

Join summer shorebird conservation research on South Africa's gorgeous coastal Garden Route!

Interested in conservation? Want to get real-world experience?
Join us for a volunteer internship!

- WHO: Nature's Valley Trust, an award-winning environmental NGO
- WHAT: Field work, awareness education, & other involvement for exciting research on effects of coastal tourism on breeding shorebirds.
- WHEN: September 2016 - April 2017 (3-6 month posts)

DEADLINE TO APPLY: 30 JUNE 2016

- WHERE: Plettenberg Bay & Nature's Valley, South Africa
- WHY: Shorebird populations are in decline worldwide, with nesting areas highly used by humans. This project aims to develop conservation recommendations to manage disturbance to these sensitive species & habitats along our local high-tourism coastline.

If interested, send CV & short letter of motivation as soon as possible!

For more information on project & costs, contact Dr. Mark Brown:

info@naturesvalleytrust.co.za

NB: Please note that this is a volunteer opportunity, with marginal cost involved.