STORY STUFF

Every city has a story, but Boomtown isn't every city; our history is as complex as the labyrinth of streets and corridors it contains.

Ch 9: Behind the Mask picks up from the Masked Man's Revolution in Chapter 8, when the power of the people toppled the tyrant Jose's regime... After months of waiting, the hero of the hour has still not been seen since the storming of the Palace and his whereabouts remain unknown.

People need leaders and the good citizens of Boomtown have been spinning directionless in this new leaderless society. Just as things appeared to teeter on the brink of disaster, basic services began to resume. A seemingly benevolent Corporation, Bang Hai Industries, had come to save the day and help to build a new society from the ashes of the old.

BHI challenged the old order, and from the ruins of the once mighty Palace arose a new and even more impressive symbol of the future; Bang Hai Towers. With a message of hope to all of Boomtown.

The future belongs to us, the world is ours...
