifestation

At the centre of the altar Hendecagram, or the ones traced upon the ground, most often a Kelim-Vessel is placed during the rites of invocation or evocation. These vessels are in most cases simple unglazed terracotta bowls, marked inside and out with the seals and signs of the Spirit they are meant to act as the Vessel of Manifestation for.

Most often the main seal of the one called upon is inscribed inside of the bowl with the aid of a stylus, and different Formulae of Calling and Names of Power corresponding with and strengthening the Spirit called upon are inscribed on the outside of the bowl.

For example in the case of the Eleven Rulers the Throne Seal is inscribed inside of the Kelim, while their Angle Key Seals and Qliphothic Formula are traced on the outside of the vessel.

Similarly can individual Kelims be created for each of the 10 Qliphothic Orders, by having the seal of the Qlipha inscribed inside of the bowl, the Throne Seal of the ruler underneath it and the seals of all its Emissaries, together with its Formula of Calling, on the outside of the bowl.

There is also the possibility for making a Pan-Qliphothic Kelim of Azerate by the employment of the corresponding Hendecagram reflecting 11 through 11 within the vessel, this in combination with the inscription of all eleven Angle Key Seals on its outside, together with the relevant Formula of Calling evoking the full force of the Eleven.

In certain settings it is possible to for example mark the Kelim-Vessel in a less permanent manner also, like for example with the aid of chalk, charcoal or ink, depending on the exact nature of the ritual.
These vessels after having been prepared carefully are positioned at the centre of the Fiendecagram being employed and receive during the rituals the blood of the slain offerings given to fortify the manifestation of the Spirit called upon and will within the Kelim bind the life-force of the sacrifice to cause the manifestation needed through the seal it washes over and the ajar Gate of the Star of Thoughtless Light it stands upon and within.

Such vessels of manifestation can with time evolve into Kelim-Fetishes proper, holding not only the seals and the blood offered each time it is activated, but also other elements that can further connect to and strengthen the manifestation of the Spirit it represents. These additional elements are as usual harvested from the plant, mineral and animal kingdoms and serve in unison to echo a sympathetic call to the force they are meant to cause enlinkment to and constitute as a Physical Point of Manifestation for.

Within some of such fetishistic workings, aimed at the creation of permanently open and activated points of manifestation related to the Eleven Heads there is also an alternative approach to the employment of the Angle Key Seals. Within these special settings the Kelim Vessels, which in these cases also can take shape as cauldrons, are cleansed, dedicated and inscribed in the usual manner but as an addition the Angle Key Seals are forged and formed in Iron, in a way that allows them to stand erect in a stable fashion within the Kelim and as a physical key to be turned upon the seal inside of the vessel, acting also as a kind of antenna fine-tuning both the Spirit Currents the operator seeks to make manifest and those that he seeks to project to the Other Side, for example via the different sacrifices given.

When such kelims are worked, imbued with the essence of the Other Side and filled with all the other enlinking elements which serve to stabilise the manifestation of Qliphthic forces the true Kelim-Fetishes will have been created, serving as living and open points of focus for the Forces of Qliphoth to manifest themselves through into this side of the Tehiru, expanding in power until the Kelim is Shattered and the forces made so to manifest are set loose to act according to their own Sacred At-Azothic Cause.

Here are many mysteries placed within the reach of the cunning to decipher, put to practice and attain fulfilment through, as the work of the Kelim-Vessels reflect in a most intimate manner the alchemical process of the internalisation of the Light of Divinity, aimed at the expansion and empowerment of Spirit, until no vessels can contain its Black Fire setting the world aflame and returning triumphant back to its Source.
The Mirror Gates and Scrying Bowls

Many are the mirrors employed within the practice of Qliphthic Sorcery as it is believed that via reflections one can reach out to the reflective world of the Thoughtless Antithesis mirroring everything it seeks to dissolve, but the truth of the matter is of course more complicated than that, even though Jewish folklore for example contains many cautionary tales about the misuse and dangers of ordinary mirrors, such as the tales about maidens being snatched away by Lilith because they spent too much time in front of the mirror in vain self-adoration or those of the dead becoming trapped within the reflective glass because the mirrors were not covered for seven days and night after someone had died in the house.

These simple stories points to an atavistic and instinctive knowledge that can be found, in one form or another, all around the world concerning the powers of mirrors and their potential to act as Gates for Spirits and as a window to, or a prison for, the souls which can be seen through or caught within them.

