

TONY B

22-year-old R&B artist Tony B is based out of Nashville, TN & Atlanta, GA.

Having been in touch with his musical talents since the age of 9, the young producer, songwriter, and vocalist is heavily influenced by 90s and early 2000s R&B/Soul music including artists like D'Angelo, Erykah Badu, Aaliyah, Maxwell, and Lauryn Hill, but music is up to speed to be thrown in the ring with Sam Smith, The Jhene Aiko, The Weeknd, Miguel, and John Legend.

Fusing smooth, crooning vocals with slick and enticing production, Tony B gets us excited for the future of male R&B/Soul music.

22 Days takes a personal route with the R&B singer. He recalls stories and experiences with extreme poise, yet with little reservation. And although pulling you in and keeping your attention with his stunning vocals, he does more than hold a solid vocal, but gives you a look at the many different angles of love he has experienced and how he's dealing.

In the first and lead single from 22 Days, the singer croons over unrequited love, but is sure to state “I will be here regardless” in a verse from the song, adding somewhat of a mature element and tone. “It was me doing a lot of growing up”, he says. “When I was younger, it was hard for me to love someone who didn’t love me back in the same exact way”, “but this is me saying, ‘Hey, I’m alright with it. I’m still gonna be down for you if you ever need me’.”
