Chic Alert Medical ID

Live your Life Well in ID. Jewelry you can feel good about!!

Over the years Medical ID Bracelets have gotten a bad rap in the medical community. They have had a reputation of being ugly, sterile and un-fashionable...down right unwearable and hideous. A piece of Medical jewelry that your doctor told you to wear; when worn puts a stigma on you making you feel worse about yourself and your medical condition. Many patients have resorted to getting tattoos which identify their medical condition. The tattoo, like a medical ID bracelet can communicate the patient's vital medical information so they can be properly cared for and in a timely manner.

Chic Alert Medical ID is here to change that by offering truly fashionable on-trend ID jewelry. Allowing the wearer to feel confident that they will be properly cared for in a medical emergency, but while doing it in style! Chic Alert Medical ID believes that Medical ID bracelets can be fashionable while still serving its purpose. Medical ID Bracelets for Women and Medical ID Bracelet for Men are available in a wide variety of styles from Chic Alert Medical ID. Styles are also available for children....coming in a vast array of colors, materials and sizes.

Roughly one out of every five people living in this world has a medical condition that paramedics and doctors need to know about right away in case of a medical emergency. If you have a chronic disease, medical condition, an allergy or take a pharmaceutical drug that could threaten your life it is highly recommended that you wear some form of medical id bracelet to communicate your message. In an emergency when you might not be able to speak for yourself, a piece of medical id jewelry can speak for you.