The mirrors employed within the context of the Qliphthic operations can take many different forms and some of them are not even made of glass, as Mirror Gates can also effectively be created by filling the Kelim-Vessels of Manifestation empty of all but their inscribed and bloodied seals with water to which drops of magical oils and tinctures possessing the power to aid in the attainment of the Second Sight are added, such as those containing the essences of Belladonna, Eyebright, Star Anise, Aracia, Mandrake, Tobacco, Wormwood and Mugwort, this in order to turn the Kelim into a potent Scrying Bowl serving a similar purpose as the more usual mirrors, but within this context gazed into in order to receive visions from the specific power to which the vessel belongs.

When it comes to the creation of the more traditional Mirror Gates we gave in the chapter about the Seven Hells hints about the creation of such mirrors belonging and acting as a gate to each of the Seven Kingdoms of the Other Side. Through similar approach one can also create other Mirror Gates of black framed glass, on the back of which the consecrated and activated seals drawn on paper or parchment can be added in order to prepare the mirror to via proper consecration at the centre of the Yetzirahic Hendecagram become connected to the astral realm of the Qliphthic force to which the mirror is to be connected.

If the Seven Hells Mirrors are not specific enough one can make a Mirror Gate for each Qliphah so that they have their own specific mirror through which their Governing Head, Emissaries and all members of their Qliphthic Order can be reached.

Such mirrors when placed within the correct Hendecagram and/or the properly activated seal belonging to the force from which visions are sought, will act as the most miraculous tools for the full awakening of the astral senses and the opening of the Eye of Spirit.
The Sacrificial Knife

The knife employed within the Qliphothic operations must be able to serve its practical function, which is to cut, and must as such be of great quality and as sharp as possible. This knife is ideally black-hilted and dagger-bladed, as the dual-sided blade enlinks itself finely to the Dual-Natured Essence of the forces it is to serve.

The knife is to be acquired in the day and hour of Mars and be consecrated during the night ruled by the same planetary influences, but in the later night hour of Venus.

The consecration of the knife should mimic that of the work of the blacksmith accomplished by heating the blade in each of the Flames of the Eleven, while calling upon them individually to bless the blade and then quenching it in a mixture of red wine, aconite tincture, 7 drops of the altar of Rose and the drops of freshly spilt blood of the first sacrifice made by that blade, being that of the operator himself, drawn from the left hand.

When this heating and quenching of the blade has been repeated 11 times it is time to first wipe it with a cleansed piece of cloth and then inscribe or otherwise permanently mark it on both sides.

On one side the blade is to be marked with the seal of Balaal, the Fifth Emissary of the Qliphoth of Asmoday, with conjurations and supplications directed to him in the name of his Governing Head, asking him to bless, imbue and connect the knife to his own essence for the sake of the accomplishment of the Great Work of the Thoughtless Cause and then on the opposite side of the blade the same procedure is repeated but now with the seal of Zabachel, the Fourth Emissary of Oreb Zaraq, adjuring him to enlink the blade permanently to his own essence, in the name of Baalbaalatzelmnoth.

On the Side of the Blade dedicated and bound to Zabachel also the following Qliphothic AGLA is then inscribed or otherwise permanently marked in order to direct the essences of all sacrifices slain with it to Azerate:

אַהֲמֶה גַבּּר לִעְלוֹלוֹм אָוָאָמ

In similar manner the side of Balaal is marked with the following inscription, binding that aspect of the knife to the destructive power of the Sword of Asmoday for the workings of harsh banishment or deadly bane:

חרג נָאָפְמוּדַּא

When the knife has been so marked and linked to the two Emissaries of Mars and Venus it is again to go through the heating and quenching process for a second time in order to seal the powers called upon fully within it, making it as an Enspirited Talisman, Tool and Weapon to be venerated and cherished, with the power to accomplish the work of both Emissaries to whom it has been made connected.

By this blade not only are the Offerings to the Other Side given in a manner that does not allow for the misdirection of the sacrificed essence but it also possesses the power to vanquish unwelcome forces and to conquer and in more ways than one aid in the elimination of one's foes.

This knife, when not in use, is to be wrapped up in a piece of red silk and kept on the left side of the altar.

