

“what they have achieved here is quite remarkable.”

Financial Times

“It sets its face against the dominant piety of modern public buildings that democracy = transparency = glass.”

The Observer

“moving around the building is a joy”

Frieze Magazine

1.

London's Tate Modern, the sixth most visited art museum in the world, recently opened its new extension, Switch House.

Across the pond, we want you to pick one of the three most visited art museums in New York* and design an extension for it.

The extension can be as structurally sound or as conceptual as you wish. Be it a masterpiece of architectural drawing or a lunch-time doodle, we want your ideas.

Entries of both a visual and textual nature will be accepted.

*Pick from:

1. The Met

comical High Victorian Gothic

2. MoMA

modernism – it's hip to be a square!

3. The Guggenheim

a "temple of the spirit"

2.

3.

