Cedar Grove Publishing picks up Battle for Bedtime

Ronin Studios and Forged Vision Studios sign for the release of Graphic Novel

San Francisco, CA (May 20 2016) - Ronin Studios and Forged Vision Studios are happy to announce they have agreed to terms with Cedar Grove Publishing for the release of Battle for Bedtime. The graphic novel will be released in mid to late October 2016 as a 90-page compilation with exclusive material only available in this limited edition release.

Battle for Bedtime is an all ages epic tale about what really happens under the beds of children at night when children's toys come to life at night to protect their owners and fight an epic battle against the Boogie Man aka the Shadow Master.

“Partnering with Cedar Grove allows us to offer the book to a much farther reaching global market and this will allow a much greater exposure of the story than we had initially planned for. The demand for the book has been much more than we expected and it was obvious to us early on that we needed to open up our market to a far greater audience,” says Jim Callahan CEO of Ronin Studios and Illustrator for Battle for Bedtime.

The graphic novel will contain the compilation of issues one and two in their entirety with additional insights into the creation process of the book and exclusive pinups and sketches.

“I am so incredibly thrilled and honored to be part of the Cedar Grove family and bringing Battle for Bedtime to readers everywhere!” Garrett Gunn, Battle for Bedtime writer and Founder of Forged Vision Studios.
