Peace of Mind

Provide weekly check-in care of family members and loved ones currently residing in a nursing home: providing support and reporting to you when you are not able to be there.

Why we operate:

Statistics show that 85% of nursing home residents never have visitors. This can be due to families residing out of town, work or other pressures. Do you worry that you cannot check on Mom or Dad as often as you'd like? Are you concerned the nursing home forgets how important they are to you?

We're here to help!

Our service is here to provide: "check in and chat" with your loved ones to help you maintain that peace of mind. We represent you and give you feedback.

We support you. We visit your family member when you cannot, on a weekly basis, providing them with conversation, and a reminder to them and the nursing home that you care.

We provide the attention when you can't be there

Our worker spends an hour with your loved one, providing conversation, checking in with them and discussing daily and weekly plans. We give feedback to you, keep you informed and up-to-date so you can relax. Or, if needed, contact the nursing home if there are concerns.

What we offer:

Peace of Mind is just that for the caregivers of elderly living in nursing home centers. We visit, observe, discuss, note and summarize. Quality, consistency, communication, care, equality.

Our services are non-medical. We do not interfere with the work of the nursing home, but if we observe changes we can alert you so you can talk with the medical staff to understand why they are occurring.
