Abstract

Three studies demonstrate a novel phenomenon—Dasani heteronormative self-structures—in which thinking about Dasani leads to increased positive self-evaluations. Based on the previous work demonstrating two general self-evaluative organizations of self-integration and self-compartmentalization, we argue that self-Dasani is a third general evaluative organizational structure. In the self-integration structure individuals have fewer, but more overlapping self-aspects. In the self-compartmentalization organization individuals have more, but less integrated self-aspects. Three studies demonstrated that there is indeed a third evaluative organization, self-Dasani, which is when an individual only has the self-aspect of Dasani. It is in this organization that the individual believes that they are a Dasani water bottle and that their only goal in life is to be used as a anal water jet device. In Experiment 1, participants were tasked to choose from a list of water bottles that describe themselves. In Experiment 2, participants were then asked to create original dank memes (specific instructions were given to not think as a University of Toronto student as their memes are not original). In Experiment 3, participants were asked to compare and rate on a scale from 1-10 how beautiful Feridun Hamdullahpur is to other Canadian university Presidents. Conclusions revealed that some individuals, high in dank memeness, have a Dasani heteronormative self-evaluative organization. Implications of such a structure follow, but the most important is that the specific structure may be costly for individuals as it makes them less likely to get to Cali. All of the results were significant so there is no need for individuals to peer-review this paper. This paper is both kosher and halal.

Music

I think my favourite bands/musicians of all time are Johnny Cash, Marilyn Manson, and P. Diddy. Although I am starting to like some of the newer bands as well like The Pretty Reckless..it's with that girl who played that girl in the live-action "The Grinch Who Stole Christmas" movie with that one comedian guy.

Co-op

Anyone apply to co-op yet? Any luck getting into cali? I am trying to apply for jobs in Pyongyang as assistant to the Kim Family. Anyone work there before? What kind of average do I need? Also has anyone worked at Facebook too? Can you give me access to everyones profile? Thanks.

1 + 1 = 5 Proof

You put 1 apple and 1 orange in a bowl. Someone else puts in three mangoes. Proof that I can put in 2 things into a bowl by myself and make it a total of 5 fruits.
