SUMMARY

---

- My name is Briggs Milburn and I am a senior at Texas Tech University. I am graduating in May 2016 with a Bachelor's of Science in Mathematics and Statistics and a minor in Actuarial Science. I am ready to enter the corporate world and pass my actuarial exams so that I can move along my career path in becoming an Actuarial Analyst. This path can either be rigorous or pleasant depending on the company you keep and finding joy in the little victories. These two requirements can be met in finding a workplace that is ambitious and innovative. I am looking for a position in a company that I can expand my knowledge and apply the mathematics background into tangible results.
