

Amazing Experience of Royal Rajasthan Tour

As famous writer St. Augustine said “The world is a book and those who do not travel read only a page.” So I wanted to make my life with full of travel pages with unique and adventuring memories. As I hail from other state of India and living a totally bohemian life since my college days. I wanted to go for a Royal Rajasthan Tour, the land of forts, palaces, vibrant colors and traditions. I heard stories of its royal hero, stories for fort and places and their related myths. I want to explore the Rajasthan by the eye of Bohemian person that is me. I decided to take a road trip which would be an exotic experience and decided to camp whenever I feel tired I get off my bags and make a camp at nice and suitable place. As it is largest state in India, atleast 5-6 days require exploring its royal traditions and culture. November is the starting month of winter and makes best time to travel in Rajasthan.

My first destination was Jaipur which taken about 4 to 5 hours from Delhi. Jaipur is spreading pink light cold breeze which head up to Pushkar, Ajmer and end up with Jodhpur, Jaisalmer and Udaipur. Jaipur is famously known as Pinkcity because it has pink tinted walls which symbolize hospitality and calmness of its people. The main key of attractions are Jal Mahal, Amber Palace, Nahargarh fort and Jantar Mantar and the Hawa Mahal, City Palace, Jantar Mantar and Govinddevji Ka Mandir which are situated in the same road just walking distance apart to each other. It will take at least one and half day to cover all these mesmerizing picturesque locations. After knowing to Jaipur's culture it's time to head up to Pushkar, Ajmer and journey takes 2-3 hour. Ajmer City knows for its pilgrim center Khwaja Moinuddin Chishti Dargah where every year number of pilgrims pays their prayer. 12 kilometer apart from Ajmer, Pushkar is located which is most colorful town in the Rajasthan. Fair and festivals in the October and November are main key attraction for alluring the tourists from all around the globe. Numbers of Sadhus, hippies and, bohemian's life style people have their stay in this town. The city is unique destination with worth to get life time treasure with you.

Now it's time to heading up to Jodhpur; the stunning city with beautiful architectural palace and forts. The city is also knows as Sun City and it is painted with turquoise blue. Jodhpur's main attractions are Mehrangarh Fort, Umaid Bhavan Palace and Sardar Samand Lake and Palace. For exploring turquoise city you need to spend 1 day to know in depth history of its Rajputana royal hero and Marwar culture. I decided to relax at night in the Jodhpur so I made a camp in the sand dunes in the way of Jaisalmer because it is highly needed when you are on long journey. In the morning I started journey to Jaisalmer for adventuring trip to sand dunes and exploring Golden fort, Gangaur Mata, Patwan Ki Haveli and Nathmal Ji Ki Haveli. Thar Desert welcomes you in the city Jaisalmer where the orange land of sand dunes left you spellbound. I took a ride on camel; this ride was magical and breath taking because as camel walk on the steep sand dunes. It seems like you are walking on the bumpy roads with bumpy seat.

After spending a night in the sand dunes, I started my morning with light breakfast and getting myself the way Udaipur is a great destination for having great palette of romantic kaleidoscope in Rajasthan with Lakes and number of beautiful places. Udaipur's Pichola Lake has a great panoramic view of the City Palace, Jag mandir and Lake Palace. The Fateh Sagar Lake, Sahelion Ki Bari, Sajjangarh Fort, Haldi ghati Museum and Doodh Talai are other alluring points.

Exploring these enchanting and royal cities is the life time experience and mesmerizing memories. This was my royal Rajasthan Tour via road which still leaves me spellbound. Once in a life time have this experience.
