

Smart House Gadgets For a Connected Experience

Keeping your home safe in this modern world is difficult. You need the help of modern smart house gadgets. Here are some of the best examples to go for.

ConnectSense Smart Outlet

Turn your home into a smart home with the ConnectSense Smart Outlet. Plugging into any standard outlet in your home, this device features two Wi-Fi connected sockets so you can control and monitor your appliances, electronics, and devices. Each socket on the ConnectSense Smart Outlet can be managed individually so you can have total control. Also working with Apple HomeKit, the ConnectSense Smart Outlet can be controlled with Siri voice commands for effortless management. In addition to the two outlets, this device also features a 2.4 amp USB charging port for ultra-fast charging for your smartphone, tablet, and other devices. Equipped with end-to-end encryption, you can rest assured the ConnectSense Smart Outlet is safe for your entire family.

Garmin Index Smart Scale

Understand your body like never before with the Garmin Index Smart Scale. Connecting via Wi-Fi, this intelligent scale is a smart home appliance that is able to detect and record a variety of body metrics to keep you on track to your health goals. The Index Smart Scale can measure your weight, body mass index, body fat, skeletal muscle mass, and much more. Equipped with a long-lasting 9-month battery life, this scale can also recognize up to 16 different users so it's perfect for families of all sizes. You can also choose to view your weight in pounds, kilograms, or stone. Using the Garmin Connect app, you can view your progress with easy to read graphs, charts, and data points. Use both the Index Smart Scale and the app to set and meet all of your fitness goals.

Incipio CommandKit Smart Outlet

Control the electronics in your home even when you're out with the Incipio CommandKit Smart Outlet. Coming in all white to match any décor, this smart device allows you to remotely access your devices and appliances as well as view their overall energy use. With this knowledge, the CommandKit Smart Outlet enables you to lower your energy consumption and even cut down on your monthly bills. For total convenience, you can use the CommandKit Smart Outlet to set your devices and appliances to automatically turn on or off when you arrive or leave home. Compatible with Apple HomeKit, you can even use Siri to control the electronics in your home with voice commands for total automation. Because it connects via your home's Wi-Fi network, you're always in control no matter where you are.

Dyson Pure Hot + Cool Link Air Purifier

Feel comfortable no matter what the weather with the Dyson Pure Hot + Cool Link Air Purifier. This incredibly smart device automatically removes over 99.9% of allergens and pollutants from the air. Additionally, with a touch of a button, the Pure Hot + Cool Link can either cool you down or warm you up no matter the weather outside. Inside is a 360-degree glass HEPA filter to collect and secure even ultrafine particles from the air so you can breathe deep knowing the air around you is clean. This system also takes odors out of the air and is certified asthma and allergy friendly. Perfect for that drafty room in your house or a great way to save on energy and gas bills, the Pure Hot + Cool Link Air Purifier will make your house a home.

Incipio CommandKit Smart Light Bulb Adapter

With the Incipio CommandKit Smart Light Bulb Adapter, a simple phrase such as "Let there be light" can actually turn on your lights. Available in all white, this intelligent socket is one of those Bluetooth home gadgets that screws into your existing sockets and provides a place for a traditional light bulb. Connecting via your home's Wi-Fi, the CommandKit Smart Light Bulb Adapter enables you to turn your lights on and off even when you're not home. Also compatible with Apple HomeKit, this device can also be controlled with Siri voice commands for total convenience. In addition to managing your light sources, the CommandKit Smart Light Bulb Adapter also transforms any bulb into a dimmable bulb so you can set the perfect ambience for any time of day.