

Kanto Module: Team Rocket Takes Over!!

A Module for level 1-10, Pokedex 001-151

A mysterious band of no-gooders have been spotted around Kanto. What are they up to?

Level 1-2

Players start out in Pallet Town and get their first Pokémon from Professor Oak. One of Professor Oak's aides give each player a set of 5 pokeballs.

Oak's first task is to get and deliver a package to him from the Pokemart in Viridian City. The package contains the Pokedex and there are enough for each player to have one. Upon receiving a Pokedex, the players can begin their journey to collect gym badges.

Viridian City

The Gym at Viridian City is old and run-down. The doors are locked and locals say the gym leader hasn't been seen for a long time. In fact, nobody is really sure who the gym leader is anymore as the Pokémon League has yet to address the situation.

If the players try to go West to the Pokémon League, they are stopped at the first checkpoint. The guard there won't let anyone pass without the Boulder Badge, which can be obtained in Pewter City, north of Viridian City.

Mt. Moon – inklings of wrong-doing.

Wild Pokémon (level 1-2) – zubat, paras, geodude, clefairy, sandshrew

Pokémon Center – a super-nerd named Miguel offers a magikarp for sale at a ridiculous price. Either way, he runs away into Mt. Moon. A man reading a newspaper in the Center talks about Team Rocket seen attacking citizens of Cerulean City, on the other side of Mt. Moon.

Level 4 – 5

Pokémon Tower – the Dearth of Compassion

wild pokemon (Level 3-4) – gastly, haunter, cubone

Lavendar Town’s Pokémon Tower is a place where trainers honor their pokemon that have died. Team Rocket has taken over the tower, riling up the spirits inside.

Pokémon Tower

Thirteen Psychics and Channelers have tried to console the spirits inside, only to become possessed themselves. Hidden spirits keep the trainer’s pokemon at bay, as the pokemon are scared of the unknown. Each possessed trainer has a level 4 gastly or a level 5 haunter. This seven-story building is haunted from the second floor on up with headstones creating a maze. The possessed trainers hide in order to jump anyone who wanders by so the wanderers can be possessed, too. A special Purity Zone on the 5th floor keeps spirits and possessed people at bay as well as entirely-heals a trainer’s party.

Guarding the stairs to the seventh, and final floor is a mysterious ghost at level 6. Unless special goggles called a “Silph Scope” is used, this ghost, as well as all other ghosts in the tower (Gastlies and Haunters) are unidentifiable and unbattleable. The trainer finds out about the Silph Scope from the attendee on the first floor. It’s made by the Silph Company of Saffron City.

Celadon City – the Heart of the Rockets

Saffron city is under a mysterious lock-down due to the increase of Team Rocket sightings in other towns. An order from the president of the Silph Company Inside Celadon City called for the city gates to be closed and urges anyone who needs to get anywhere to use the underground path connecting Route 6 and 7.

Inside the city, common knowledge allows the player to know of the new, and untimely-named “Rocket Game Corner” (motto: “You’ll have a blast!”). The older-folk see it as an eyesore in the pristine town while the younger-folk are drawn to its flashy lights and sound.

Rocket’s Hideout – Game Change

Inside the Game Corner the player spots the micro-boss Grunt from Mt. Moon. He stands in a dark corner of the building by a gigantic poster. Defeating him reveals a breeze behind the poster. A switch opens up into a staircase leading down. He makes a comment about telling The Boss.

Team Rocket Grunt

Reward: $160

020	Raticate♂	Lv.4	No item
041	Zubat♂	Lv.4	No item

The Rocket’s Hideout is a 4-story underground office and training complex beneath the Game Corner (The game corner is a front – a money-making scheme for Team Rocket’s evil-doing). The floor has a series of spinning tiles that send a trainer off into one direction or another depending on where it faces. This also is used to disorient any intruders.

There are 12 rocket grunts inside the hideout, all with pokemon between levels 3 – 5, with 2 – 5 pokemon each. The more pokemon, the lower the levels. These rocket pokemon can be from the following list: Drowzee, Zubat, Raticate, Rattata, Machop, Koffing, Grimer, Sandshrew, Sandslash, Ekans, and Arbok.

