

NEXT42

We at NEXT42 are an innovative lab working on challenging projects inside the startup sector. Our mission is finding answers for the challenging problems of today to create a better tomorrow. We are evaluating technologies, are implementing first prototypes and help startups to develop their technologies in order to verify them and show a proof of concept. Our partners are innovative startups from all over the world working on the solutions of the future. We help them finding the answer on hard challenges and creating the fundament of their business.

Join us and start creating the future with us!

Frontend Developer (m/w):

Responsibilities:

- UI/UX research, conception and development of our web- and mobile apps.
- Responsibility for the management of various (sub-)projects.
- Assurance of a good User Experience in collaboration with the management team.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Experience in developing web-applications for different browsers or Android/iOS apps.
- Solid knowledge of HTML/CSS and JS.
- An “eye” for good design and efficient user experience.
- Striving for excellence and greed to be an active part of an ambitious project.
- Ability and motivation to learn new things.
- Readiness to take responsibility and creativity for complex problem solving.

Preferred Qualifications (optional):

- Enthusiasm for new technologies and Startups.
- Familiarity with RESTful APIs.
- Experience with at least one of the following technologies: Angular.js, Django, GWT,
- Participation in open source project(s) or private/university projects.
- Familiarity with working in agile teams.

What we offer:

- An ambitious work environment with great and excellent people.
- Work with bleeding edge technologies.
- The possibility to take over responsibility and bringing great projects forward.
- Contribute to open source projects which have been improved due to your daily work.

Contact:

Do you think you are the right person for this position?

Do you want to help in improving the world?

Then please send us your CV together with a motivation-letter indicating why you want to join NEXT42 and send all your documents to: jobs@NEXT42.net.

We are looking forward to hearing from you!