A guide to the Unifrog tools

University

UCAS

The University tool helps students find the best university courses for them. Every course in the UK is included, and students can compare them on over 25 factors. Counsellors and teachers can track the progress of each student's research, and easily offer tailored guidance.

The UCAS tool then enables students to create a shortlist of their final 5 courses.

Oxbridge

The Oxbridge tool simplifies the task of finding the best Oxbridge college for you. With a large range of ranking options and filters, students can find the college which meets their expectations not just academically, but also socially and culturally. The tool also provides students with a strategic advantage – they can see which colleges offer the best chance of success for their subject, and the tool also suggests similar subjects which might suit the student better, and offer a greater chance of success.

MOOC

Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) are a great way of showcasing interest in a particular subject area when applying to university, as well as allowing students to 'try out' a university course before committing. Unifrog's MOOCs tool brings into one place all of the world's best MOOCs, and makes it easy for students to choose the best ones for them.

Apprenticeships

The Apprenticeships tool allows students to sort and filter every live apprenticeship vacancy in the UK. This includes 'School Leaver Programmes' – prestigious opportunities offered by blue-chip companies. The tool is easy to navigate, students can apply for vacancies directly from the platform.

College / Sixth Form

The College/Sixth Form tool enables students to easily search for vocational Further Education courses as well as all courses offered by sixth forms in the UK.

Competencies Store

CV Tool

Personal Statement

Teacher References

The 4 Applications tools assist both students and staff in submitting University applications.

Using the Competencies Store, students create a log of situations in which they demonstrated skills or attributes that universities value.

The CV tool makes it easy for students to write an excellent, simple CV. It encourages students to create several versions, tweaked for the various roles and courses for which they are applying.

The Personal Statement tool then helps students write their statement, by offering guidance and a template with which to start. The tool creates full version histories of each statement, and multiple teachers can easily leave comments and make edits.

Finally Unifrog provides a central location where teachers can write references. Subject teachers write references for students in their class, then tutors and counsellors can easily review what's been written, and extract relevant information for the overall reference. Everything that each teacher needs – like the latest drafts of students' personal statements, and the competencies they've recorded – is in one place, and nothing ever gets lost.