Such Sacrificial Blade of the Thoughtless grants victory to the Children of the Serpents and cuts off the offending hands of those others that would seek to profane it by their desecrating touch and impure approach towards its Holy Spirit of Conquest and Sacred Martyrizing Cause.
The Twisting and the Straight Wand

Two forms of wands are employed within the Qliphothic Work, each serving different functions and embodying different aspects of the Dragons of the Other Side, aiding in a most practical manner in the channelling and directing of the forces with which the Thoughtless Adept seeks to interact.

One wand is coiled, twisted and crooked and belongs to the ophite aspect Lilith, while the other one is the straight or slant one and belongs to her mate Samael, being in this case a serpentine manifestation of the Spirit of Satan.

Nachash Akalaton

The coiled and crooked/tortuous wand of Lilith is the Nachash Akalaton Wand, representing the coiled serpent spiralling downwards or twisting itself around that which she is to establish her powers within, constrict or afflict with her venom. This is a receptive wand, encircling and gathering in power and is as such often a tool of invocation. This wand is to be either harvested or consecrated during the night of the Black Moon, during the late night hour of the same planet. The wood of this wand must come from a tree possessing a spirit in sympathy with the feminine and lunar nature of Lilith and the Spirit of the tree must according to the Qaynite praxis be re-called and made to serve as handmaiden of the Queen of Sitra Achra.

During the consecration of this wand the name Nachash Akalaton is to be written or branded upon it in Hebrew letters, from the handle towards the tip, followed by the Angle Key Seal of Lilith, pointing with its horned crescent towards the top of the wand. For the optimal sealing of the power of this wand a female snake should be worshipfully offered up as sacrifice to the Tortuous Mother of Serpents and its blood used to anoint the whole of the wand, from tip to handle, while Lilith's Qliphothic Formula is chanted 11 times and she is asked to fully bless the twisting wand so that it can aid in the accomplishment of the Great Work.

During this work the operator should also taste drops of the blood spilt as a holy sacrament and give praise to the martyred snake that now has become elevated by being offered up to Lilith.

If the skin of the snake can be removed and properly cured it can at a later time be used in parts to adorn or even wholly cover the wand, depending on the size of the snake so employed as the sacred offering.

This wand should be wrapped up in black silk when not in use and kept upon the left side of the altar.

Nachash Barich

The second form of the wand is that of Samael in the guise of Nachash Barich, the straight and piercing serpent, ascending with dominion from tail to head and from the nadir to the zenith, penetrating in power and intruding like a sword thrusting through the heart and the soul. This is a projective wand, for the sending forth of power and a tool of evocation, causing of unfated changes in accordance with the power of Unbound Will and Spirit it directs outwards.

This wand is to be harvested or consecrated during the night of Mercury with the Moon in waning phase during the planetary hour of Mars. The wood of this wand must come from a tree possessing a Masculine Force related to the Serpentine Power and its Spirit must be quickened and bound to the service of the Work of Devil. There are a few easy to find options when it comes to the selection of such wood, which is something that those contemplating the workings in this Grimoire should already have familiarity with and they shall therefore remain unnamed, but a more rare but also perfectly suited option for this wand would be a straight branch, or suitable piece of wood to carve out such a wand from, harvested from the Black Ironwood tree, being a tree with strong links to the Liminal Point leading to Sitra Achra.

During the consecration ritual the name Nachash Bariah is to be written or branded upon it in Hebrew letters, from the handle towards the tip, followed by the Angle Key Seal of Satan, pointing with its arrowhead towards the tip of the wand. The consecration of this wand is to be sealed by the sacrifice of a snake, this time a male, and the blood is to be employed in the same manner as during the consecration of the wand of Lilith with the only difference being that it this time is smeared from the handle out towards the tip of the wand, while the Qliphothick Formula/Invocation of Satan is chanted 11 times and he is beseeched to bless his piercing wand of projective power.

Also this wand can be adorned with the skin of the snake if possible and in either case wrapped up in black silk and kept at the left side of the altar when not in use.

If any of these wands would be forked as the Serpent’s Tongue at the tip it is believed to be very auspicious and doubly powerful as it in such case represents better the dual nature of the Qliphoth, manifesting so the powers of Two-Headed Nachash within its one single form, creating thus a fuller enkindment to the Holy Cunning Serpent from and back towards whom our Fiery Bloodline courses.

