

I just got banned from main board (updated: AGAIN)

For saying Harbaugh is John L Smith on steroids.

That's beyond hilarious. The Fort has invaded the main board. People from all over the place just rip the crap out of each other unmercifully, but God forbid anybody bad-mouth michigan and the mighty Harbaugh.

Hey @blue17! and other u of m posters here....doesn't it embarrass the hell out of you that your fellow fans are the biggest pansies in the entire world?

We've seen Harbaugh shirtless. The dude is NOT on steroids and, apparently, avoids tanning booths like the plague.

Sleepovers at minor's homes? That's his ticket.

Harbaugh is the vuvuzela of college football.

Well, yesterday the u of m fans got their tampons all bloody because I pointed out that they haven't done crap in football since before WWII, that 44 of the first 50 games of the series were played in AA and that since MSU joined the B1G, the series is almost even.

A few of them called me stupid. Not sure how offering factual numbers to back up an argument makes one stupid, but all of us here understand the frailty of the michigan fan's world....constantly projecting superiority but lacking the numbers to back it up.

Clowns.

I too am banned from the Main Board. I consequently cancelled my Rivals account effective March 5th. Love the moderators here and the information you/they provide. But, as a whole the MB and even the threads here aren't worth the subscription. Lots of good folks here, but enough idiots like Jake that it has run its course with me. Tata.

*I agree with the choice to let their own stupidity consume them. It's like starting to respond to the comments section of the Det. rags and realizing that there is no level of involvement/truth that will shine a light bright enough for them to actually see it.
Plus it gives me more time to actually enjoy and appreciate where our Spartan teams are right now.....*

I've been getting into it with schmohawk via PM, so I'm pretty surely was him.

But there were several u of m fans pleading for me to quit, so it was probably a class-action suit.

@Barnacle~Bob wow that's crazy, i haven't been on the boards for about a week now, i can't believe they banned you, that place is a cesspool, i didn't think getting banned was even possible, the place is one big troll so i dont see why what you said would bother them. The main board has kind of jumped the shark anyway, the wanna be rich and racists have polluted the place, you used to be able to have a decent convo every now and then I thought it was hilarious seeing a bunch of them trying to question the fact that you were a science teacher...that was classic.

That's why I appreciate the Smag mods allowing you and boner and spyker (sp) to post over here. I want to hear what Michigan fans have to say and have an honest debate.

The thing that pisses me off on tmb is that Schmo is a UofM fan who has bans MSU posters but wouldn't dare ban a Michigan fan. And there are a good number of Michigan homeboarders over there who regularly post inflammatory comments.

I got booted from the free "Football Board". They didn't say why even after I asked. No response.

I think it might have been that I said, Michigan State plays with chips on their shoulders and Michigan plays with chips in their pockets.

So just what IS allowed there? That's a pretty clever little argument/idea that should be discussed. Man are they sensitive/overly protective of their Messiah. Kind of like drawing an image of the Prophet Mohammad to Muslims or something (:

B-Bob, we all have to realize this is a time of year that we simply refer to as, uh, Basketball season, March Madness, and the offseason. For UMmers, it is recruiting season, offseason Heisman season, etc. For them the offseason is better than the football season and much better than the basketball season so they tend to get a bit chippy when their "fantasy offseason dreams" are crushed.

Tread lightly. Speak in long, polysyllabic nomenclature that they won't be able to conceptualize and comprehend. Comparing Harbaugh, who is greater than God to many UMmers, to John L Smith was way too much for them to handle during this time of year, especially with their b-ball on pace to restore their NIT glory/tradition once again. Good thing you didn't say that Peppers looks like he didn't do steroids.

Non stop fighting, trolling, racism. The only good part are sig pics and gifs are basically anything goes.

The sec fans are seriously unbearable. It wasn't the um fans that made me quit. It was the sec fans. Trolling the um fans was most of the fun.
