Event Sponsors

Event Alchemy is an events management company which was started by Christophe Jouet in 2010. Event Alchemy's inception was born from the desire to innovate and improve the overall experience and standard of corporate and private events. They pride themselves in being able to flawlessly implement events that are memorable and enduring. Event Alchemy is also actively involved with non-profit organizations and thus, are a company about giving back to the community.

MSF in collaboration with Event Alchemy

In 2013 MSF hosted a fundraising event with the aim of recruiting new donors, raise awareness about MSF's work and convincing South African donors of their vital role in bringing medical care to people trapped in conflict and emergencies. The event was titled Crossing Frontlines and Event Alchemy was the company of choice as it had the most knowledge in coordination, which was shown by how the event turned out, and understanding of MSF identity. Event Alchemy managed to source most of the sponsorship for the event pro-bono so they proved to be a vital investment in the success of the event.
