I literally want to die. If the Raven Cycle ends

Well

I mean that's it for me

look its chainsaw. Its chainsaw.

Look

LOK OK LLOK ITS CHAINSENAWAITS DHCAUBSAW

AND IF ADAM AND RONAN DO

ANYTHING

BYE

IM OUT I CNANT DO THIS SNAYNORE THESE BOKO SHAVE
DSETRYOED ME EMOTIONALLY

All day ive just wanted to go home and play touhou

I feel the obsession coming.

I feel it.

I've thought about it all day. It's so cool. Wh

Reimu is so cool. WhWHWh

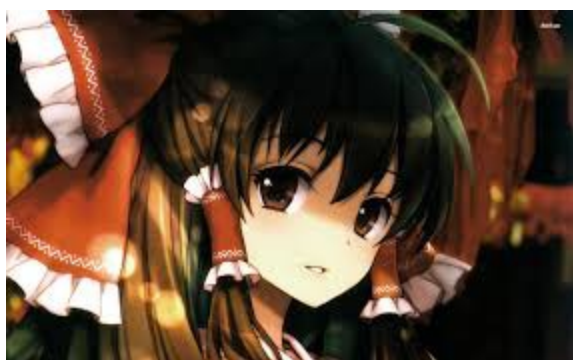

I cant wait to play the other games like

Highly Responsive to Prayers was amazing I don't know if I can get used to the other ones though since they're all danmaku shooter games or whatever it's called.

I'm gonna have to get used to them and not the whole Reimu trying to control the yin yang with her gohei stuff -_-

ITS SO COOL

Now kenma

He is so great I reall. I just. I cant

H e better be in more episodes. Holy mother god im going to actually kill myself when nekoma and karasuno fight I want to KILL MYSELF

K but if only Adam and Blue lived I would probably actually end up shooting myself. First off we know Gansey's gonna die so that's already making me want to kill myself but if anyone else dies I mean that's it that's really just it for me I'm sorry I just can't deal with anymore of Maggie's bs it's really just a bit too much rn. I already know I'm gonna finish the Raven King in one day it's gonna hurt a lot I'm just praying for the poor people who have to deal with me the next day....

Wandering into school, bloody, a shell of a human. I am nothing, as long as Gansey isn't alive. I am nothing. Nothing. But rage. aaAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA

I scream, falling to the floor in the science room, opening my backpack and pulling out a pocketknife identical to Blue's, stabbing myself and drawing a transmutation circle on the floor in blood. The school watches as I shakily place a crown, mint plant, boat shoe, shredded polo shirt, and a pair of wire-framed glasses on the points. I pull out a caged raven and put it in the center, whispering, "Chainsaw, Chainsaw..."

Then I dump a bag of 35 liters of water, 20 kilograms of carbon, 4 liters of ammonia, 4.5 kilograms of lime, 800 grams of phosphorus, 250 grams of salt, 100 grams of saltpeter, 80 grams of sulfur, 75 grams of fluorine, 5 grams of iron, 3 grams of silicon, and trace amounts of other elements into the circle.

For good measure, I line up the books around the circle, hoping it will account for his soul. I begin to recite lines from each one.

"Gansey had always felt as if there were two of him: the Gansey who was in control, able to handle any situation, able to talk to anyone, and then, the other, more fragile Gansey, strung out and unsure, embarrassingly earnest, driven by naive longing."

“I wish you could be kissed, Jane,' he said. 'Because I would beg just one off you. Under all this.' He flailed an arm toward the stars.”

“Blue,” he warned, but his voice was chaotic. This close, his throat was scented with mint and wool sweater and vinyl car seat, and Gansey, just Gansey.

She said, “I just want to pretend. I want to pretend that I could.”

“Richard Gansey III had forgotten how many times he had been told he was destined for greatness.”

I cover my hair in clips, and my face in glitter. I slip on the St. Patrick’s Day socks and my torn up boat shoes. Then, I drink some water and spit it onto each shoe. The ceremony has begun.

The principal is too scared to try and stop me from attempting Gansey’s human transmutation.

But what stood before us that day: was it truly our Gansey?
