

The Controlling, Reporting & Processes Team in the department Group Purchasing at our Headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany, is looking for an

Master Thesis in the Area of Supplier Management (f/m)

Your main tasks:

- Best Practice Analysis of companies regarding the processes and tools implemented for supplier management (supplier portal, eTender, risk management, sustainability, etc.)
- Analyze and define the best practice partners for HeidelbergCement
- Develop, conduct and analyze interviews with the best Practice Partners
- Assist the project management team in the development of the concept for HeidelbergCement

Requirements:

- You finalized your Bachelor Degree in business administration or computer science
- You are currently studying business administration or computer science in a Master program.
- Preferable first professional experiences in an operation or staff function
- High apprehension, independent mode of operation, analytic analysis of problems, high level of individual responsibility
- Precise in analyzing and structured in terms of working manner
- Ability to work in a team, in a self-motivated and flexible way towards agreed objectives
- Ability to achieve acceptance and to communicate professionally with colleagues and external stakeholders in different areas and hierarchies
- Computer proficiency: Very good Microsoft office knowledge
- Excellent English skills preferred

If your profile meets the requirements and you would like to gain experiences within a global company, you will be part in a dynamic, young team and will participate in a challenging, exciting Project with own responsibilities.

We are looking forward to your online application!