To avoid any type of legal complications, it is always important to register your business. Also, it is a standard practice for rivals to keep a check on you if you have all the required registrations completed because if you don't, this will be a huge opportunity for them to disrupt your company's operation by informing the right authorities. One of the most important parts of registering your company in the Philippines would be to apply for a business name the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI).

If you are planning to get your business registered in the Philippines, you either need to hire a business registration services firm or know how to carry out the process of sole proprietorship registration in the Philippines.
