Room 201

Time		Session Title and Description	Cost	Trainer	Who Should Attend?
Start	Finish
10:00am	11:30am	“MOVEMENT TO PROMOTE WRITING READINESS” Discover why the foundations of good pencil control need to be established long before a child first tries to write. This session explains why successful pencil control needs more than a good tripod grip. The foundations are laid with the acquisition of core stability, bilateral coordination, visual tracking and gross and fine motor skills. Come and try hands on, fun, practical activities with easily available resources that will help your children become writing ready.	AED 100	Karen Burns	Early years professionals & learning support staff
11:45am	1:15pm	“THE CHILD’S JOURNEY - AN INTRODUCTION TO OBSERVATION, ASSESSMENT AND PLANNING” By the end of this session practitioners will begin to understand the importance of observation and how it links to assessment and planning. Practitioners will learn about different methods of observation, discuss good practice during observation and practice the skills of observation through video clips.	AED 100	Moira Collett	Early years professionals & learning support staff
1:30pm	3:00pm	“PURPOSEFUL PLAY” This session will ignite practitioners’ joy of meaningful play in the early years. The session will help you to plan interactive activities as well as create purposeful environments to promote all areas of development.	AED 100	Sophie Booth	Early years professionals & learning support staff

Time		Session Title and Description	Cost	Trainer	Who Should Attend?
Start	Finish
10:00am	11:30am	“MARVELOUS MESS” This session will allow practitioners to find out the importance of messy play and discover how it links to the EYFS. It will also provide you with a range of messy play ideas and recipes to use in your setting.	AED 100	Emma Jane Morgan	Early years professionals & learning support staff
11:45am	1:15pm	“GETTING IT RIGHT FOR BOYS” Evidence shows us that boys are underachieving in school. This session will look at the way we see boys and how the stereotypes we hold have an impact on them in relation to their learning and behaviour. An understanding of biological differences between boys and girls helps us to support and plan activities that can engage boys within the setting.	AED 100	Kathryn Beaney	Early years professionals & learning support staff
1:30pm	3:00pm	“STORYTELLING THROUGH DRAMA” This session will help you to refine your skills as a storyteller through creative expression and active engagement of children. Make pages of a storybook come alive through the use of exciting props and effective strategies.	AED 100	Eri Akbar	Early years professionals & learning support staff