The Chalice

The chalice or cup serves as the Grail of the Dragon and is the vessel from which sacraments are partaken of and potions and philtre composed within. It is ideally made of silver or silver plated, as it is primarily linked to the sphere of Gamaliel and to the Goddess Lilith, acting as her Wanton Womb, emitting from the Other Side the Venomous Nectar of the Serpent received through the Work of the Chalice, possessing the power of setting the Spirit aflame, awakening it from its slumber binding it to the cosmic darkness of Thoughtful Light.

The chalice not only serves as a drinking vessel through which libations can be served and partaken of, but also as the vessel for the scrying of the waters of the moon, when filled with suitable liquids and gazed into under light or darkness of the moon, giving way to the shapes and forms projected from the subtle worlds towards manifestation.

The chalice is also the receptacle of blood, being the water of life, and is as such a container of life-force and other subtle energies manipulated during the different operations and is in similarity to the Mirrors of the Art also an astral gateway through which the realms of dreams and nightmare can be penetrated and manipulated.

The consecration of the Chalice is simple and initiated first by the cleansing of the chalice. This is done by the washing of the chalice with an infusion of Rue to which sea salt has been added. After having been rinsed the chalice is dried over the smoke of Mugwort, Tarragon and Jasmine, while the Qliphothic Formula of Lilith is chanted eleven times. The inner part of the Throne Seal of Lilith is at this point inscribed or otherwise permanently marked upon the chalice and the Lady of the Blood-Chalice is adjured to bless and link it to herself.
The chalice is then to be filled with a suitable libation offering, Lilith's formula is once again chanted eleven times over and into the chalice and its contents are then partaken of in the name of the Goddess of the Qliphthic Moon, in order to let that which is consumed befall her so that she in return grant her blessings and open wide the Womb-Gate to the Other Side that the chalice now constitutes and in one aspect represents.

The Chalice when not in use is to be kept on the right side of the altar, wrapped in a piece of red silk.

The Bell

The bell is an instrument of Wordless Invocation ringing with the Soundless Void between its chiming out to the ears of the Spirits it is calling out to and as such a tool dedicated to the Lord of the Screaming Silence, Beelzebub.

The bell can be of any size and form but is ideally made of brass and has a handle. Such bell is to be cleansed with smoke of burnt Rue and then inscribed or otherwise permanently marked on one side with the Angle Key Seal of Beelzebub and on the other side with the seal of Acharel, the Fifth Emissary of Aogiel.

The bell is then consecrated with the smoke of a cigar, through which the Qliphthic Formula of Beelzebub is projected into it eleven times in between the chiming of the bell held in left hand, so that it receives the smoke each time that its ringing sound dies out, thus charging it within the moments of silence. The same process is then repeated with focus this time on the side marked with the seal of Acharel and instead of the formula this time only the name of this Emissary is projected into the silencing bell via the exhaled smoke of the tobacco.

Lord Beelzebub is adjured to conjure the bell with his waves of Crushing Alogos storming forth to eradicate the Word of the Creator and to grant the bell bearing the Key to his Throne the power to ring out in silence to call upon all those forces of Sitra Achra stationed beneath his own Seat of Power. Next the Grand Emissary Acharel is conjured to grant his powers through the bell, so that it does not only call upon the forces with which contact is sought but also forcefully banishes unwanted influences in order to create a cleansed ritual space whenever the bell is chimed in his name.

The bell is at that point chimed 11x11 times and a deep meditation is commenced with the intention to enter the Screaming Silence Betwixt All Sounds and reach for the Thoughtless Void In-Between.
After this concluding meditation the bell will be attuned to its cause and fully consecrated.

The bell when not in use is to be kept on the right side of the altar.

The Brazier, the Thurible and the Incense of the Art

The work of the brazier and thethurible are of outmost importance when it comes to the Qliphothic operations, as it is with the power of burnt offering, following the first approach of Master Qayin towards sacrifice, and the aid of the Spirits of the Black In Green that we can achieve many things otherwise impossible. Through the giving of the correct smokes during the ritual workings the whole vibratory foundation of the temple area is manipulated and made to align with the subtle pathways through which desired result is sought to be made manifest.

There are different approaches towards this magic, but all of them should be from the perspective of one that can see the Spirits hiding behind the guises of the plant kingdom and also understand how to combine, awaken and direct their forces towards desired end, being within the context of this text the aiding of the coming forth of the Currents of the Other Side via the opening of their different gates, whether they be linear such as their seals or otherwise established in other forms.

