

Commercial Construction: Operations Manager - Atlanta, GA

Blue Ox Construction is a commercial general contractor located in Atlanta, GA with a primary focus in three specific markets: retail/restaurant interiors, commercial office interiors and light medical (ground up and interiors). Work is performed primarily in and around Atlanta but often for repeat clients throughout the United States. The company is part of a holding company that owns and manages various operating entities with active interest in real estate development/investments, architecture, interior design and construction. These sister companies provide the opportunity for unique exposure to other facets of real estate, collaboration and cross referrals for new projects. The overall company setting and culture is highly entrepreneurial, growth oriented and opportunistic.

Blue Ox is actively seeking qualified candidates for an "Operations Manager" position with a timeline for placement between 60-120 days. The current management team consists of a dedicated business development manager, estimator, project manager and various 1099 field personnel. The Blue Ox team is supported by corporate marketing, accounting and executive staff resources. This position would report directly to the CEO and Vice President of Finance and Operations. Direct reports to this position would be the estimator, project manager, business development and field staff.

The candidate should possess a 4 year bachelor's degree in construction management, civil engineering, business administration or comparable and demonstrate strong leadership abilities, a minimum of 7 years work history in a commercial general contracting setting and a complete understanding of preconstruction, project management and field operations.

The ideal candidate is currently working in a structured setting whereby upward mobility is limited but individual drive to grow and succeed is high. Must have a willingness to directly manage certain projects as the company continues its early stage growth plans. Blue Ox anticipates $10M in annual revenues in 2015 with tangible plans and resources to reach $80M in revenues within 5 years. Base salary range $85K-$110K with company truck, phone, health/dental insurance and a performance/profit sharing based bonus program which yields between 10-30% of base salary and is directly driven by top and bottom line management of this business unit.
