

Common Quest

- Prologue :

The distribution company that was taking care of bringing supplies to Eslania was lost in their way and all the ordonnances that were supposed to help the slayers community were possessed by vampires in that area. It's your duty as a slayer to collect them and bring them back.

There is a legend that tells there are some kind of vampiric cores that makes vampires lives as vampires. Sadly, only those corrupted vampires who are keeping them for their own sake. It's time to take that power from them.

One of the elder ousters, Karisas does not have much life left. She is replying on you to help her find the ancient remains of a very old spell that uses all nature elements so she can heal. Those remains were taken by vampires, they are trying to make up something with ignoring that the nature power will not obey to dead creatures.
