The art of Conversation

1. Recollect that the object of conversation is to entertain and amuse.
2. Do not always commence a conversation by an allusion to the weather.
3. Do not use profanity, vulgar terms, slang, phrases, or words of double meaning, or language that will bring the blush to any person.
4. Do not make a pretense of gentility, nor parade the fact that you are a descendant of any notable family. You must pass for just what you are, and must stand on your own merit.
5. Do not attempt to pry into the private affairs of others by asking what their profits are, what things cost, “whether Melissa ever had a beau,” and “why Mary never got married”.
6. Do not tell too many long stories.
7. Do not indulge in satire.
8. Do not forget the importance silence sometimes, upon subjects which you are known to be a judge of.
9. Do not intersperse your language with fancy foreign words. It shows affectation and will draw ridicule upon you.
10. Do not make yourself the hero of your own story.
