Kienbaum Executive Consultants
Paris – close to the Champs Elysées

Kienbaum SA is the French subsidiary of a German leading HR consulting company. For 19 years, we have provided solutions for our clients that cover their recruitment projects and competence diagnostics.

We have a wide experience in the recruitment of middle and top managers, often within an international context and mainly in direct approach.

Within a team composed of Consultants and Researchers, you will be involved in all stages of our recruitment projects.

Your analytical and listening capacities as well as your well-rounded education more particularly in economics will help you to join the Researchers team and to carry through your various assignments:

- Discovering and understanding sectors and industries related to the recruitment projects
- Identifying and looking for possible candidates being persistent and curious and showing initiatives
- Assessing possible candidates over the phone
- Dealing with various projects simultaneously showing organizational skills, reactivity and adaptability

This internship is designed for Business School, Communication or HR students who are willing to go in for a HR or consulting career within an international context.

This placement could be converted in an open-ended contract according to the results.

A first work experience in an international context is compulsory.
Good interpersonal and organizational skills, team spirit, autonomy, international opening and capacity to cope with stress.

You speak fluently English; French and a third language is a plus.

Conditions: placement agreement/contract

Duration: at least 5 to 6 months, beginning July, September, October 2015
