The Becca Story:

Becca Byram: is a singer/songwriter and analog keyboard specialist.

Becca Byram moved to the US in 1996 and worked as a session musician and song-writer in NYC. She developed a reputation as an analog keyboard player and vocalist, and was soon offered a residency by Eddie Germano at The Hit Factory in NYC. Becca was signed to Caroline Records by Bill Laswell, and her first record, "Becca's Smoke and Candy Store" was released in 1998. Her sophomore album "Nice to Be There" was recorded in Los Angeles in 2001.

Becca stepped away from showbusiness in 2006 to raise her two children., developing her unique and enticing style. Presently Becca lives works and performs in the Los Angeles area.
