

We have 57 City fans taking part this season with the following rewards for the best predictions:

1st: £100 2nd: £35

A cheque for £150 will be forwarded to York City FC in due course and updates on all entrants' predictions will be posted on the Red & Blue forum & Facebook throughout the season.

Thanks for entering and very good luck!

Email: daleymayall@hotmail.com

The aim of this prediction competition is to achieve the LOWEST score. The difference in placings in the league between your actual prediction for each team and their finishing position will be the amount of points added to your total.

Eg: If predicting YORK will finish 3rd, but they actually finish 6th, you will accrue 3pts to your total score - the difference between 3rd and 6th.

In the event of a tie, the lowest total based on the top 5 and bottom 5 teams only will win 1st prize.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Prediction Competition 2016-17

Simon Heslop leaps for joy at putting City 1-0 up late in the home game against Boreham Wood, only for the visitors to equalise at the death.

Major surgery has been undertaken during the close season at YORK CITY FC as it hopes to bounce back from the devastation of relegation from the Football League at the first attempt. Boss Jackie McNamara, to the disbelief of many supporters, remains anchored in charge despite overseeing the Minstermen's misfortunes since his arrival to replace Russ Wilcox last November. With his own squad in place, he will be hoping it gels quickly and hits the ground running, or the patience of the club's loyal supporters will surely snap if early signs suggest another campaign of struggle. Eleven competitors are rather optimistic about City's chances in the National League, cementing the Minstermen in a play-off spot, although similar upbeat feelings were apparent twelve months ago. Junior Peter is the sole entrant who anticipates more relegation heartache for City, but an average placing of 10.28 is forecast for Jackie's new charges, with Dagenham & Redbridge, relegated alongside York, expected to fare slightly better (4.47 average placing). One Touch Hutch, SimmoThai, Surge, York City Forever and Yorkie Liam expect the Daggers' to bounce straight back up. It looks like a Rovers return to the Football League is a nailed-on certainty, as Tranmere are favoured to take the title (2.03 a/p) with an astounding 41 entrants (71.92%) plumping for the Merseyside team to emerge victorious. Perennial big-spenders Forest Green Rovers will still fail to buy automatic promotion (3.03), but that long-cherished place amongst the elite 92 could still be fulfilled via the lottery called the play-offs; will last season's P/O final defeat to Grimsby provide motivation or instil a sense of trepidation should they finish in a play-off berth again? Competitors Al, Bangkok Boom, Patriek25, Higgins and WeAreYork believe FGR will go straight up as champs. Expected to feature in the upper-echelons in the hunt for play-offs glory are north-east rivals Gateshead (6.10), Wrexham (6.33) managed by ex-City boss Gary Mills (only Simmo thinks the Dragons' will snare the title), Macclesfield Town (7.29) and another bank-rolled side, Eastleigh (7.31). Those Imps from across the Humber, Lincoln City (7.38) will, like the Minstermen, be sniffing around the play-off spots by next May, but are likely to just fall short. At the arse-end of the table, it seems that National League North beckons for two teams who provide Yorkshire derbies for the Minstermen this season. West Yorkshire club Guiseley (22.31) are tipped by 20 to finish rock-bottom after scrambling to safety on the final day of last season, whereas North Ferriby United (22.14) of the East Riding are fancied to prop up the other 23 teams next May, by 22 people. In both cases, 48 entrants (84.21%) believe our Yorkshire rivals are a solid bet for one of the four relegation berths. It's going to be a squeaky-bum time for Bromley (21.24), Southport (19.66) and Woking (17.77) who will find themselves flirting with the relegation trapdoor as the season reaches its conclusion. Promoted last season from National League South, play-off winners Maidstone United (11.73) are surprisingly favoured to do slightly better than champions Sutton United (16.10), whilst for National League North champs Solihull Moors (17.07) it may prove to be a nerve-shredding run-in to safety. Popular ex-City winger Jon McCarthy's first dip into management as boss of Chester (16.66) may well be a baptism of fire, but his team are expected to have enough in the tank to survive. Whether Jon survives the dreaded bullet in his inaugural season as a number one remains to be seen...

“ We’re York, and we’re proud of it... ”

Results of this competition will be posted in the City Chat forum on Red and Blue net within 2 weeks after the final matches of the season and on my Facebook page. Winners will be contacted by email, text or via the private message facility on R&B and paid ASAP.

Richard Brodie fires City into the lead at Forest Green Rovers in the 5th game of the season, before the Minstermen succumbed to a late penalty in a 2-1 defeat at The Lawn.
