Colleen Mmotla, was born on the 4th of June in Burgersfort Driekop in a small Village called Diphale. Born in a Christian family with 4 sisters, he is the only guy at home.

The name Chymamusique comes from his classmates at the high school where he was studying called S.t Thomas in the year 2005 during a biology lecture. The name came from one of the biology text books that they were using. In the book there was a plant tissue called Collenchyma so the learners decided to call him Chyma since his name was collen , then he added musique when his calling in the music industry kicked in.

WHAT IS BIPOLAR DISORDER?

Bipolar disorder is an illness that causes severe mood swings, from the highest of highs (mania) to the lowest of lows (depression).

One in a hundred people are affected by the illness. It affects woman and men equally. It tends to affect the middle to upper social economic classes more than the lower economic classes. It normally comes to the fore between 20 to 30 years of age, but this may also vary. People with bipolar disorder usually have frequent episodes of the illness which are destructive of their private and professional lives.

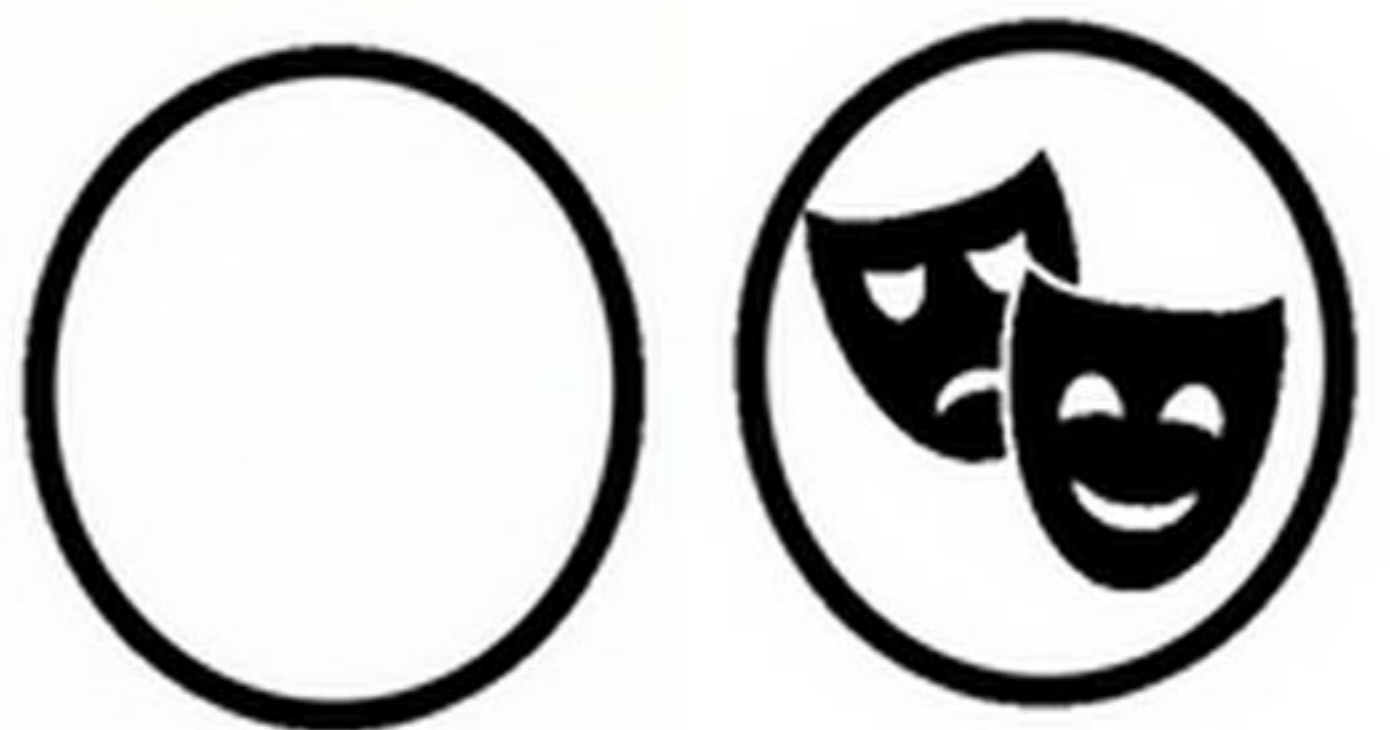

In order to explain bipolar affective disorder, it is important to differentiate between the ups and downs in mood that everyone has and those of the bipolar sufferer. Everyone has feelings of happiness, sadness, anger etc..., which are normal emotions and are part of everyday life. Bipolar disorder in contrast is a medical condition in which people have mood swings out of proportion, or totally unrelated to what is going on in their lives.

These mood swings affect thoughts, feelings, physical health, behaviour and functioning.

It is imperative to note that bipolar disorder is not anyone's fault, nor do they have an unstable personality - it occurs due to a chemical imbalance in the brain and is more importantly, treatable.

Bipolar disorder and diabetes can be compared, as both require both ongoing medical treatment (medication) and monitoring by the sufferer or patient. Just as diabetics must take their medication, monitor their sugar levels and monitor how they feel physically, bipolars must take their medication, monitor their medication levels and monitor how they feel emotionally.

Society expects illnesses to be cured and is often not prepared to tolerate those who require constant treatment for illnesses that have no known cure. Unfortunately, to this day, most mental illnesses are treated rather than cured.

The South African Depression and Anxiety Group (SADAG) is SA's largest Mental Health Advocacy Group.

