

Life after the referendum in terms of palatability (Who will really be happy when)

	EEA (Norway)	EEA-	No deal (WTO)	Remain (no new terms)	Indefinite Procrastination	membership with new immigration brakes	Notes
Parties involved:
Those wanting to be liberated of EU regulations	No	No	No	No	No	No	Unless we stop trading to the EU, we have to abide by them
Racists + those scapegoating immigrants	No	No	No	No	No	No	The motivation to blame immigrants will be undiminished
Immigration Control Principlists	No	Yes	No	No	No	Yes	Remember the days the UK enthusiastically accepted Poland to the EU
Scientific community	No	No	No	Yes	could be worse	Yes	Without clear EU membership, research projects lose funding, collaboration hampered
Students	Yes	No	No	Yes	Yes	Yes	They want to have the same rights as leave voters had for decades
IT & startup sector	Yes	No	No	Yes	Yes	Yes	UK becomes increasingly hostile to start up sector burdened with job creation
Banking Sector	OK	HELL NO	NO	Yes	Yes	Yes	UK is a service oriented nation looking to butcher its banking sector
Hardcore/long term eurosceptics	No	Yes	Yes	No	No	No	They want to see the EU go up in flames and cackle
Those not wanting to pay into EU	No	No	Yes	No	No	No	In a worst case scenario, at least you'll be happy about not paying into the EU
Surveillance enthusiasts	No	Yes	Yes	No	No	No	Outside the EU its easier to exit ECHR and ECJ and demolish citizens rights
Those who think the EU not a bad idea	No	No	No	Yes	Yes	Yes	Imbeciles who don't want to abandon the idea of a democratic project bigger than one nation
Haters of non-EU passport lanes at airports	Yes	Yes	Hell no	Yes	Yes	Yes	Everybody loves that non-EU lane
France	no	Hell YES	no	yes	no	meh	Drooling at the prospect of the UK losing all its competitive advantages and special privileges
Norway	Hell NO!	hmm	yes	yes	yes	yes	Doesn't actually want the UK to join EEA club
Germany	YES	YES	Yes	Yes	Yes	meh	While preferring to keep the UK in, Germany can see a bright side to every scenario
Scotland	Meh	No	Hell no	Yes	Yes	Yes	Oppressed and disgusted by having some central government overrule their wishes
Nothern Ireland	No	No	No	Yes	Yes	Yes	Just getting used to peace
Wales	No	No	No	No	No	No	Derp Derp
Cornwall	No	No	No	No	No	No	Everything foreign is bad
Putin	Yes	Yes	Yes	No	No	No	Go on, be distracted, tear yourself apart
Corbyn	No	No	No	No	No	No	Wants to see the world burn for its sins, out of principle
Labour Voters	Yes	No	No	Yes	Yes	Yes	We prefer economic stability please
Nationalists	No	No	Yes	No	No	No	Next step: repatriating everthing foreign-looking
Ukip Voters	No	No	Yes	No	No	No	"No deal is better than the rotten deal we have now!"
Obama	No	No	No	Yes	No	Yes	Guess we'll be cosyng up to Germany instead
5+ million EU Nationals, Expats & exchange students	Yes	HELL No	HELL No	Yes	Yes	Yes	Because democracy means most of us didn't get to vote
Working class 2 years later	No	No	No	No	No	No	yay, the excesses of capitalism are wrecking us even more than before...
Unemployed	No	No	No	No	No	No	Not having to compete with people with broken English didn't exactly open up the job market
Rich people's bank accounts	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Who cares what happens to the plebs
Rupert Murdoch	meh	Yes	Yes	No	No	No	"When I go into Downing Street they do what I say; when I go to Brussels they take no notice"
People using and providing public health services	Yes	No	No	Yes	Yes	Yes	You mean we're also fucked when we're abroad in need of health services?
Economy	Yes	Hell NO!	No	Yes	No	Yes	Why...Why WHY?? We were on track for 2% GDP growth
Military	Meh	Meh	Meh	Meh	Meh	Meh	I can see it now, "350 billion a week needed to rival EU army"
Achievability	50%	20%	100%	100%	100%	70%	Ability to accomplish scenario
Current forecast	8%	5%	40%	2%	30%	15%	Likelihood of scenario happening
Happiness score	-12	-17	-18	2	-5	2	Lower scores means more parties unhappy