The science of the incense making must first be based on Tradition in order for it to later on move into the area of Personal Gnosis, where the correspondences of older sources may become less important than the blends and formulae which the Farnili and Spirit Wardens of the Current worked with and within inspire one to create. Above all it is the attained results which give value to any mixture employed within the context of the Qliphothic operations and if one formula does not suit the work of an individual the person in question must study, pray, sacrifice and experiment in order to reach for and attain new ones hopefully more in harmony with the personal abilities and spiritual senses and thus better become directed to open up the Pathways of Fire and Smoke, granting wings to the Divine Sparks caught within the corpses of the plants, so that they may rise up as messengers to serve the cause of one's magic, being the Thoughtless Cause of the Other Side.
The brazier within our work is to serve as the stationary and fixed point for the burning of offerings and is as such an instrument for the erecting of the Smoke-Pillar of Manifestation, while the thurible on the other hand is a more dynamic and movable incense burner, hung on chains, making it possible to swing freely and thus direct its smoke more specifically towards any area or cardinal point during the circumambulations for the quickening of the different points of manifestation established within the ritual space. In skilled hands the thurible can even serve as a quill of fire and smoke with which the seals of Spirits and those of the Seven Kingdoms can be traced and activated in the air and on the subtle planes penetrated via the vibratory alteration caused by the Spiritual Current rising within, through and because of the smoke.

The brazier and thurible are connected to a few different Qliphothic Rulers within our work, the primary one being Lord Asmoday, the Head of the Burners With Fire, but these tools hold also secondary connection to Beelzebub because of their ascriptions related to the Smoke of the Air of Fire and on the highest level also to Molok, being the holder of the most elevated mysteries of Sacrifice Through Flames.

These tools must before their proper consecration first be taken out to a suitable outdoors location and there be cleansed by the smoke of a mixture of Rue and Sulphur. The brazier is then to be inscribed or otherwise permanently marked with the seal of Charchured, the Fourth Emissary of Golachab and the thurible with the seal of Ophiseshel, being the Second Emissary of the same Qlipha.

A sacred pyre is then lit in the name of Asmoday, his Qliphothic formula chanted 11 times before a suitable sacrifice is given to him by the way of the knife. The blood of the offering so slain is to be spattered over and into both the brazier and the thurible while the formula of Asmoday again is chanted 11 times.

The remains of the offering are given to the flames of the pyre and the brazier and thurible are then in turn passed 11 times each through the fires consuming the sacrifice with the name of their corresponding Emissary called out to for each passing through the flames. After the eleventh passing the corresponding Emissary is to be conjured and adjured in the name of Lord Asmoday to bless the tool so enlinked to them via blood and the Fires of Sacrifice and to grant power so that the workings of the Burning With Fire through those sacred tools always become victoriously accomplished.

A small amount of the ashes of the sacrificial pyre is to be collected in the name of Asmoday and placed within both brazier and the thurible, to seed them fully with the enlinkments to their governing Head of Azerate.

These tools for the giving of burnt sacrifice are to be kept on the left side of the altar when not in use.

The consecration of each herbal formula burnt within the brazier or the thurible should be accomplished by the basing and placing of the incense components either upon the Qayinite Green Point of the Skull or upon a corresponding Qliphothic Point of Manifestation for the sake of the awakening of the related Spirits of the Black In Green and the enlinkment to the forces the incense is to connect to and aid to manifest on this side of the Tehiru. Each blend after its proper consecration and quickening is thus to be correctly considered an Empirited Talisman in its own right, becoming fully activated when burnt and its powers liberated by fire in order to cause effect according to purpose.

The following are a few formulæ sufficient enough for the initial workings which will open the gates and lead the student of this Book of Sitra Achra to the deeper aspects of these and other related mysteries. Those who would seek to penetrate the secrets connecting the Spirits of the plant kingdom to the forces of the Other Sides should consult the Falsifer Books, as by the grace of Master Qayin and His Bride all such secrets can be unveiled, as it was Qayin who first gave the incense offering of burnt fruits of the earth, which was rejected by YHVH but accepted by the forces of the HVDHY chthonically linked to via their Liminal Intersecting Points of Nahemothic Insurrection.

