Introduction

This DataFox Private Tech Companies Report is our curated compilation of top private companies across various tech sectors, including cyber security, ecommerce, cryptocurrency, and many more.

Throughout the year, we've followed these sectors through our lists and smartlists, which are updated regularly and available to all DataFox users. For this report, we have selected 16 sector lists and featured each list's top 5 private companies based on their DataFox Score (see next page for more info).

Along with company funding and investor information, this report highlights the five companies' top investors, keywords, and recent events. The report includes tables, graphs and charts taken directly from DataFox.co and available to all DataFox users.

Best,
The DataFox Team

DataFox Score

The DataFox Score helps users rank the best private companies in any sector, region, funding round, and more. Each company's DataFox Score is calculated from models using machine learning in conjunction with curated training sets. These models analyze our data set of more than 500,000 companies and use algorithms to identify indicators of current strength and future success, including educational prestige, headcount, recent funding, website traffic, noteworthy events, and many others.
