

Douche News Network Tribune

NOVEMBER 30, 2015 PM EDITION

Deranged Dick earlier today.

DICK'S D-DAY

By TONY BRING

FEDERAL WAY, WA Demented Dick continues to tarnish the good names of the late keyboardist Paul Revere of the Raiders and comedian Tim Allen as his rampage enters day five. Today, his much anticipated new show, tentatively titled "Linguini's Dick" is slated to debut on Spreecast, directly opposite the Kermit and Friends show. This move is particularly provocative because Linguini, who has been tapped to produce and cohost, is well known as the arch-nemesis of Kermit host, Elisa Jordana.

Christopher Roy Dick had an action packed Sunday. He claims he was thrown out of a mall from which he was Periscoping after someone called to report a suspicious man filming children. He repeated death threats against shadowy DNN reporter Seederman on the Honest Frank show, after outing the intrepid newshound as a Korean Washintonian, and calling him a "kook" which he pronounces as "gook". One can only imagine what Ayumi Katoka would think of such language.

Cow Palace Chris has spent the better part of early Monday morning pouring over old Kermit episodes and concluding positively that Clear Cider isn't Natalie Maines, singing sensation of the popular Dixie Chicks alt-country group. He has already recorded numerous Persicopes the morning and continues to spend very little of his waking day offline now.

All eyes now turn to tonight's Spreecast, and whether Spreecast even lets him produce it. Will the Federal Way Fatso succeed in his quest to destroy Jordana's show, or will he manage to hit himself in the face with a banana cream pie again? Sources close to both shows have offered no comment.

Honest Frank Pay to Play

By SEEDERMAN

MASTIC VILLAGE, NY Honest Frank, host of the marginally popular Honest and Frank Show on Spreecast, announced yesterday on his show that going forward, archived versions of his show will only be available on a pay-per-view basis. The Caped Crusader stated that such a change in policy would generate revenue needed for show improvements.

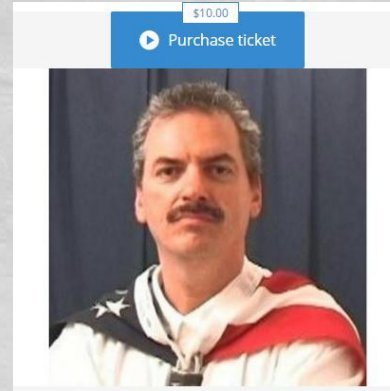

Initial reaction to this announcement was lukewarm at best, with many viewers voicing displeasure at the move in the chat room. When viewers raised the possibility that charging for archived shows might result in fewer overall viewers, the declared Presidential candidate stated that he believed it would result in more viewers attending his show live.

The real talk in Frank's chat has been about the sophisticated and seductive Suzie Q, a history major from Oklahoma, who brought a touch of class and intelligence to the Honest One's recent programs. Suzie Q may be a name to watch.

Frank, who had been a controversial Kermit and Friends guest for much of the summer of 2015, has had an apparent falling out with the show's host, Elisa Jordana. Although he still makes an occasional appearance, recent visits have ended in tirades interrupted by plays of the Little Zebra theme. His solo show remains free on Spreecast for live viewers.

Reuters