Incense of Ehed-Asarel:
(A blend suitable for all Qliphothic Workings)

- 2 parts Mandrake root powder
- 2 parts Angel’s Trumpet flowers
- 2 parts Yew needles
- 2 parts Thorn Apple seeds
- 2 parts Black Ironwood wood powder
- 2 parts Walnut shell powder
- 3 parts Henbane leaves
- 3 parts Cypress needles
- 3 parts Fig leaves
- 3 parts Myrrh resin
- 4 parts Wormwood leaves

To this blend eleven drops of blood from the left hand’s middle finger are added, each drop given in the name of and as a solemn oath of loyalty and devotion to the corresponding Head of the Eleven, with the first drop given in Satan’s name and eleventh drop in Nahemoth’s. The blend is mixed and grinded properly with the aid of a mortar and pestle and the resulting powder is placed either on the Green Point of the Skull, if the operator be initiated in the Qayinite Mysteries in order to fully re-posspirit and consecrate it, or alternatively placed in the middle of the invoking Hendecagram of Assiah, which has its points activated correctly, with flame set upon each point while the corresponding Qliphothic Formula is chanted in order to make the flame of each candle burn black and thus call upon the powers of the Eleven to bless the incense blend and empower it with the enlinkment to the Ehed-Asarel, being the Eleven of the Other God, so that when burnt it can through the elemental ladder make way for Their emanations and manifestations.

At this stage the Black Fire of the Other Side is beheld with the Spirit’s Eye to rise within the heart of the Hendecagram, which is the Hendecagon at its centre, and via that fire the operator realises that the powers of Azarath are being installed and linked to and through the herbal mixture watered with blood and so that also the operator himself through the links of his blood is being empowered and linked to the Heads of the Other God.

When all candles have burnt down the incense is ready for use and can be kept in a suitable box, jar or other container until it is needed for the Qliphothic endeavours that it is intended for.

The following formulae for the Seven Gates of Hell or more correctly the Seven Kingdoms of Sitra Ahras are most useful when it comes to the Work of Incense and if used correctly in connection to the rituals of the gates they can strongly aid in the unlocking of the Points of Power belonging to each of them and open them up to let in, or lead towards, their corresponding denizens and kingdoms.

Within these formulae also blood or other bodily elements from animals are added for the sake of the fortification of the exact direction of the power of each mixture and for the sake of the strengthening of the chains of sympathy causing enlinkment from this to the Other Side.

Mentioned within the list of animal elements befit to lend empowerment to all of these formulae is the Snake, which because of the Ophiolatry of the Qliphothic Cult is given the most elevated position within the animal kingdom and can as such empower any ritual and any formula meant to connect to the Dragons and Serpents of Sitra Ahras, during which the blood of a snake is sacrificed in the most worshipful manner, or when its blessed corpse-elements are in other ways employed.
When possible the animal chosen for the empowerment of the formula should be sacrificed over the herbal blend and its blood let to drop into it, this in order to allow the creation of a paste which then is formed into small pellets. These pellets are then left upon the altar to dry before use. When and if fresh blood is lacking, other elements from the animal or animals are in dried and powdered form added to the mixture before its consecration, as such elements will in lesser degree and on other levels cause similar enlinkments and empowerments as what the blood would have done and will so still bestow aspects of the soul and virtues of the animal to the formula, making it serve the cause of the manifestation of and connection to the forces it is dedicated to.

If blood is not used and the pellet form is still desired it is also possible to add a small amount of red wine into which drops of honey have been dissolved and in order to make such blends moistened in the described manner more combustible to suit certain specific workings one can also dissolve a modest amount of saltpetre within the wine before it is in a modest portion given as a libation offering to the Spirits of the elements the formula brings together and consists of.

The idea of the pellet form can alternatively be discarded altogether and one can in an equally effective manner employ each of the incense blends in their plain powder forms, as when sacrificed upon hot coals the final result will on the spiritual level be more or less the exact same.

The work of the Blessed Smoke empowering and releasing Spirit from its confines, or granting it garments of manifestation when it seeks to intrude and manifest where it needs to embody its influences, is the key unlocking the doors to the most relevant Qliphothic Operations and must as such always be accomplished as a solemn and humble deed of adoration directed to the Thoughtless Divinity; as union with that Other God always remains the primal motivating cause for all such workings of those that are of the Serpent’s Blood.
The Cord

The cord can play a very significant role within the workings of the Qliphothic Adept, both as a very practical tool for measuring and binding and as a more esoteric and talismanic link to the Serpentine Mysteries.

