

So of course a while back when my sister's wedding got finalized, I really wanted the perfect smile for my day. But I kept on postponing taking an appointment. I was afraid of what the dentist would find. I mean if I had a cavity, I would need a root canal and that was something I did not want to think about at all. After a long time, and I mean a long time, I finally thought enough is enough, I have to do something.

I asked a lot of people where to go as I did not have too much faith in the family dentist and I wanted world class results. But how to find the right dentist??? My friend who is aspiring to be a dentist told me that she goes to Dentzz for herself and her little one. I thought, oh these guys are big and well known, they should be a safe bet.

So i did a little research of my own and i came across Dentzz Review and was really impressed with the services they provide. So when i contacted them the receptionist who sounded very sincerer and kind and she took my appointment. I was very nervous on my first visit but then after speaking to the dentist about the procedure and how it will go about i was not nervous anymore. We started the procedure immediately and went on for a few days and the end result was amazing while walking out I felt so much more confident about myself and felt like I had achieved some milestone. I cannot thank Dentzz enough.

On the day of my sister's wedding, I was smiling bright and proud next to my sister and I looked as happy as I felt. Moreover, the crows that were inserted have been so awesomely natural, they feel just like my normal teeth and give me zero issues.

If you are looking for any kind of dental work, I cannot recommend Dentzz enough. These guys really have their stuff together. They pay so much attention to every little thing so you can walk in there with your eyes closed and you will know that you are in good hands. They really have earned the trust of their patients, and once you go there I guarantee you will never go to another dentist again.
