Personal Statement

I am a student at University of Bath, where I study Politics with Economics. I've just finished my first year on track for a 2:1 (final results pending). I'm friendly and down to earth, looking for a job to get some further experience in the work place over the summer. My involvement in politics and the debate associated with it has made me a very confident communicator; a skill I feel is very transferable to the customer service industry, as well as any team orientated work environment. I'm also very familiar with computers, not only with MS Word etc. but also in terms of fixing common software problems.

Key Skills

- Friendly
- Good communicator
- Clear and confident telephone manner
- Experience of dealing with customers
- Highly proficient with computers
- Extensive knowledge of Microsoft Office and a very fast typist (85 words per minute)

Interests and Achievements

I love sports and being active. I cycled from Vancouver, Canada to Washington D.C., USA from July 2011 to January 2012, it was a 3000+ mile journey and very challenging in places, but was also an amazing experience. I'm currently playing American Football for Bath University in the top division of British Universities & Colleges Sport. In American Football each player has their own task each play and you all rely on each other, this element of the team sport has taught me the value of acting as a unit, and I feel this is transferable to the workplace. I also do weight lifting 3-5 times a week, and have to be self-motivated and disciplined in my diet and tracking my strength progress.