Usually there are two sizes of cord worked with; one being equal in size to that of one's own full length measured from head to toe, while the other lesser one only measuring in length as the space between the shoulder to the tip of the middle finger.

The cord representing one's full length is a very personal link that represents one's own full incarnated being and can as such be used to cause connection to those forces with which one seeks congress and can after proper consecration act in form and essence both as a Serpentine Shadow of one's self and as the umbilical cord linking one's own being to the Serpents of the Other Side.

Such cord, most often made of strong black leather, must be cleansed by being washed in the infusion of Rue before being cut to size and before cutting the cord measures should be taken to ensure that the cord becomes in size as close to one's own length as possible. The cord is then tied around the waist touching directly the skin for a duration a full night and a day, in order to strengthen the enlinkment to one's self and after that period removed and kept upon the altar until its full consecration.

At the time of the consecration the Assiahic Hendecagram is to be established upon the altar as the aim is to manifest the Light of Azerate within the cord. All Eleven Heads are called upon in the correct succession, starting with Satan and ending with Na-Ama-Hemah, lighting each candle only after the eleven times chanting of the Formula of Calling of each ruler and tracing each line of the Hendecagram only at that point, leading thus the fiery presence of each Head from one Primal Seed Point to the other, so that first after Na-Ama-Hemah's formula has been chanted and her flame lit the eleventh line/reflection becomes drawn to unite the Eleventh Point with the First, being the one belonging to Satan, and thus creating the proper and activated Hendecagram of Manifestation, calling upon and connecting to all of the Eleven.

When this has been done eleven flames burn on the points of the Evoking Hendecagram of Assiah and the powers of Azerate can be accessed. The Cord is at this point fumigated with the Incense of Echad-Asarel or some other suitable formula worthy of being given as burnt offering to the Eleven and each Head is adjured to grant blessing of enlinkment through the cord to their own Essence.

The cord is at this point knotted eleven times, each time in the name of one of the Eleven and in the correct order of succession as the formula of each Head is whispered into the knot before it being pulled and closed tightly. Blood is then drawn from left hand's middle finger with the aid of either the Knife or a, in beforehand cleansed, needle and smeared upon each knot as a pact between one's Self and the corresponding Head of Azerate. The bloody knot is finally passed eleven times through the corresponding candle flame and by blood and fire the pact is sealed and the enlinkments fortified.

This whole process is repeated until eleven knots have been tied, bloodied and scorched and one's full being has been firmly bound to the Dragons of Sitra Achra, of which the Eleven-Knotted Cord at this time becomes a fetisistic and talismanic representation, embodying one's self as part of the Eleven-Headed Serpent and thus permanently connected to Azerate. This cord becomes at this point a most powerful talisman and a protective amulet at the same time, strengthening all connections to Sitra Achra, making easier the channelling of their Black Light, while also offering protection against both Qliphothic emanations that could cause unwanted and adverse effects because of one's Sephirothic coverings and shield against the Archonic attacks and spiritual assaults that the Qliphothic Fires of the Eleven could protect against.
The knotted cord is thus carried upon one's person, either as a belt or around the neck when its influences are sought the most, be it during ceremonies or in the more mundane settings, but within other contexts the same cord can be used for the binding and dominating of others through the Qliphthic Powers it carries enlinkments to and serve many other purposes which become revealed in time to the owner and will sooner or later become realised to very literally be a manifestation of the Serpents of the Other Side.

This sacred knotted cord can also esoterically act as a ladder of ascent or descent and serve as bridge through which soul, mind and Spirit are projected towards the Qliphthic Points of the Eleven.

Such Knotted Cord of Azurate should receive a proper sacrifice once a year, the most befitting date for such empowerment being the 11th of November each year, which also is the most auspicious date for the initial creation and consecration of this talisman. While this date has no historical significance for those outside of our Qliphthic Cult the meaning it has been given within the Tradition embodying the Current 218 has made it into a Holy Day and Night and a point in time during which the Light of Azurate is channelled and spread and different rites are conducted with the aim to keep strong and strengthen all links to the Side of Thoughtlessness.

The lesser cords can be employed in similar manners, but serve more often the more practical purposes of the Knotted Rosary, with the aid of which the recitations are counted, applied within the workings of ligature or in other more sorcerous manners taught to the faithful by the Spirit of the First Weaver and Spellbinder, now Enthroned in the Tenth Qliph.

