

Introductory Workshop

April 17th - 19th 2015

Paris, France

Inquiries: psychogenealogy@gmail.com

This unique three-day workshop introduces the latest scientific developments in Transgenerational studies and participants will have the opportunity of experiencing and practicing transgenerational therapy tools and techniques. The workshop will be both dyadic and experiential. This workshop is part of the requirements for admissions to the Anne Ancelin Schützenberger International School of Transgenerational Psychotherapy for a Certificate as PRACTITIONER IN TRANSGENERATIONAL THERAPY (CPTT) which will continue July 20-26 2015 in Torino, Italy. However anyone can attend the workshop in Paris, for personal or professional reasons.

The initiation of this special school grew out of the need to create a joint international effort to continue the unique psychogenealogical approach to psychotherapy developed by Prof. Anne Ancelin Schützenberger. Following the legacy of her meaningful and important work we realized this growing field required a training process for professionals to achieve a focused understanding and knowledge to be more effective in clinical work dealing with transgenerational trauma and positive legacies and its personal, social and historical consequences.

This workshop is open to Psychologists, Psychodramatists, Social Workers, Psychiatrists, Psychotherapists or anyone interested. If you are interested in joining this workshop please fill up the enclosed registration form and send it to: psychogenealogy@gmail.com

Family legacies play a direct role in the formation of emotional symptoms and can cause repetitive patterns of behaviour such as the "anniversary syndrome" or "invisible loyalty" which are repeated from one generation to the next. In order to accommodate to dysfunctional patterns in the family of origin or to deal with unfinished business, future generations preserve their loyalty by re-enacting similar life scripts.

Only awareness allows for disidentification from affective, emotional and psychic experiences of ancestors on the construction of personality.

Some of the clinical tools and techniques which will be demonstrated and taught during the training course comprise the Genosociogram, the Family Atom, the use of Toys, Incognito Auxiliaries, Ancestral Psychodramatic techniques and Transgenerational Bodywork.
