

Windows 10 Start Menu Stop Working – Get Fixes Here

With Windows 10 utilization users experiences lots of bugs among which many issues have been earlier listed by PC insider. Later after its introduction Microsoft introduced an Anniversary update to sort out most of the issues that users experienced with this latest Windows OS. But, there are still some users who are facing Windows 10 Start menu issues on Windows upgrade. Here, one can have a tech support for Windows 10 Start menu not working to have an instant solution of this Windows Start menu issue. Click here, to more view:

<https://sites.google.com/site/reliabletechhelp/windows-10-start-menu-not-working-here-s-solutions>

This Start menu usually stops working on installation of any updates. There are many other issues that may create difficulties with your Start menu. If you are also facing such issue, then you can have fixes of this issue with this article post. So, let's know about the fixes that you can do to get Start menu function again smoothly:

Check and repair for the presence of corrupted files

Here, you need to start Task Manger by pressing Ctrl>Alt>Together and choose Task Manger. Now, you need to run a new Windows Task by clicking on More details>Run> File menu.

Now, you need to Run Windows Power shell by choosing create these administrative privileges and clicking on OK. Again in Run type sfc/scan now to repair your device. You may also have a customer support helpline number for Windows 10 issues to repair your device.

Again install all apps for Windows

Re-installing Windows 10 apps can fix most of the issues with Start menu. It will take only a few minute and re-installation may delete some of data present in apps. So, before re-installation you should create backup of all dat.

Create new user account

From File menu 'Run new task' and choose the task. Now, choose 'Create this task with administrative privileges' and then type new username and new password with add in the box. Here, you need to replace with new username and password and then need to make log in this new account.

Refresh your PC

Here, you need to refresh your PC which is same as Windows 10 installation. You can have assistance of Windows technical experts to refresh your PC in a perfect way.

With all these above mentioned procedures, you can easily get rid of issues with your Windows 10 Start menu. Anyway, if you are still getting trouble with your Windows 10 then you can dial a Windows support number to have a perfect solution of Windows 10 issues.