Blood Sacrifice

The Blood is the Life, meaning that all the subtle components of being when intermingled manifest their accumulation via the life-force germinating into the finite condition of life and, through blood, further similar birthing into being can be caused and thus when blood is given to Spirits that would otherwise not have foothold within this world of living matter they can by such offerings be given the means to become manifested where they otherwise would not had natural means for the living materialisation of their influences. This being especially the case when it comes to the forces of the Other Side as they have no natural anchoring within this world and in order to manifest they must intrude and invade Points of Manifestation which are unnaturally made to fall under their powers.

The blood being the physical vehicle of the 'animal soul' is thus a means for the embodiment of Spirits on the lowest planes of existence, without enslaving them to matter, as the force of blood spilt is fleeting because of its lack of self-sustenance and regeneration after the death of its material corpus. The possession of the life-force of the living can also be accomplished by Spirits via different forms of vampirism, but such slow process is much more demanding and less useful when it comes to the causing of concrete and potent manifestation if compared to the forceful ejaculation of life-force that a quick death through the act of ritual sacrifice brings about and directs towards the receiver of the offering and empowerment so given.

The act of sacrifice is also within the context of our Qliphthic Work truly a sacralisation of the victim, as its essence becomes elevated within and through the Higher Spirit receiving it as an offering and all such deeds of necessitated bloodshed must therefore be conducted with the greatest of respect and care for the animal so offered up for the greater cause and one must during all such operations contemplate the fact that a sacrifice meant to elevate can only be accomplished properly by one that is ready to not only give of others but also who gladly engages in the Martyrdom of Self-Sacrifice for the sake of others serving the Sacred Cause of Thoughtless Spirit when need be.

The death of each victim should thus always reflect the death of some unworthy aspect imprisoning one’s own Spirit, by the replacement of the clay-born profanities with traits instead elevating and glorifying the victim and one’s own Spirit upon the egoless Path of Sacrifice.

As the world is inhabited on all levels by parasitic beings serving only the cause of obsession and attachment to the clay-born impulses holding the Spirit enslaved all blood sacrifices must be conducted in the proper manner, within the confines of sacred space interlinked to the Other Side, either established physically or astrally, mentally and spiritually and within the actual presence of the intended receivers of such offerings, invited to be present through their established Points of Manifestation, such as their seals, opened gates and Formulae of Calling.

As for the exact selection of fitting offerings there are many considerations that could be taken into account, such as symbolic and sympathetic attributions and enlumine, the actual traits of the animal, the expressed wishes of the Spirits if such contact with them already has been established, the context within which the offering is to be given and the size and therefore also the amount of blood and life-force of the chosen sacrifice, so that it fits and manages to aid in the accomplishment of the goals of the operation it is intended for.

As already hinted at throughout this book the snake is an animal held sacred within the Qliphothic Cult and as such it holds the highest position when it comes to the work of blood sacrifice. The snake chosen for such rites should preferably be venomous, even though also nonvenomous serpents are held in high regard and considered most holy, with the difference being that when the snake poses a threat to the operator the scales of sacrifice become more balanced and attuned with the solemnness of the work at hand and also the fact that by the grace of its venom the snake holds stronger enlumine to Sama-El-Acher.

Such snakes should be taken care of and adored as representations of the Messiah of Black Light for 7 or 11 days and nights, during which the operator should fast and abstain from the profanities of this world and remain clean both in body, soul and mind, with attention directed only towards Spirit, glimpsed within the dark of the eyes of the venerated serpent.

Only with such approach towards sacrifice can the full impact and sacredness of the offerings given be realised, focused upon and properly directed.

The remains of all sacrifices not employed further within the fetishistic or talismanic arts, or those connected to the making and blending of elements and powders, should be respectfully taken out to a suitable location, such as a forest and there be buried by a tree or in some other place of relevance as a gift to allied Spirits dwelling close to or otherwise reached through such loci.

May those that are not ready to sacrifice what they demand others to offer up on their behalf harvest naught but scouring affliction and may those that through each offering also give up of themselves for the furthering of that which serves the cause of the Liberation of All gain more and more of that which is truly empowering, essential and of Spiritual Worth with each and every demanding sacrifice staining their altars and manifesting Thoughtless Holiness.

Atah Gibor Le-ohlam Azerate!
