"There are a thousand hacking at the branches

— Henry David Thoreau

Every human being on the surface of this planet wishes to wake in the morning to peace, to have adequate food and shelter, to have enough to eat, to have as much fun as possible and to share the same with loved ones and friends. The force that is keeping all of us from that is money: printed and controlled by a few to manipulate the course of human events and retard human potential.

Neither you nor your government control the money that you use, and the money that you use ensures or denies the food, shelter and goods that you need to survive. The number of people ultimately responsible for this can be counted on one hand. By printing, copying and faxing our own currency, we – the members of the human race – will decide what is valuable and what is not. Rather than pick up a gun, we will invalidate their greatest weapon: the worthless monetary scripts of the West and those commodities against which all else is priced and our lives are devalued. By using our own script, we declare our unity and deny any control that is against our survival, evolution and happiness.

All that divides us from the "branches of evil" – our perceptions of race, religion, politics, status, beauty, class, sexuality & gender – are social constructs, perpetuated by those who affect us (parents to politicians) to ensure that you can be classified, set against another, and made to feel like you can never have or be enough. Those constructs do not exist without money, their money. Money is printed at the will of its owners, and the price of GODD (Gold, Oil, Diamonds & Drugs) is set daily against the currencies they control. By using the script above, we take control; by printing, copying and faxing our own money, we address the root of evil on the planet Earth, defined as what is detrimental to the survival and welfare of the planet and its life.
