Mission Statement

My name is Jensen Thomas and sales get me hella juiced. I have tiger blood in my veins, as well as organs from some of the more cunning apes. I am 110% committed to winning, ALL the time. Technically still on the payroll at a large tech company, but looking to jump ship on that dumpster fire.

Experience

March 1991 - April 1993

Jammin' Juice, San Luis Obispo, CA - *Juice Jammer

- Started in on the ground floor of my buddy's juice company. I worked there for 3 years, became vice-president, but after some accusations of insider trading came to light, we liquidated the juice company, and made a cool half million

June 1995 - December 1999

Enron, Houston, TX - *Junior Executive

- Climbed the corporate ladder for a few years at Enron, but honestly I thought y2k was going to be a way bigger deal. Liquidated all my assets and converted them to precious metals, bought a boat and spent a few years off the Somali Coast

May 2006 - PRESENT

Microsoft, Redmond, WA - *R&D Specialist

- After realizing the world hadn't ended and deciding to get back into the corporate game, I figured the Blade-Runner/Total Recall aesthetic was going to be at the height of popularity. Was instrumental in the launching of the Zune™ Didn't catch on like I'd hoped, People found it, "monstrously large" and "off-putting" and "not user-friendly" customers weren't ready for the sleek, dazzling interface that personified the early 90s alt future

Education

1993 - 1995

Super Classified NASA/Haliburton Joint Training Academy, Location Redacted - *Lorem Ipsum Dolor Sit Amet, Fig and Plumbs full member

Was specially chosen for elite business training. Further information provided upon verification of credentials

Awards

Intramural Karate Tournament Champion, 1982, sold life-rights to the Karate Kid franchise
