

PRESS RELEASE - 9th June 2016

Here at Twinwoods, we were honoured to have the amazing guys from Blue Peter visit us to learn how to fly. We teamed up with presenters Lindsey Russell and Radzi Chinyanganya along with two of the UK's best skydiving teams so they could compete in an head to head 4-Way Skydiving Challenge!

The dynamic duo spent just one day of very intensive training to achieve a level where they could fly as part of the professional skydiving teams, The UK National Womens AAA hopefuls 'Team Volition' and UK National Open hopefuls 'Team ACM'.

Within their first hour of training the Pro teams had already begun to practice some basic formations with their prodigies and we were able to witness just how much someone can achieve in such a short space of time, their progress was astonishing and they performed amazingly. Our presenters went from first time tunnel rookies to high flyers!

When the training had finished, we Bodyflight, drew a round consisting of randoms and blocks (terms used for particular types of formations during competition). The teams were to get a single attempt at the same round and the team with the most amount of formations achieved in just 30 seconds would take the glory!

The round was drawn, flown and judged in the same way that we would a real competition so the Pro teams were highly competitive!

The presenters and our teams were joined by some of the pupils from local schools who are taking part in the Bodyflight 'Recruit' youth programme and the presenters were kind enough to sign lots of autographs and high five all of the kids after watching them training, as well as getting a few tips from the young flyers ahead of the competition.

You can watch how the CBBC presenters got on on when Blue Peter airs the episode on CBBC 9th June at 17:00 and repeated on Sunday 11th at 09:00.

To celebrate the launch of our Bodyflight Recruit programme we've made an exclusive offer of just £19.99 to experience a 2 flight Trial! Come and fly with us!