Two final grunts are the same as from Mt. Moon. They guard a locked door on B4 that leads to The Boss.

What’s learned

The grunts drop hints about genetic recombination and reviving ancient pokemon from fossils. This is all to create the ultimate pokemon. This is just the research facility and the actual lab is located elsewhere. The money from the Game Corner as well as money from selling cubone skulls harvested from the Pokémon Tower in Lavendar Town.

The Boss

Giovanni, the boss of Team Rocket, sits in a well-furnished room. He explains that pokemon are tools for profit. They import pokemon from all over the world to funnel their enterprise. With that, he decides to punish the player's insolence with a pokemon battle.

When Giovanni is defeated, he will say that he'll step aside this time and leaves behind the Silph Scope.

Level 6

Pokémon Tower - Return to the Tower

The receptionist informs the player that Mr. Fuji, the caretaker of the tower has returned and entered the tower. He hasn't been seen since. She's worried something bad has happened to him. He said Team Rocket has been doing unspeakable things to the wild pokemon of the Tower. The ghosts are revealed with the Silph Scope and are able to be battled or captured.

At the stairs to the 7th floor, the mysterious entity reveals its self to be a female Marowak. As a ghost, it is uncatchable, but must be defeated.

Marowak Lv. 6	No item

Upon rescue, Mr. Fuji returns to his home. He gives the player a PokeFlute and takes care of the orphaned cubone. He mentions that the player should try some Celadon Tea at the Celadon Mansion. Outside, townspeople admire his kindness towards pokemon.

Level 7 - 8

Saffron City – A City Besieged

The player can bribe a guard of Saffron City with the Celadon Tea to sneak past. Once inside, it is apparent the city is teaming with Team Rocket members. The majority of the members lead to the Silph Company in the heart of the city. Silph Co. is responsible for many of the technologies in the Pokémon World, notably the mass-production of pokeballs, TMs, and oversaw the creation of the virtual pokemon Porygon.

Silph Co. – Hostile Takeover

The Silph Co. has 11 floors and warp-tiles that lead to various rooms on various floors. Mixed in with the Grunts are Scientists who work for Team Rocket. Their pokemon are 5 – 6th level with 1 – 5 pokemon in their possession. Grunts have a mix of these pokemon: Machop, Machoke, Rattata, Raticate, Ekans, Arbok, Zubat, Golbat, Cubone, Drowzee, Hypno, Grimer, Koffing, Weezing, Sandshrew, Sandslash.

Scientists have a mix of these pokemon: Magnemite, Magnetron, Voltorb, Electrode, Koffing, Weezing, Grimer, Muk.

A lone Juggler has a Mr. Mime and Kadabra at level 5.

Giovanni is holding the President of the company hostage in the board room. The president won't give Giovanni what he wants and Giovanni is threatening the president's life.

Giovanni retreats, as does Team Rocket. The president thanks the player by giving them what Giovanni sought, the Master Ball. Team Rocket disappears!

Level – {Intermediary, No Battle}

Cinnabar Island – the secret, revealed

Pokémon Mansion – inside of the Pokémon mansion is information about scientists finding a phantom pokemon called Mew and creating a genetically modified clone from it named Mewtwo. Journals hint at Mr. Fuji being part of the discovery of Mew and creating Mewtwo. Blaine, the Cinnabar Gym Leader, is also implicated. Mewtwo is said to be very dangerous. Various looters of the mansion claim a reverse-meteorite came out from the mansion as the mansion burst into flame and collapsed.

Pokémon Lab

The Pokémon Lab was founded by Dr. Fuji. A scientist with no connection to Team Rocket runs a fossil-revival machine. He mentions that the original scientists who ran the lab had disappeared since the mansion caught fire.

Level 9 – 10

Giovanni's penultimate battle

Giovanni runs the Viridian City gym and only returns to it after his defeat at Siph Co. He still honors his Gym Leader status and will grant the Earth Badge with a final battle from the player.
