Useful Commands: !votemap <name> !map <name> !sm_admin (all the ban/kick/mute/gag/slap/slay)

If you ban player using !sm_admin, you choose for how long (its not permanent if you don't choose it). That's why bans should be also used as "kick" when for example you ban player for 30minutes for smth. Also always give players second chances, never ban for too long for the first time, unless its cheating BUT don't ban for cheating if its not 100% obvious, we know that there are some skillful players on the server and even though sometimes it looks like cheatings, its just map knowledge+good aim+gamesense and a little bit luck sometimes. Now I will describe how to use admin commands:

- Slap & Slay – Use slap on someone who changes skins instead of playing, avoiding gunfighting, bhoping around the map for no reason, camping, afking for 1-2 rounds etc.
- Mute & Gag – On someone who spams, micspams, constantly speaks foreign language, swear too much etc.
- Kick – Use kick on someone who afks too much (there is autokick afk but you can do it earlier), after not listening to mods.
- Ban – (use after a warning/kick)

"Not Respecting Other Players" – 30min to 4h for first time, 4h to 1week second time

"Being Annoying, Disturbing Others" - 30min to 4h for first time, 4h to 1week second time

"Speaking Foreign Language Too Much" – 10min to 30min for first time, 1h to 4h second time

"Swearing, Spamming, Micspamming" – 10min to 30min for first time, 1h to 4h second time

"Cheating, Exploiting, Abusing" – After being 100% sure 1week ban, then contact me. Otherwise contact me. Always check profile for csgo hours, vac bans, comments and all the info about the player before judging.

"Avoiding Combat" – 30min to 1h for the first time, 1h to 4h second time

Some quick explanation:

- Only bhopping without really playing is avoiding combat/being annoying
- "Tactical" Hiding, camping and running away is allowed as long as it's reasonable. Otherwise it's also avoiding combat/being annoying
- Players tend to choose skins instead of playing during round, give a warning and slap them
- Try to always calm down players who are arguing before punishing them.
- Distinguish one-time joke from constantly breaking rules.
- There are some situations when players write stuff like "only noscope" or "don't kill me" etc. remember that the server rule is to not be annoying what means letting others play how they want regardless.

Last thing: Be very helpful with everything. Chat, talk, explain. Patience is important. Be friendly. Make sure you know all the server public commands(remind about !cmds!/help!/commands). If you can invite to steamgroup as many ppl as possible. Promote youtube, encourage donating. Many ppl don't know about !record <round> <what> command, !res = removing round end sounds, give the info about disabling killcam in settings, server playlist is available on scoutcity.tumblr.com or scoutcity's soundcloud (easily find). Tell them how the nades work if they ask, when you get decoys flashes etc. Ask me anything about the settings if you don't know something.

Lastly remember its community server which supposed to be a hybrid of casual-competitive so at the end don't be too strict.
