Many hurdles

choosing the right location Government procedures

The image features a 3D-rendered target with a central bullseye and three concentric rings. A dart is shown in mid-air, having just struck the bullseye. The target is tilted slightly to the right. The text 'choosing the right location' and 'Government procedures' is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font, slanted to follow the curve of the target's rings. Three dashed lines radiate from the center of the target towards the text, suggesting a focus or path.