Horoscopes

Aries (21 Mar – 19 Apr)

Start looking more at the big picture for your long-term goals as Mars enters Aquarius on November 8. An opportunity for more money could come with the Full Moon on November 14. It may seem radical or unrelated to anything else in your life, but maybe you need a new hobby, one that could pay for itself. It would boost self-esteem, too. The November 29 New Moon encourages mischief and some social daredevil behavior that may or may not work out well. You're not inclined to caution now, but you can keep a lid on the more outrageous impulses.

Taurus (20 Apr – 20 May)

On November 2, when the Moon conjoins Venus, you might start looking forward to a great romantic weekend, but remember that sometimes plans fall through. The November 14 Full Moon is all yours to make whatever changes speak to your heart. Don't be too rigid in your thinking or planning, though, because you might want to make still more changes later. Be forgiving as well. The November 29 New Moon could usher in a period of confusion when you want to help but don't quite know how. Be patient with yourself, and don't look for easy answers that would be misunderstood anyway.

Gemini (21 May – 20 Jun)

Love could find you on November 2, when Mercury sextiles Pluto and the Moon conjoins Venus. Curl up with a good book or great movie during the November 14 Full Moon. Pamper yourself and don't feel lonely. People are only a text away, after all. Or invite someone over, if you must. The November 29 New Moon brings fantastic romantic possibilities. They won't be languid dreams, either. It's the time to find real, practical, solid romance with someone smart and never boring. (This includes the possible reigniting of a current or old relationship.) You can speak first, but let yourself be pursued.

Horoscopes

Cancer (Jun 21 – 22 Jul)

November 1 may be very emotional when the Sun makes a trine with Neptune. Be conscious of any vast dreams or unreasonable expectations. Social tensions should soften with the November 14 Full Moon. Relax, be more comfortable with new acquaintances, and surround yourself with a few more favorite things. Order what you like off the menu (respecting budget, of course) and forget appearances. The November 29 New Moon encourages you to put yourself first. Eat good food, rest, be active, and have a health routine and schedule.

Leo (23 Jul – 22 Aug)

The Sun trines Neptune on November 1, opening people's hearts and making some of them hypersensitive. Tread lightly. The November 14 Full Moon lights up your career and public image. Even if you feel like staying home now, people will find you, so you might as well participate fully whatever you're doing. On the job, be visible and let your work shine. The November 29 New Moon promises great fun and games without going over the edge into recklessness or extravagance. Take your time and choose amusements. What seems great at first could leave a sour aftertaste. Be discerning.

Virgo (23 Aug – 22 Sep)

On November 2, a romantic offer may seem wacky at first, but true affection could be there. Be kind. The November 14 Full Moon encourages a greater sense of fun and adventure. Let a friend - or a friend's child - suggest a new place to go and something new to see and do. You don't have to do it again, and you may like it. Family members may all turn to you during the November 29 New Moon, or they may just all show up at your house, with good intentions, of course. Relax. You know how to reserve your personal space.

Horoscopes

Libra (23 Sep – 22 Oct)

Be more charming and feel more attractive when the Moon conjoins Venus on November 3. Romance is a distinct possibility. The November 14 Full Moon suggests that you hold the key to someone else's problem, but they need to figure that out. Be available and generous with your time, if you can, but you have responsibilities too. Don't instantly volunteer. It's party time at home and in the neighborhood at the November 29 New Moon. You don't need to host an affair. Social skills alone should attract enough friends to make a festive spontaneous gathering that won't want to end.

Scorpio (23 Oct – 21 Nov)

You could feel hyper when the Moon conjoins Mars on November 6. Be more physically active, or expend the energy preparing for the work week. The November 14 Full Moon shines directly on your world of love and romance. A friend could express the desire to be more intimate, or you might suddenly notice someone great who has been nearby all along. The November 29 New Moon ushers in a lunar month of good financial prospects and a sensible slowing down of any previous binge-spending spells. You know when to act on a good thing and when to wait.

Sagittarius (22 Nov – 21 Dec)

A question at work goes your way when the Moon sextiles Jupiter on November 2. Gently speak up about an opportunity that advances or expands your position. The November 14 Full Moon favors home finances and personal budget. Discover something useful that's been overlooked but now solves a small money mystery. Make an effortless change (switch brands or stores?) that saves you money daily. The November 29 New Moon is all yours and it's ablaze with cleverness and good sense. Any new idea will turn out to be proper and successful. Social interactions will all benefit you. Now go be your energetic self.

Capricorn (22 Dec – 20 Jan)

November 4 is productive, fun, and maybe thrilling at times as Venus trines Uranus. The November 14 Full Moon thinks that you need more fun in your life. You deserve it, too. Go for something comfortable, yummy, and soothing to the inner child. It does not have to be a lullaby. Look forward to a vibrant private life with the November 29 New Moon. Despite the improved quiet time and solitude, more people may join your circle of trusted intimates, not all at the same time, of course. And you may not want to be alone as much as you originally thought.

Horoscopes

Aquarius (21 Jan – 18 Feb)

People are more agreeable on November 7, when the Moon in Aquarius sextiles Saturn and then sextiles Uranus. The November 14 Full Moon could trigger a change of heart about a family member or something at home. You can always talk about it first and then act. The knee-jerk reaction may be tempting but probably isn't wise. With the November 29 New Moon, some new people may appear to keep you busier than ever. Be respectful of everyone's time (including yours) and engage as much or as little as you please. You'll have nice ways to prevent your time being eaten up.

Pisces (19 Feb – 20 Mar)

The Sun trines Neptune on November 1, making people around you more emotional. Give them room, if you can. Get away, if you can't. The November 14 Full Moon is busier than you may want. Friends and neighbors could drop in or call more often, leaving you with fewer places to hide. Get them talking to one another, and slip into the background. The November 29 New Moon highlights career and public presence. Be ambitious, proactive, and vocal. You have observations and comments that other people need to hear. You can accomplish things that no one else can now.
